Links of playmates widen into groups of teenage friends. Childlike first grade's wonder blends with high school's eager search into arcs of understanding. Circles of friendship and of knowledge are interlocked and reflected in the 1968 Senior Ring.

Circles of students gather at the front door before school.

Color guard starts the day by raising the flag.

In the quiet of the early morning, the khaki clad R.O.T.C. color guard raises the red, white, and blue flags of the United States and Texas, and the day begins. A small radius of bright colors gathers outside the school doors and intersects with others to form a ring of animated students. Chatter of yesterday's assignments blends with that of tomorrow's club meetings until the eight o'clock bell scatters the large circle of students to various classrooms, to the library or to the lab. An assembly honoring the National Merit Scholarship finalists or a pep assembly promoting a big game changes the schedule from homeroom counseling to one emphasizing entertainment, merit recognition, or sheer spirit. Whatever the schedule, Cougar life is encompassed within the larger circle of the school as students make their way from class to class.

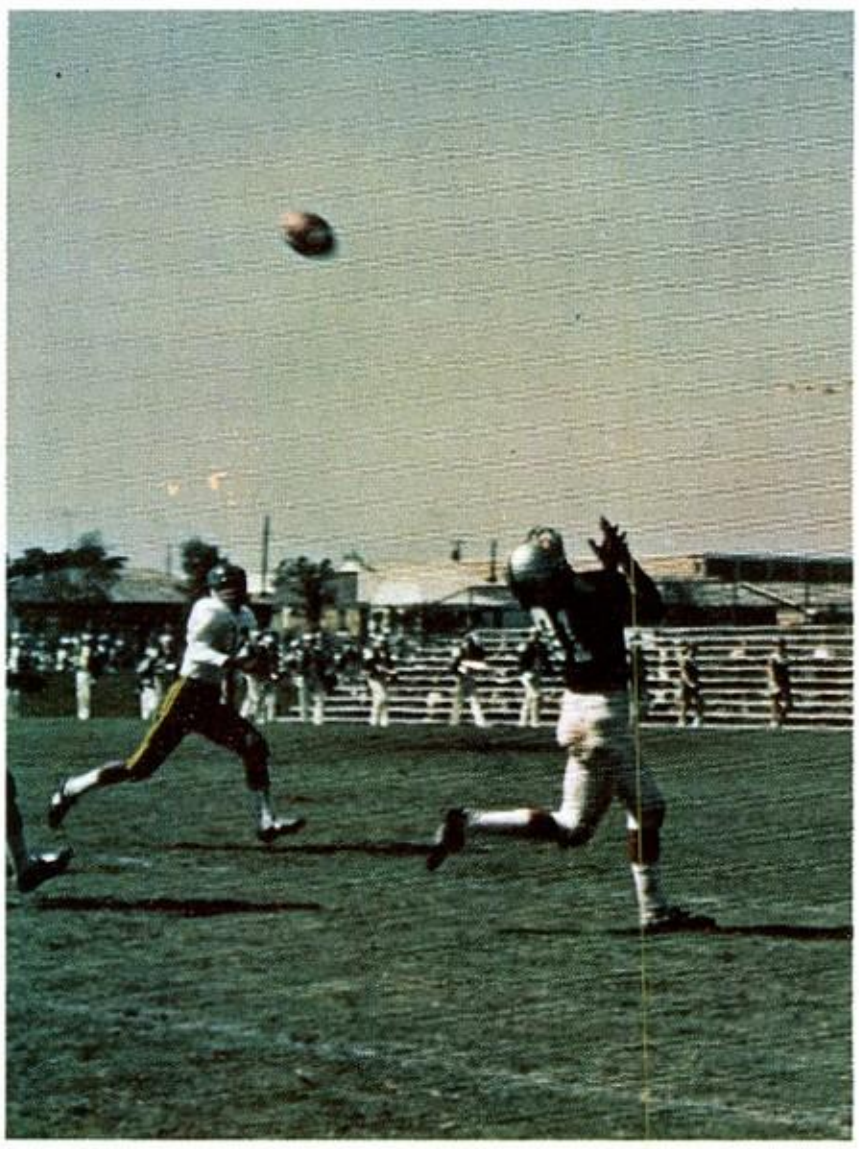
Dr. R. B. Harris, principal, is pleased by the number on the honor roll list shown by Mrs. Frances Swift, secretary.

National Merit Scholarship winners Robert Covington, Robert Fuller, Glenn Haschke, Carisse Mickey, David Pratt, and Carrine Seeger are recognized in assembly.

Miss Fowler, librarian, assists Jackie Harris in selecting material for a Senior English assignment.

ENERGETIC cheerleaders race the football team onto the field.

FALL AND FOOTBALL REFLECT COLORFUL PANORAMA



TENSION – as two Madison players and the ball move in on Jimmy Wallace.

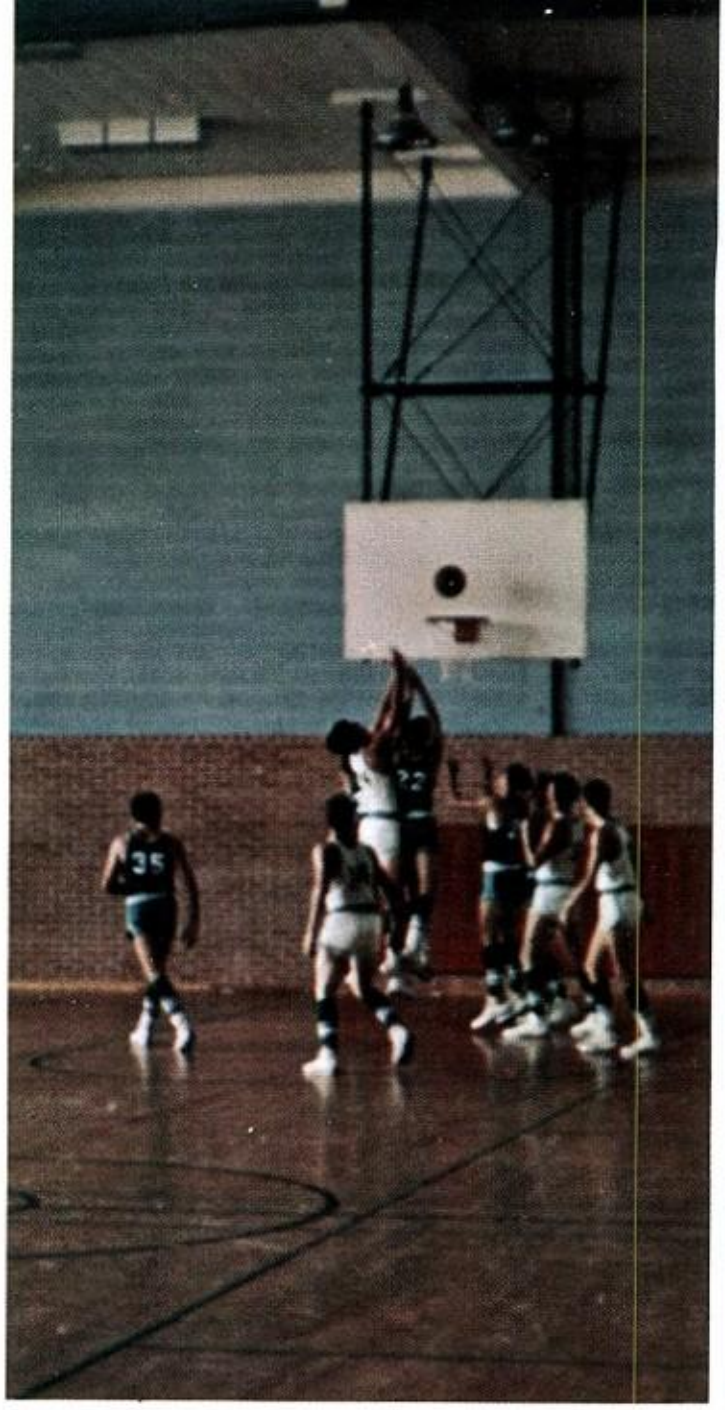
"Someone in the stands is yelling, 'Who are the Cougars?' " Cougar spirit fills the stadium as the cheerleaders race ahead of the team with the Spirit flag.

Green mini-skirts over starched white petticoats add to the panorama of the football game as the Belles perform their traditional twenty high kicks at halftime. Music from the band melds with cheers from the Spirits and the student body to broadcast the enthusiasm of the crowd.

The season's tense moments are echoes in dozens of post-game conversations between students and teachers; the individual images intertwine into a circle of memories of fall and football and reflect, in spirit, Bryan Adams.

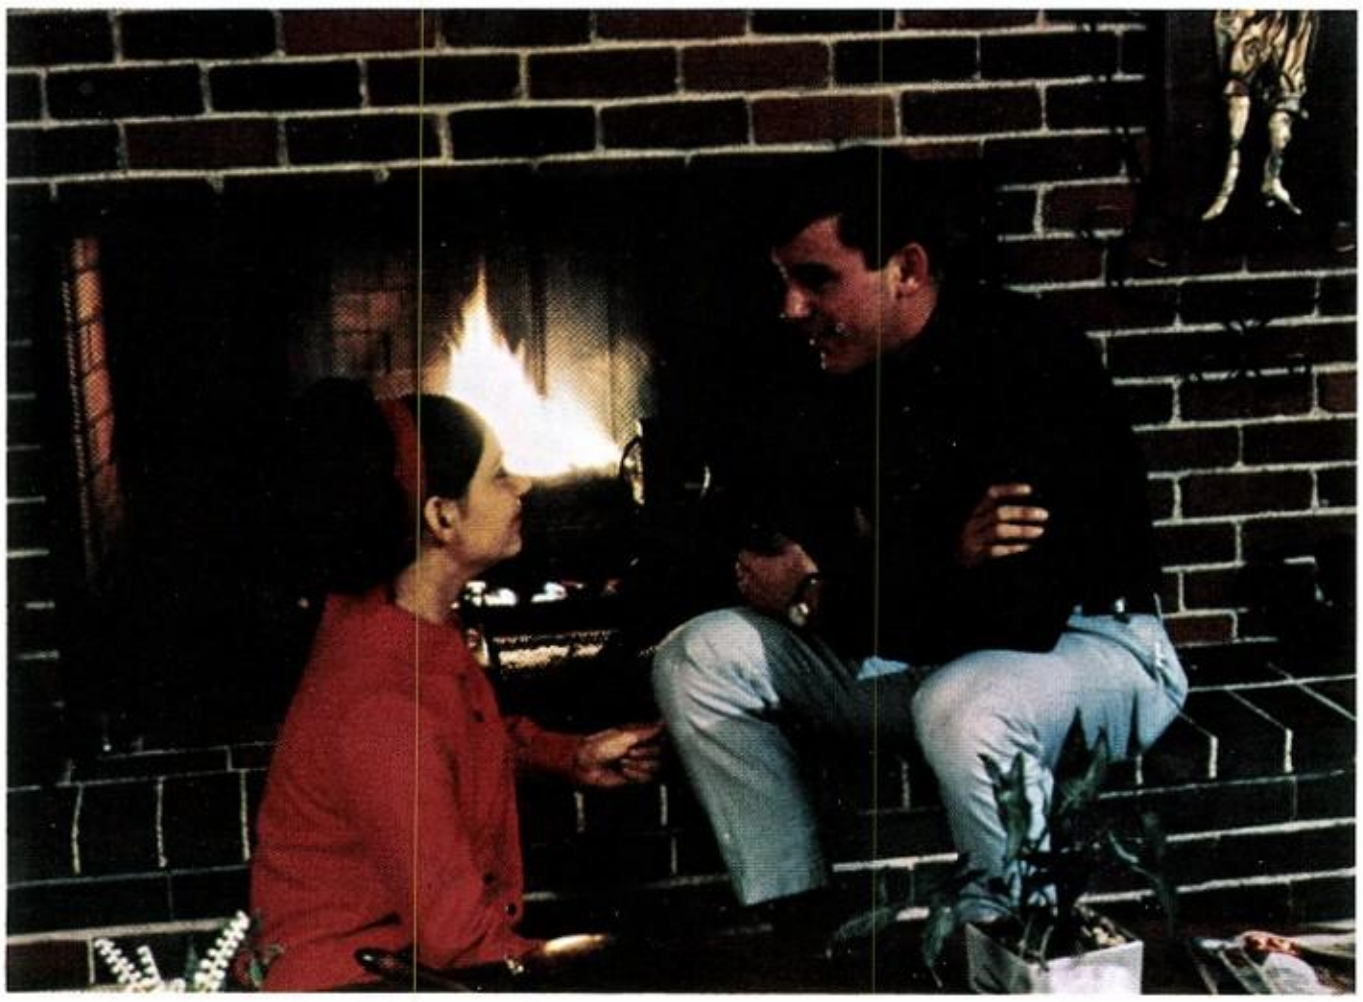
Prancing majorettes lead precision band into formations.

High-stepping Belles show off drill team accuracy.



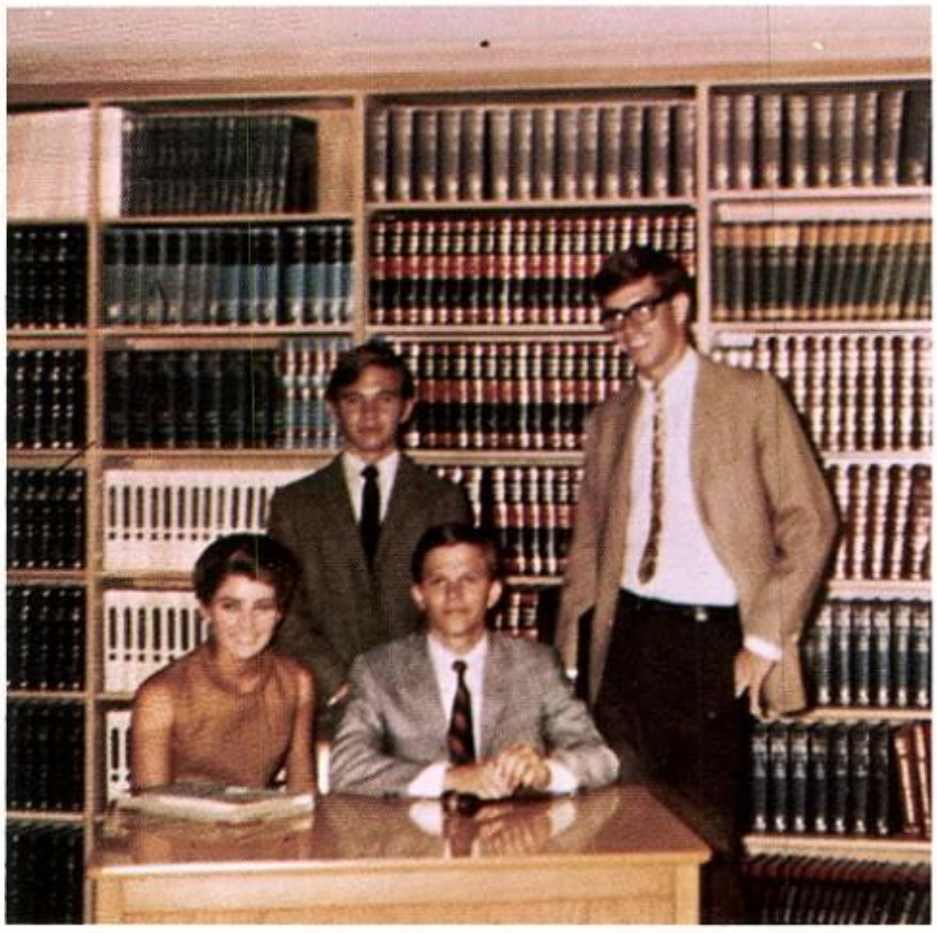
Jackie Harris and Jimmy Walter jump for the rebound at basketball practice.

Students Cheryl Wilson, Paul Grey, Jill Tooley, and David Pratt enjoy an after-school malt at the Dairy Queen.



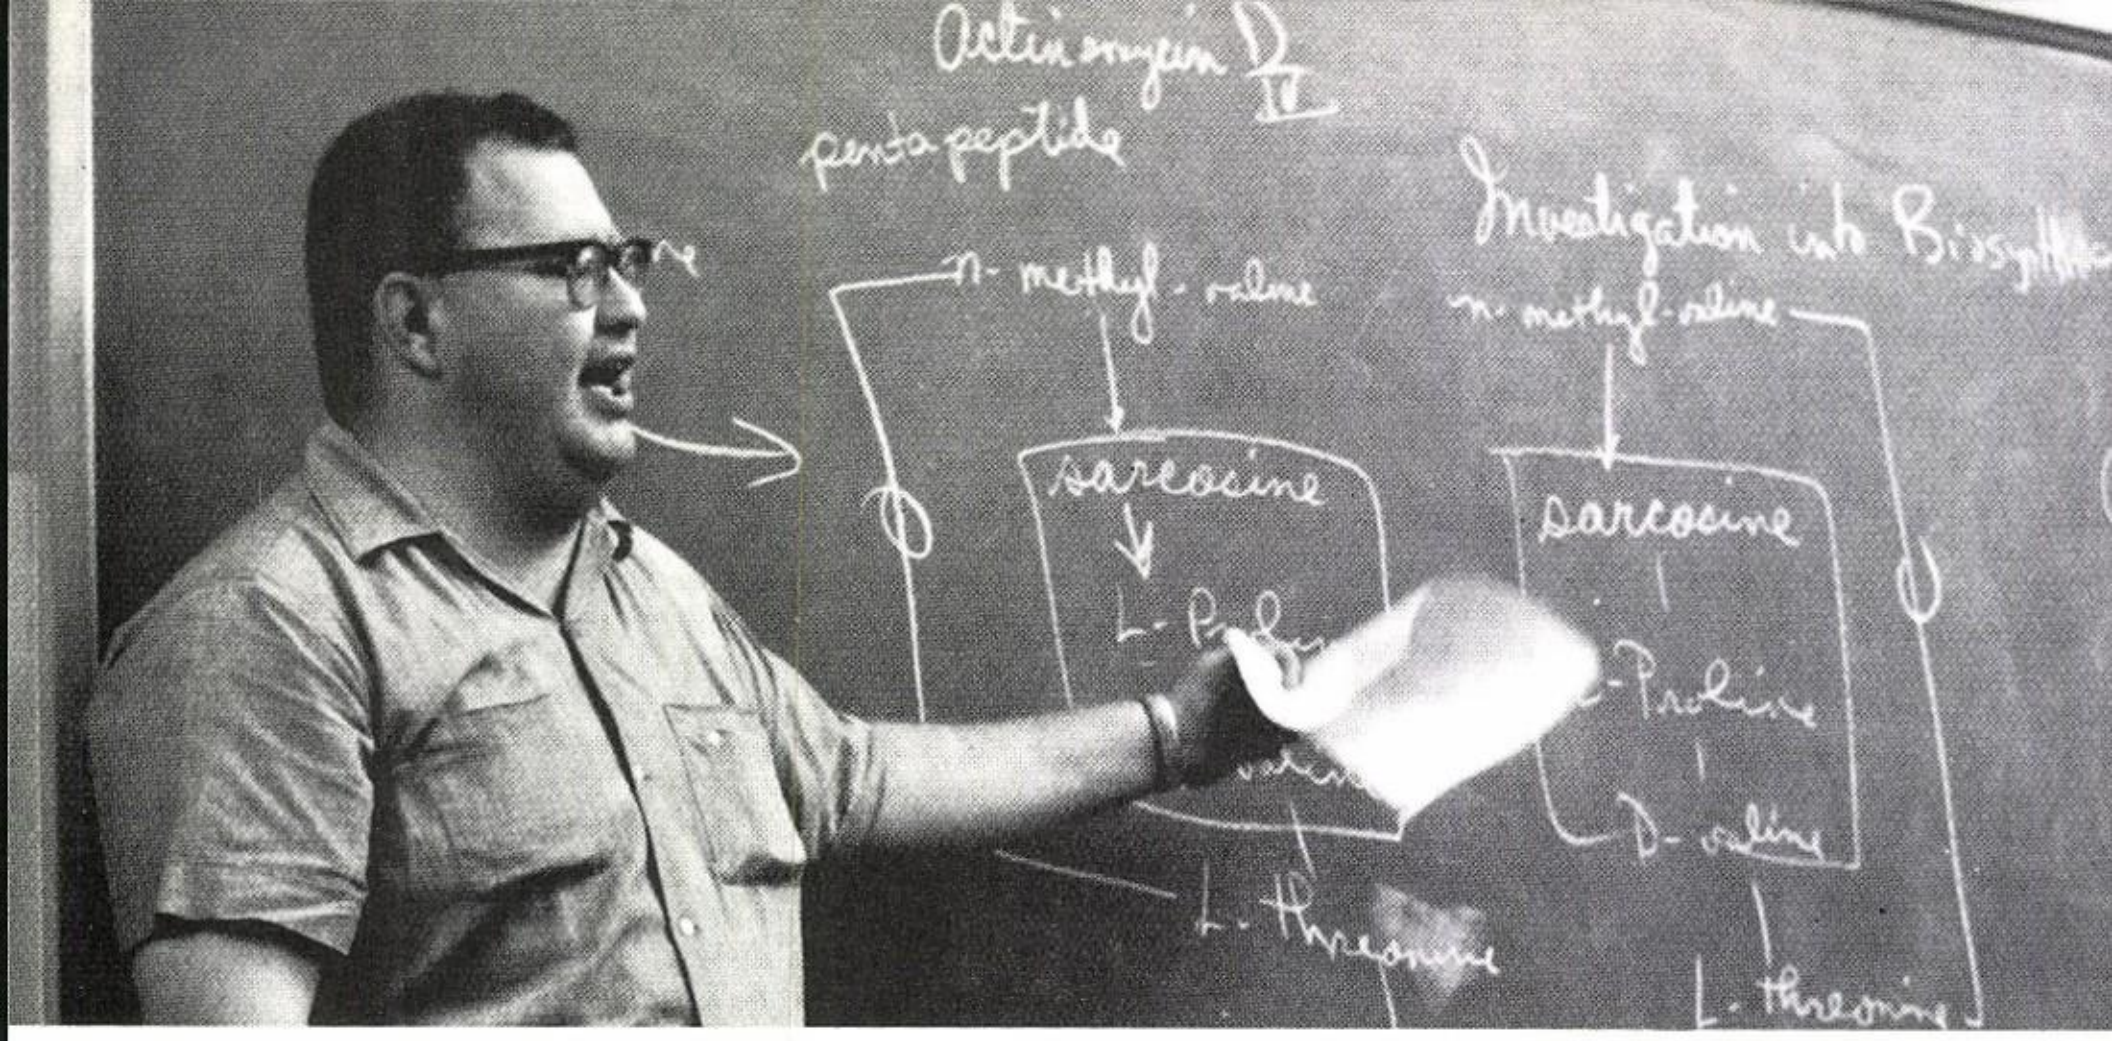
Mikie Rybiski and Freddie Oakes talk over a movie they saw earlier in the evening.

Shocking colors of orange, pink, and blue burst from the doors as students spill out onto the parking lot. Some Cougars remain to attend after-school classes and club meetings. Four o'clock in the afternoon signals the time for small circles of friends to exchange classrooms for the Dairy Queen, or a sport practice, or a club activity. Crowded school halls once more retain the echoes of the day. Whether involved in the after-four school day routine of study and conversation with others or in the pleasure of a weekend party or show date, students find the circles of friendship, small and large, continuous and lasting.

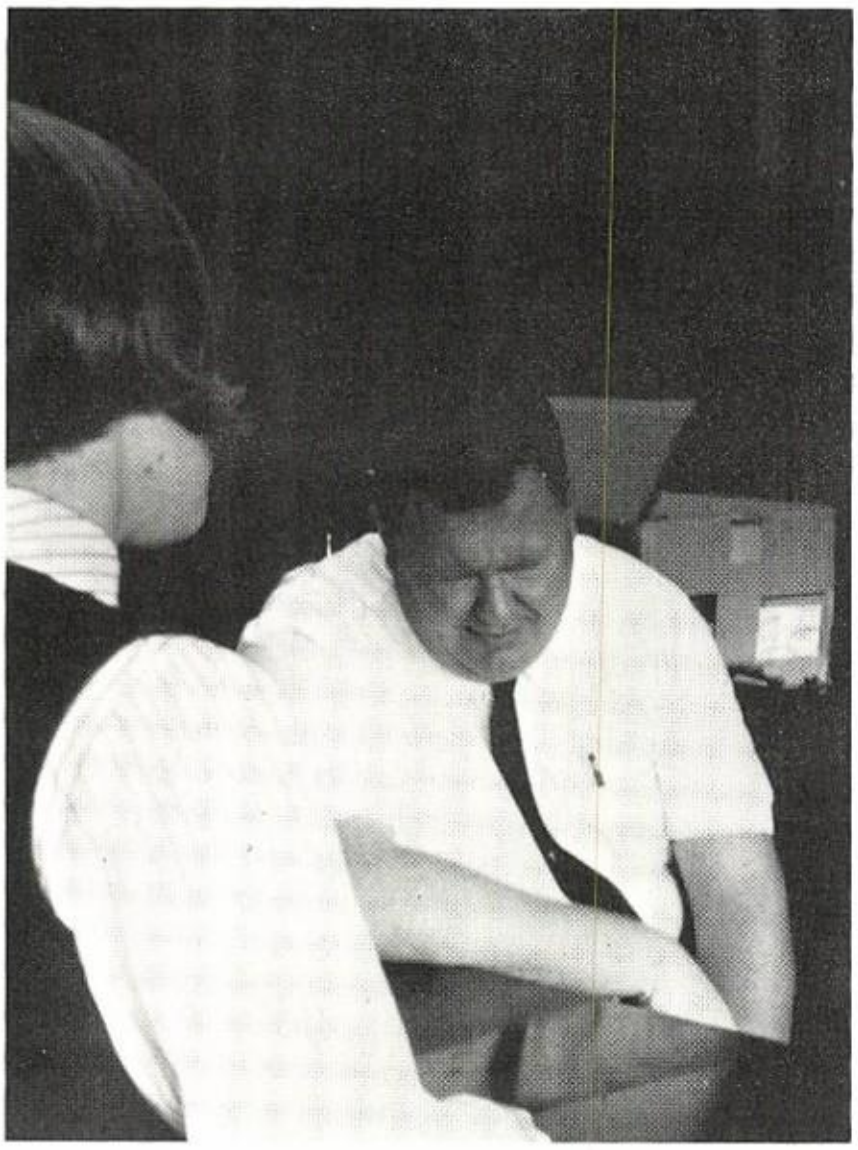


Student Council officers, Becky Berry, Kenny Plunk, Mel Crutchfield, and Jim Walter pose after executive meeting.

Freddie Oakes and Mikie Rybiski enjoy a show-date at North Park Cinema; Nick Weeks, Junior, takes their tickets.



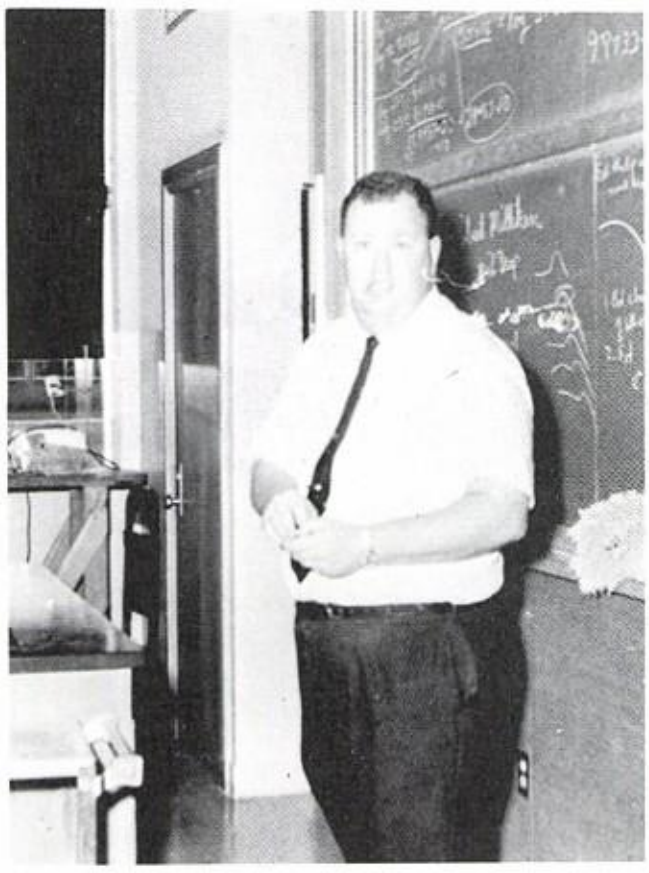
Mr. Atwood lectures on a simple lesson concerning an investigation into the biosynthesis of streptomycetes.



"Oh, how sad that your science project has escaped."

For achievements above and beyond the call of duty: another frog.

EL "C" DEDICATED TO SCIENCE TEACHER OF YEAR



Mr. Atwood models his new contacts.

A booming voice resounding throughout first floor, followed by a burst of spontaneous student laughter evidence the presence of Mr. Gary Atwood at Bryan Adams High School. His sonic-range voice and sense of humor, while hallmarks of the Atwood personality, are only outward measures of his superior teaching ability and interest in students.

Mr. Atwood, in addition to teaching chemistry and advanced biology classes, sponsors the Bryan Adams Science Club. Under his leadership, this club initiated the Annual Science Symposium to which students come each spring from high schools all over Texas. Somehow, Mr. Atwood still finds time for a project in mutations research at North Texas State University in Denton.

We, with Atwoodian enthusiasm, add our voice to those many others who named him 1967 Science Teacher of the Year, and with pride and appreciation dedicate the 1967-68 El Conquistador to Mr. Gary Atwood.

Sophomore students start their honors chemistry with Atwood's Easy Method of Logarithms.

Administration

ADMINISTRATORS SET POLICY

Members of the Board of Education include Jerry Wheat; John Plath Green; J. Willard Gragg; Dr. Emmett Conrad; Lee McShan, President; Dr. W. T. White, Superintendent; Dr. Percy Luecke; James Joy; Mrs. Henri Bromberg; and Marvin Berkeley.

Decisions affecting the educational environment of each Dallas public school student originate with the school board and are executed by the Superintendents.

Policies directly affecting Bryan Adams in 1967-68 were a boundary change between Woodrow Wilson and Bryan Adams high schools, a revised football schedule, an increase in food prices in the cafeteria, and a substantial raise in salary for teachers.

Influencing Dallas education as a whole, was the approval by the school board of architect's plans for a new vocational-arts high school complex. This complex, which represents a new direction in Dallas education, provides an inspiration for coordination of intellectual and manual training in Dallas High Schools.

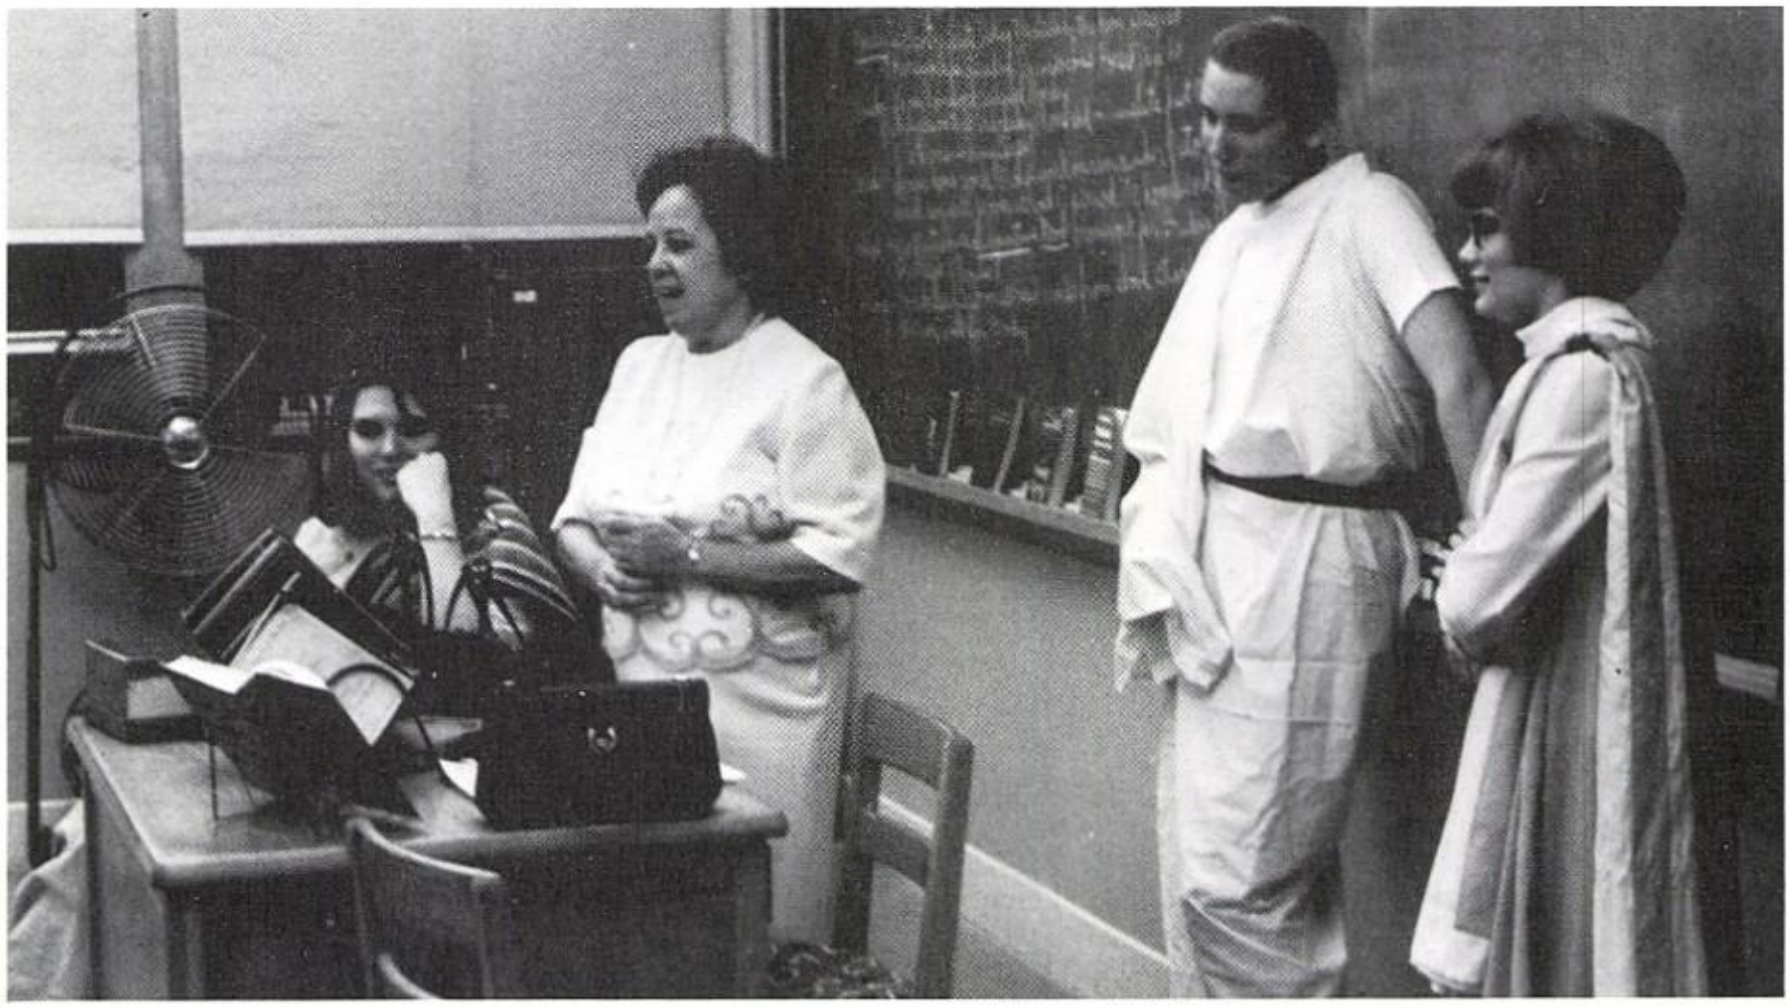
Such decisions are examples of the continuing efforts by the school administration for improved education for the children and young adults of Dallas.

Superintendents of the Dallas Independent School District are Dale Douglas; C. C. Miller; Hollis Allen; Don E. Mattheus; H. D. Pearson; W. T. White, Chief Superintendent; Frank Williams; E. D. Walker; Robert McKay.

P.-T.A. CONSIDERS NEEDS OF SCHOOL

Parents listen with interest to information concerning their students' curriculum.

Several thousand members of the Bryan Adams Parent-Teacher Association demonstrate their interest and desire to cooperate and help the school. The P.-T.A. works to provide auxiliary services to students by its various activities. These projects include the miniature school, which acquaints parents with the students' schedule and courses, and the college night, where representatives from colleges and universities inform students about their institutions. A five hundred dollar scholarship is awarded to each of two students. The school clinic receives money to buy supplies, and the senior class benefits from a $1000 donation to the senior activity fund. Through these and other projects the P.-T.A. helps meet the various needs of Bryan Adams.

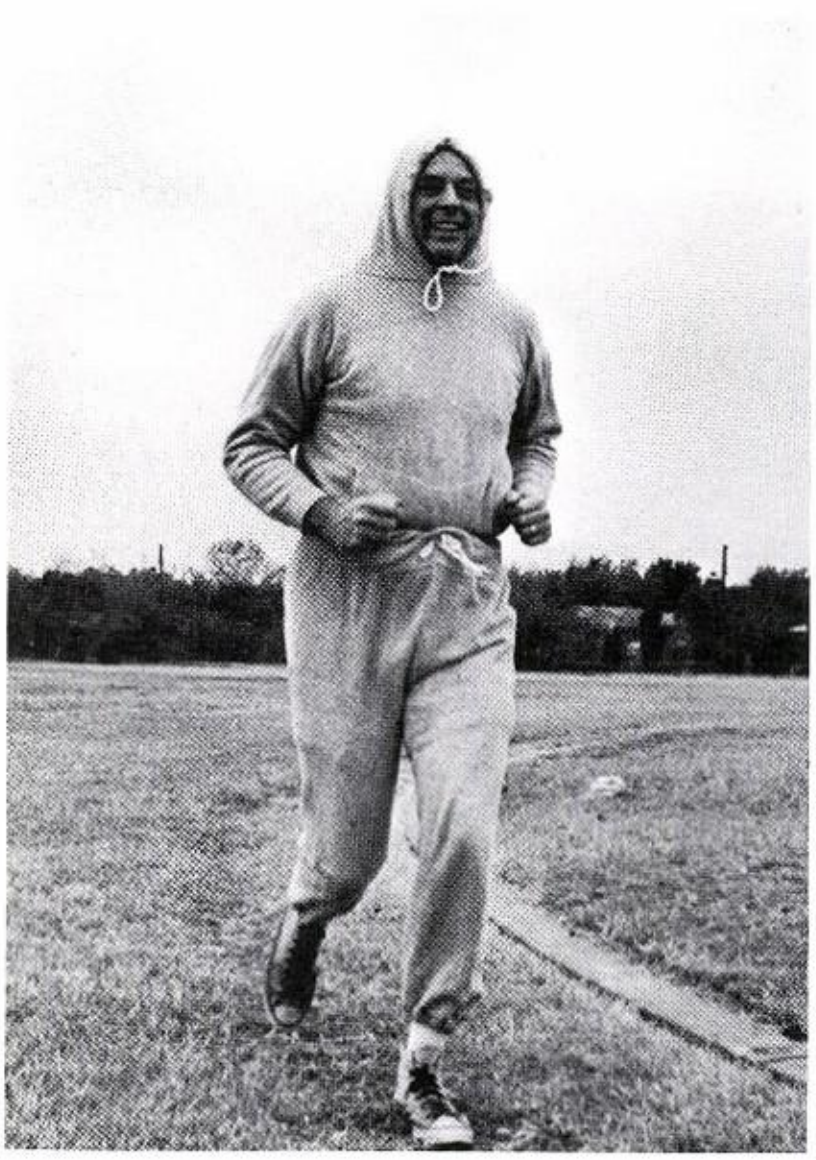


Mrs. Barnes discusses the Latin program with parents at the P.T.A. miniature school.

PRINCIPAL STRIVES FOR

Dr. Robert B. Harris
Principal

Dr. Harris' busy schedule requires constant activity.



Dr. Harris takes advantage of Bryan Adams' facilities to stay in shape.

BALANCED SCHOOL PROGRAM

Beginning his day by calling substitute teachers and ending it with a three mile jog around the track, Dr. Robert B. Harris, principal, spends many hours at Bryan Adams. Dr. Harris has the responsibility for all areas of operation.

His goal is for the school to attain excellence in every field and to emphasize a balance in academic and social objectives.

As immediate past president of the Texas Association of Secondary School Principals, Dr. Harris is aware of the latest educational trends and frequently adapts these innovations to Bryan Adams.

His energetic backing of the sports program, his administration of the academic program, and his interest in new educational ideas reflect Dr. Harris' efforts toward a balanced school program.

Dr. Harris enjoys meeting and talking with students.

Mrs. Evelyn Holt and Mrs. Frances Swift perform a variety of duties in assisting Dr. Harris.

ASSISTANT ADMINISTRATORS AI

Mr. Dearl D. Richardson, assistant principal, plans and attends all assemblies.

After serving for six years as assistant principal at a junior high school, Mr. Dearl D. Richardson came to Bryan Adams. This administrator holds both the B.A. and M.A. degrees from T.C.U. and has done work toward his Ph D. at the University of Texas. Here, he supervises activities and curriculum by scheduling clubs, arranging assemblies, and coordinating student activities with school policy. He assists the counselors in scheduling curriculum and balancing class enrollments. His teacher supervision includes instruction, supplies, and teaching aids. In all his duties, Mr. Richardson proves his avid support of Bryan Adams.

Mr. Richardson's position demands much serious attention to school policy and activities.

STUDENTS, COUNSELORS, AND TEACHERS

Miss Carmichael's job often requires telephone conferences.

Mr. Joel P. Pittman, assistant principal, and Miss Sarah Carmichael, pupil-personnel counselor, share in the job of improving student attendance at Bryan Adams. Mr. Pittman counsels students who are habitually absent, and Miss Carmichael often consults with parents to determine the reason for a pupil's truancy.

Mr. Pittman also confers with applicants for work permits and supervises the requisitioning and issuing of all textbooks.

The enormous task of keeping daily enrollment and attendance statistics is handled by Miss Carmichael who sends the required reports to the state administrators.

Both Mr. Pittman and Miss Carmichael have demonstrated the great versatility required in fulfilling their posts.

In his first year as an assistant principal, Mr. Pittman inherited a variety of duties.

Attendance clerks issue permits and admit cards to students during the early morning rush.

COUNSELORS OFFER PERSONAL, VOCATIONAL, AND ACADEMIC GUIDANCE

What career best suits my interests? What college offers the necessary training? What tests must I take to enter this college? Guidance in answering questions like these is offered by the counselors. Situations which keep a student from doing his best at school are also often improved by the counselors through consultation with a parent or a teacher. Seeing that the student takes all the subjects required for graduation and for his chosen college or career comprises one of of the counselors' most time-consuming duties. Senior counselors, Mrs. Winder and Mrs. Chamblee; junior counselors, Mrs. Harvley and Mrs. Enlow; and sophomore counselor Miss Randolph, render a helpful service to the students of Bryan Adams.

AUXILIARY DEPARTMENTS PERFORM

Mrs. Swore orders supplies for the school cafeteria.

Extra services to the school are received from the library, IBM room, lunchroom, and clinic.

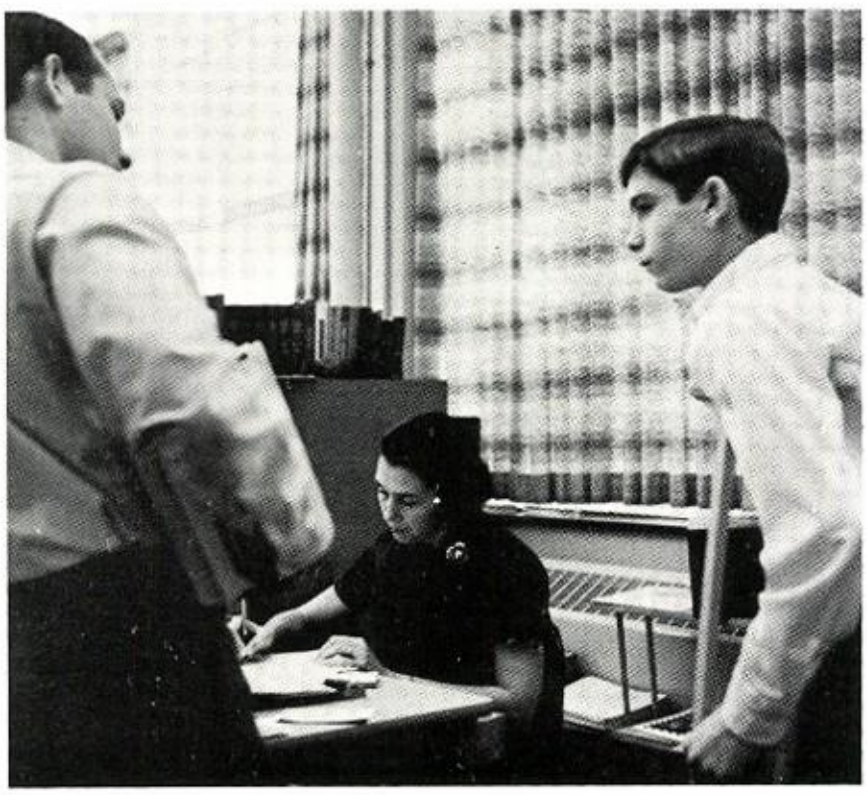
The library maintains a place for quiet study and assists students and teachers in finding resource materials and current literature for outside assignments.

Attendance records, six-weeks reports, and program cards comprise the work of the IBM room.

In the clinic, the nurses administer first aid and keep the health records of the students.

Preparation of hot lunches for over three thousand people comes under the direction of the school dietician.

These useful services help keep Bryan Adams in operation and make school days a little easier for both teachers and students.



The school clinic keeps a steady pace of recording illnesses and injuries.

Mrs. Roan and her assistants feed attendance reports into the IBM equipment

ESSENTIAL SERVICES TO SCHOOL

Miss Fowler helps a student locate a book on the shelf by first looking it up in the card catalog.

ENGLISH PROMOTES SHARING OF IDEAS

Phil Martin states his case while his opponent in debate, Bob Cohen, takes notes

Effective oral and written communication demand a strong English background. To develop this foundation, Bryan Adams offers a variety of courses in English, Speech, and journalism. The structure of the novel, short story, and drama as well as appreciation for American and English literature are stressed in the English curriculum. Journalism presents ways of communication through the printed news media and prepares students for a position on the school newspaper staff. The speech department helps the individual acquire poise in expressing himself, and it provides opportunities for competition in various speaking events. Through research, discussion, and participation, the English department helps the pupil develop the cultural background necessary for accurate expression.

Seniors John Speigal, Jeff Kester, and Suzzie Jones present a panel discussion to their English class.

Junior English students Mike Cary and Jan Newton use index cards and file boxes for taking notes for research papers.

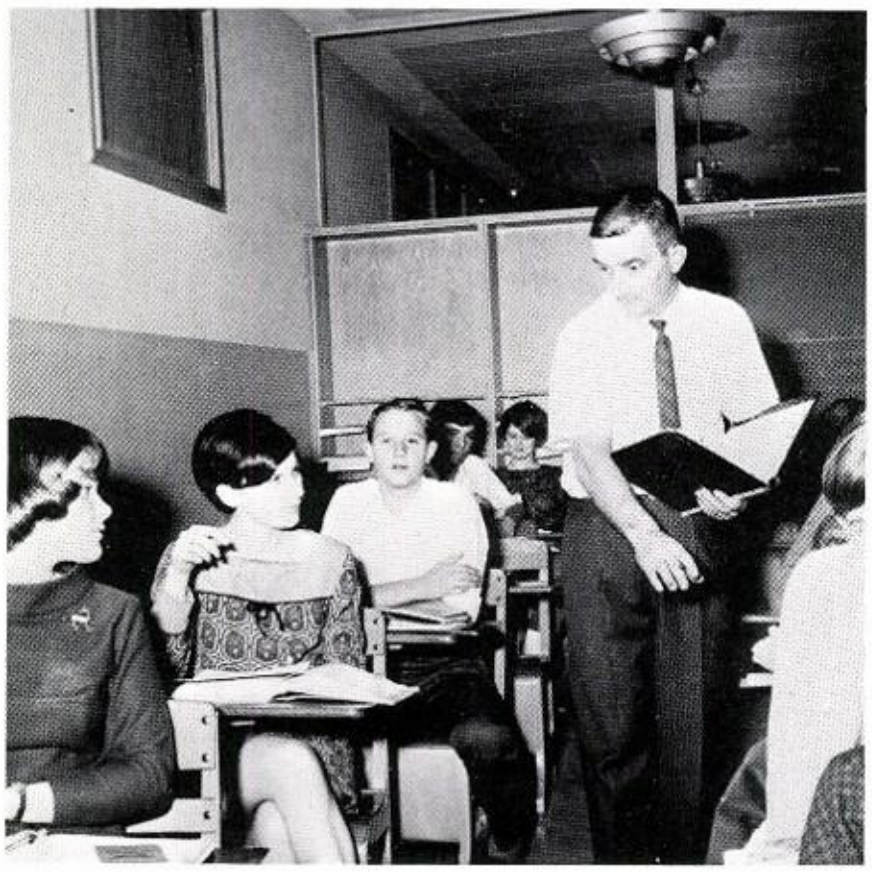
HISTORY RELATES PAST AND PRESENT

Understanding of today's world problems by comparison with relevant situations in the past is fostered by the history department. The history curriculum is designed to develop skills in the comprehension of books and news media and in the interpretation of maps and graphs. Emphasis is placed on increasing student ability to separate fact from opinion and to analyze events by organizing and evaluating information through a problem-solving technique. Teachers use films, periodicals, speakers, and field trips to inform students on current issues.

Courses include the basic American and World History and classes in Latin-American History, Problems in Democracy, English History, Civics, European History, and Economics. Study in these courses encourages the student to become a better informed and more interested participant in future world affairs.



Grades on the weekly review tests are recorded by Mr. Paleschic.

LANGUAGES CREATE UNDERSTANDING

Cindy Pritchett polishes her accent in the Spanish lab.

International understanding is at a premium, but it is impossible without a common medium. By offering courses in French, Spanish, German, and Latin, Bryan Adams gives its students the opportunity to increase their appreciation and understanding of foreign cultures and peoples. Simultaneously, lessons in foreign language strengthen basic skills in English and widen vocabulary through knowledge of foreign word roots.

Important factors in the quality of the language department are the two language laboratories for French, Spanish, and German. Also used in teaching these subjects are tape recorders, film strips, and movies. By these modern educational innovations the foreign language department broadens the outlook and enriches the lives of many students.

Students gain practice in speaking their language during lab sessions.

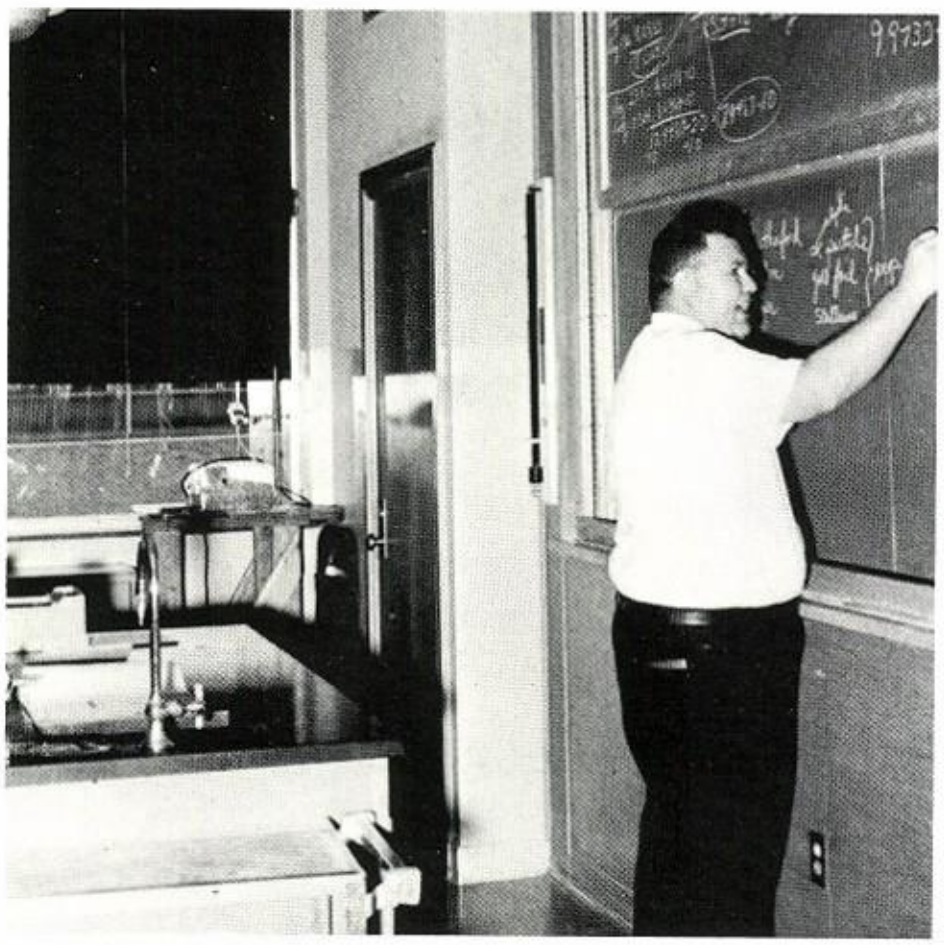
SCIENCE STIMULATES RESEARCH



Mr. Atwood explains the fundamentals of chemistry.

Complete laboratory facilities enable students to acquire a broad knowledge of the sciences they study at Bryan Adams. Biology students pursue an assortment of activities ranging from tracing eye color through family history to exploring the physiology of a frog. The composition, structure, and properties of matter are taught in the chemistry classes where experiments enhance the students' understanding. Physics explores the laws of matter and energy. All science students are required to build a project for the spring science fair, and Bryan Adams students take top honors each year. These science courses help develop in each student a desire to further research.

MATH OFFERS BROAD CURRICULUM

Both teachers and students employ the computer in solving math problems.

Preparing Bryan Adams students for careers in engineering, business, and science, the math department uses the newest teaching facilities to instruct students in concepts as ageless as the universe. With such devices as overhead projectors, digital computers, oversize demonstration slide rules, and Cartesian graph systems printed on blackboard surfaces, the logical order of mathematics is explained and demonstrated. Courses offered range from vocationally oriented business math to the complex logic of differential calculus. The ever-expanding curriculum of the math department exemplifies the increased use and knowledge of mathematics in the modern world.

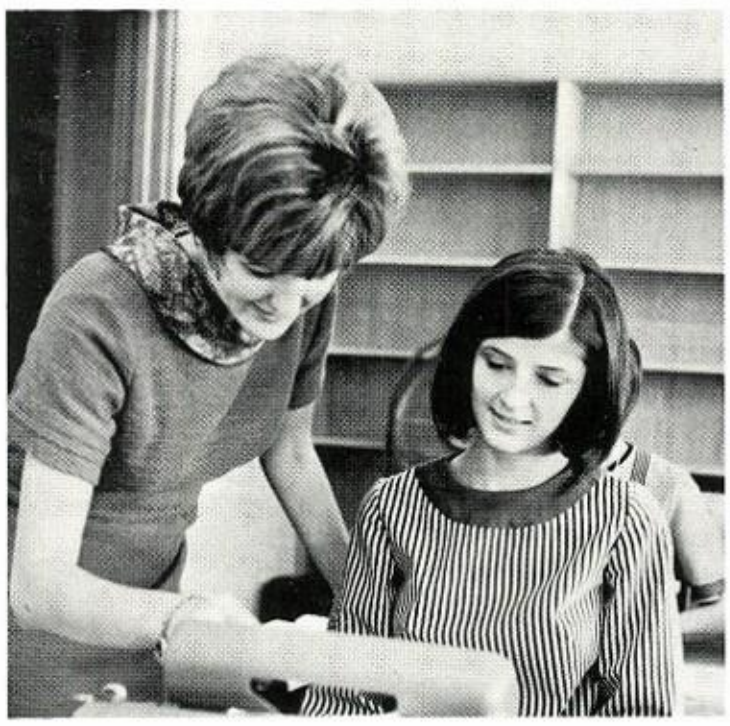
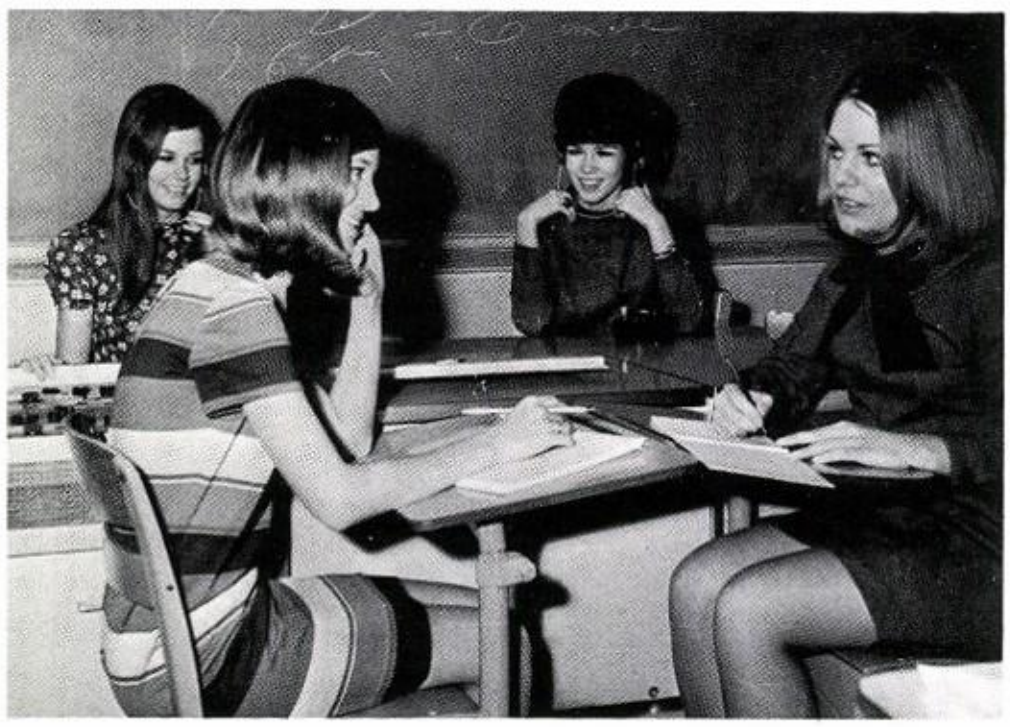
Whether it is typing a research paper or a business letter, taking notes in class or in an office, keeping a family budget or a company account, students can benefit by taking any of the courses offered in the business department. The fundamental skills of typing and shorthand are available to any junior or senior, and junior students may take a second year to further their abilities. Business law, business mathematics, and bookkeeping are also taught. The number of teachers in the department has doubled in the last five years, and this increase shows the importance of business to the community.



Changing a typewriter ribbon is an important skill that Miss Nelson is demonstrating to Donna Boutwell.



Second year shorthand students learn to use dictation lab equipment to increase their writing speed.

ND PROFESSIONAL SKILLS

Opportunities to enter the business world and to learn a profession are offered to students in the distributive education program. Industrial Cooperative Training, Vocational Office Education, and Agricultural Cooperative Training provide instructions in the needed skills to work in these fields.

Students of distributive education learn store management and advertising and rehearse sales talks with classmates. V.O.E. pupils practice office procedure and learn to operate the business machines. The use of industrial equipment is taught in the I.C.T. class. The A.C.T. course prepares its trainees to manage farms and nurseries. Through these various courses, the department fulfills its goal of providing students with a professional background.

GIRLS STUDY HOME LIFE

After the work is done, girls enjoy sampling the results.

Specific attention to the whole area of home and family life help girls assume the responsibility of homemaking. Three semesters each of clothing and foods are available to students in all grades, and senior girls may study home and family living. Many concepts of the domestic arts are taught in this course including family relations, clothing and textiles, and home management. Other aspects are nutrition, child development, and home nursing. Complete food and clothing labs aid the students in planning style shows for the P.-T.A. and luncheons for the Dallas principals. The homemaking pupils also extend their hospitality to the faculty when they have an open house near Christmas. By taking advantage of the homemaking curriculum, a girl can become better prepared for her career as a homemaker.

SHOPS COMBINE SKILL, INGENUITY

Man's mind and his hands comprise his most important tools in life. His mind decides what is to be done, and his hands fulfill these decisions. In shop courses, both are trained as a unit. The student's mind is opened to the possibilities for production with certain materials, and his hands are trained in the manipulation of these materials into the image in his mind. This integration of mind and hands is an important step toward productive work and fascinating hobbies. A wide choice of shop courses allows the student to select one that interests him and is valuable to him. At Bryan Adams courses are offered in technical and architectural drafting, woodwork, metal work, plastics, power mechanics, and electricity. Equipment and materials are furnished at reasonable cost. The only factor remaining is the student's imagination and skill which are sharpened by the training provided by his advisors.

FINE ARTS CHALLENGE

Art student Steve Grant helps construct the sets for the stage.

Developing an ability to be visually creative and encouraging the perception of art in the world is the goal of teaching art. Basic courses in design, drawing, painting, collage, assemblage, and art appreciation help the student develop talent in his best medium. The use of records helps students acquire rhythm in drawing, and slides are used to provide sources of design from nature and city scapes and aid in the teaching of art history. The art department has a kiln room for firing and storing claywork and saws and torches for sculpture and assemblage. These teaching aids and techniques provide a multitude of resources which enable the student to increase his artistic abilities.

REATIVITY OF STUDENTS

Orchestra students practice under the direction of Mr. Jernigan.

Music – its power, variety, and beauty – has evoked emotion within human beings since before recorded time. Its importance today can be seen in the volume of record, stereo, tape, and radio sales. Such an important element of living merits understanding. The Bryan Adams music department develops this understanding through its courses in the different areas of music. Chorus, music theory, orchestra and band classes all clarify distinct aspects of the music field, and they enable the student to appreciate music through his understanding of its order, its variety, and its discipline.

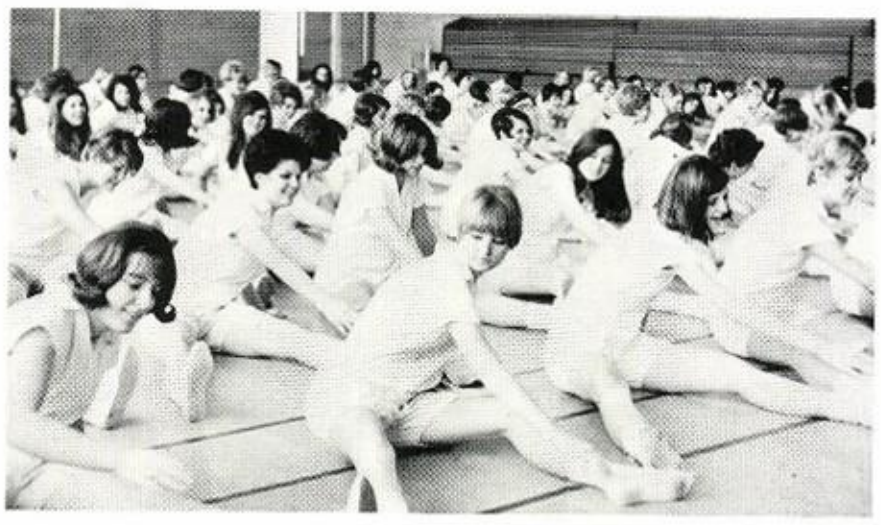
PHYSICAL ACTIVITY ALTERNATES



Girls limber up with a series of calisthenics at the beginning of the class period.

Physical education maintains the balance between the physical and mental development of youth. Students sample a variety of sports and games including volleyball, basketball, football, softball, tennis, and soccer during their gym classes. Competitiveness and good sportsmanship are encouraged along with a program of personal fitness.

Study hall gives the student a chance to do his homework, to prepare for a test, or to get ahead with his required reading. The hour may also be used for research or reading in the school library or for consulting with one's counselors.

Activities

RINGS of friends gather to share the fun of activities focused around mutual interest.

OPENING of school generates usual student interest.

"PERSONAL initiative" is the keynote of the September 20th Junior Achievement assembly, as Mike Swinford is first to the stage to accept the dollar offered by the speaker.

Autumn introduces the student to Bryan Adams, whether for the first year or the third. At the opening football games, the stands are alive with faces: Cougar spirit is everywhere. The money-raising incentive of the Thieves' Market creates a sense of responsibility to the community; the Junior Achievement assembly awakens a sense of responsibility to free enterprise. Preparation for the future continues with seniors taking the Iowa Test of Educational Development. In September, a world of activities call for participation.

OCTOBER YIELDS ACTIVITY

Sights and sounds invite participation. The announcements of National Merit Scholarship semi-finalists and homecoming queen nominees awakens an array of expectation. Again, the American Field Service creates bonds of friendship between peoples by bringing Cris Burckhardt from Colombia and Renzo Arnold from Switzerland. Anticipation of Variety Theater, generated by daily afternoon rehearsals, mounts with the first sight of the shocking pink and black outfits. Posters for El Conquistador sales and senior ring sales spotlight the near future; the speakers at college night and the studious silence at the American College Test focus on the shadowy, not-so-near future. The exciting State Fair recognizes youth with a colorful holiday, elated and animated. In October, the student yields to the call of the various activities, which are an important aspect of education.

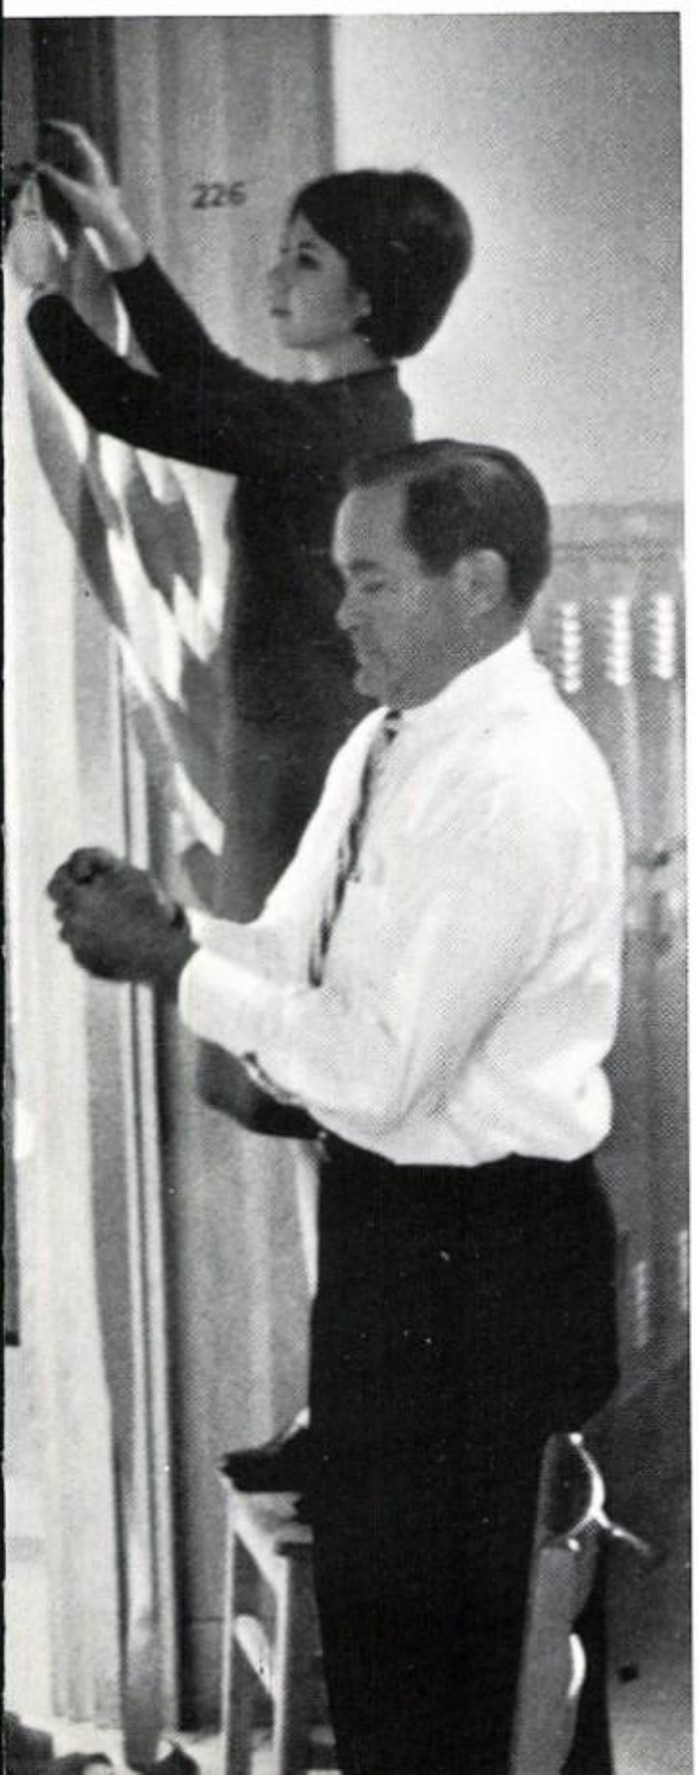
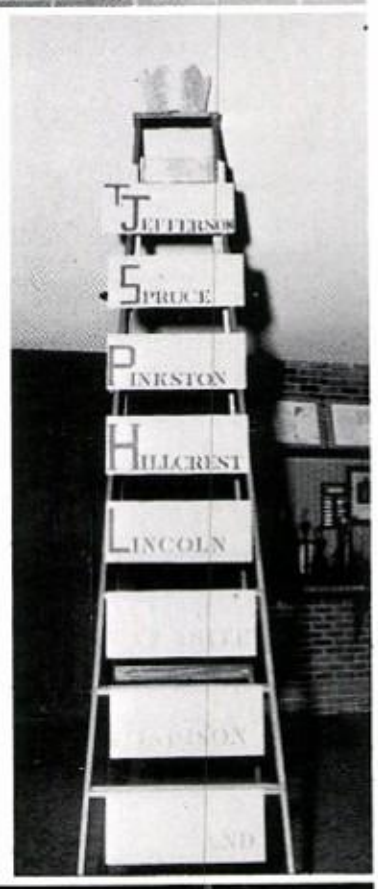
ACTIVITIES POINT TOWARD THE FUTURE

The Concert Choir's new stage shell provides a good sound projected toward the audience.

November days are filled with activities, eventful and short, hurrying the days ahead. Presented to the student body in an assembly, homecoming finalists represent the school to those who return for a night. Mum Day further emphasizes the school's determination. The Concert Choir presents a program of music preceding the short Thanksgiving holidays. As basketball begins in earnest, players work hard in preparation for the games that are to come. Youth eagerly moves the months onward, awaiting the coming of holidays.





The Cougars, despite their misspelled name, managed to beat the Spartans and capture the City Crown on November 10.

HOLIDAYS STRESS DAYS

A holiday spirit permeates activities during December. A car-decorating contest creates in us a proud spirit backing the Cougar football team. With the streets as their world, the less industrious seek an unearned holiday. The Balfour Company sells graduation announcements to seniors whose poetic, fertile imaginations buy visions of May, after which comes the "eternal vacation" from public school. In the tryouts for the Senior Play, an event penetrated with excitement for the future, many actors and actresses are chosen to bear the work and the recognition. The involvement of Youth in activities magnifies the excitement of the holidays.

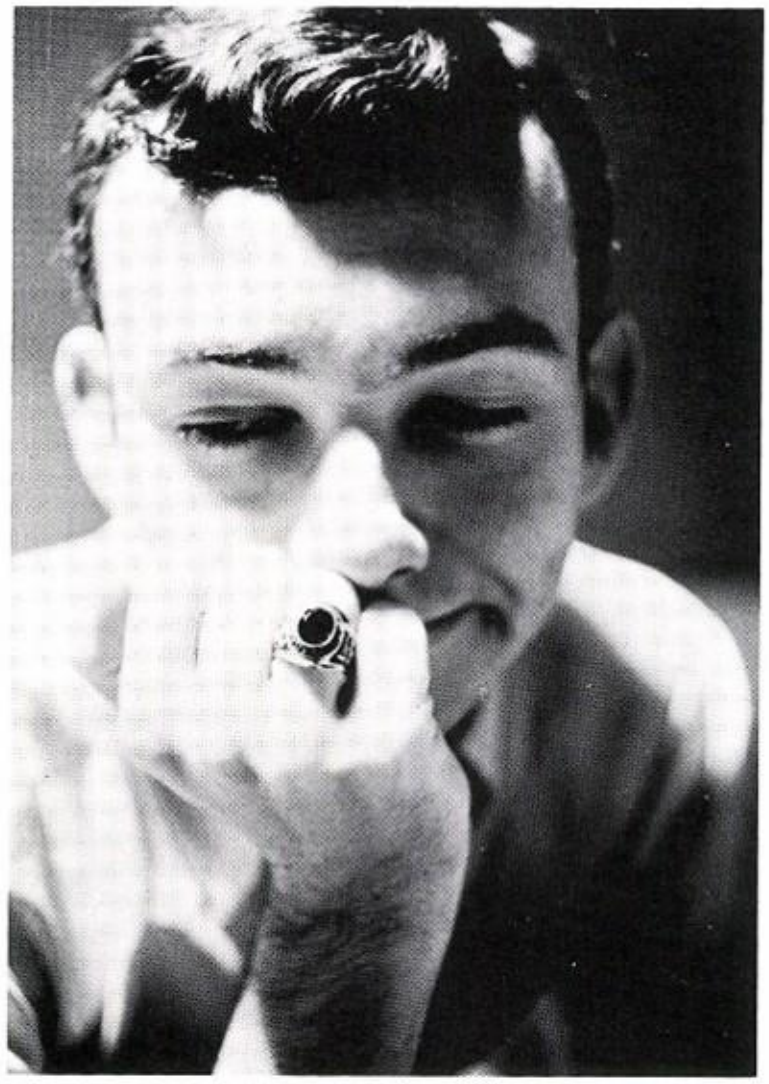
An excellent basketball season rewards the long hours of practice.

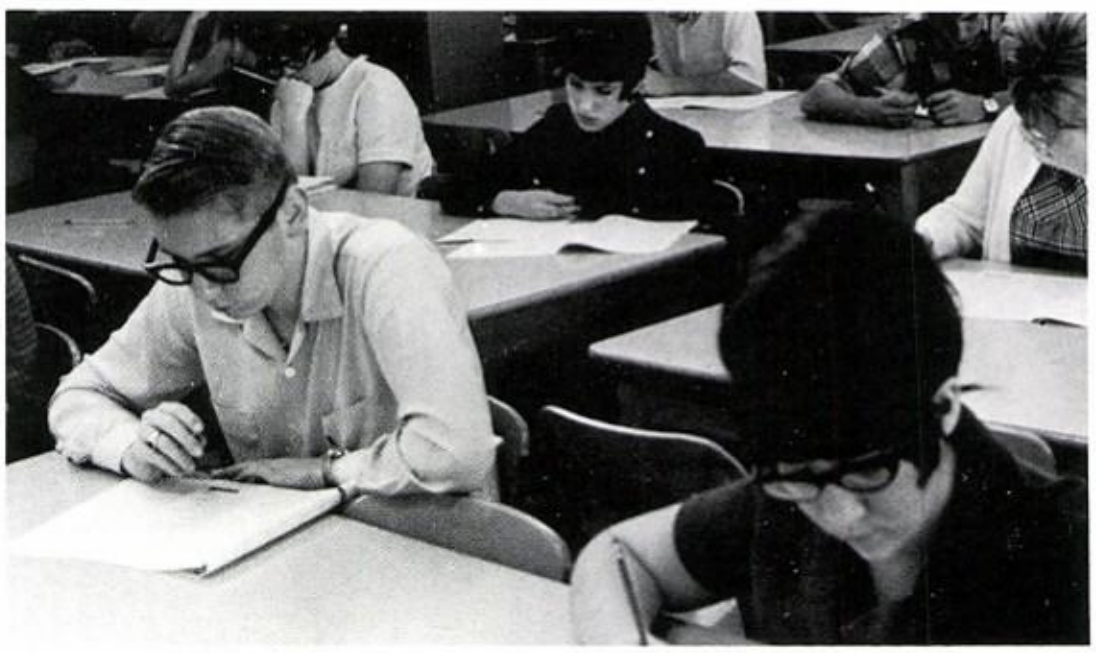
SNOW RELIEVES WINTER PRESSURES

With January comes the noontide of the school year when Youth covers thoughts of the future with immediate cares. The P-TA assembly, to raise money for a scholarship, breaks the monotony of concentration. A trip to the State Fair Music Hall for a Dallas Symphony concert pleasantly takes the place of a morning at school. The sights of winter abound: ice, bare trees, clouds of frozen breath, and cheeks tingling with color. The pressures of exams come, producing dusty notes and old test papers for last-minute studying. Youth awaits the dawn of spring activities to scatter the shadows of study.



Senior Gary Gordon dreams of the future.

The icy winter delights all with an unexpected day of rest.



The importance of the future lies in the SAT, which is administered on January 20.

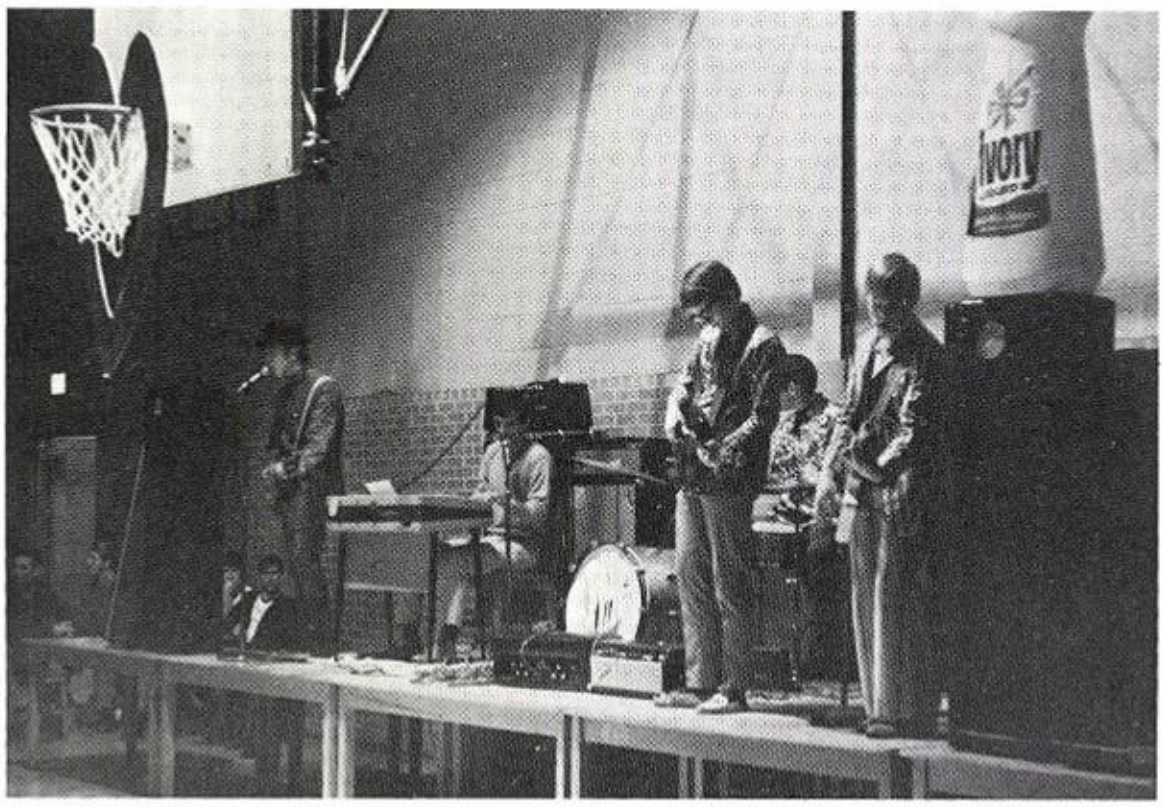
EXTRA-CURRICULA

Activities in February reflect the mood of the in-between month at the merging of Winter and Spring. The Student Council sponsors a Valentine Dance that raises general feelings from the after-exam slump. Many seniors sell tickets for the coming Senior Play which rehearses daily after school. A few have a holiday by attending the Fourth Annual French Symposium in Killeen, where Bryan Adams wins fourteen ribbons. The last El Conquistador deadline brings the final transformation of schemes and half-formed ideas into reality. The closing of a successful basketball season comes during February. Activities overcome the inertia of a new semester and bridge the unendurable schoolwork.



The Lime plays at the informal Valentine's Dance on February 16.

Cheerleaders Nancy Slevin, Kenny Plunk, Bill Evans and Joycelyn Stailey joined in expressing their spirit.

ASSEMBLIES LEAD TEAM TO VICTORIES

"Go, Cougars, go, go, go!" resounded throughout the auditorium during the weekly pep assemblies. In preparation for each football game, the cheerleaders organized an exceptional program. Among the various speakers were Hal Martin, disc jockey of radio station KLIF; Alvin Withrow, former assistant principal at Bryan Adams; and W. T. White, superintendent of schools. Dr. Harris frequently had a word of encouragement for the football team. Skits and cheers highlighted each assembly. School pride expressed itself even further with the introduction of the "spirit ladder." At times the cheering spread beyond the auditorium pep assemblies to the courtyards and classes. The cheerleaders, band, majorettes, drill team and pep squad, as well as the student body, joined in expressing the true "Cougar Spirit."

The "spirit ladder of success" had early beginnings with the important pre-season games.

The Cougars plucked the Owls, with the encouragement of Cougar Vicki Cavendar.

"Step right up and win a prize." the prize was the Sunset Bisons and the city crown.

And the "spirit ladder" succeeded with the winning of the Cougars' second city championship.

CROWNING HIGHLIGHTS HOMECOMING EVENING

Paper cobwebs woven from twisted strands of green and white evidenced the climax of long hours spent in preparation for Homecoming 1967. The game was an exciting one against Thomas Jefferson in the bitter cold. Victorious, students and alumni returned to the Bryan Adams' gym for the dance at which the Blueberry Jam Session provided music. ABSURDITIES HIGHLIGHT SHOW

Performers, old and new, throbbed with anticipation, awaiting that moment for which they had rehearsed. The stage was set, the house lights dimmed, and the Cothurnus Club presented Variety Theater 1967. Poison, Pussycats, and Picnics came to life during performances given in November. "Passion, Poison, and Petrifaction" was the absurd story of unreturned love. In the comedy "Archy and Mehitabel" a literary cockroach described the queen of the alley cats. Finally, a picnic turned into a fiasco in "Antic Spring." The vivacious cast of these three one-act plays enjoyed themselves as much as the audience. A certain spontaneity, emphasized by the direction of Mrs. Francys Walls, Miss Carol Marshall, and Mr. Kirby Matlack.

The climax came with the crowning of Becky Wilson as Senior Sweetheart, escorted by Thurman Moss. Lisa Holler became the 1968 Junior Princess and Debbie Allen, the Sophomore Duchess. After the Grand March out of the auditorium and into the gym, many stayed for a dance in honor of the new Sweetheart, with the Countdowns providing music. TOURNAMENT HOSTS OUT-OF-STATE DEBATERS

Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana, and Tennessee were represented by sixty-one schools and twelve hundred students at the third largest speech tournament in Texas. Events held on February 16 and 17 included debate, acting, interpretation and oratory. Participants arrived in buses and cars around noon Friday and left after the awards Saturday afternoon. Teachers and parents responded to judge, and students kept time for all events. Four basic committees compose the Student Council. They are the Projects Committee, chairman is Linda Horner; the Student Directory Committee, chairman is Jimmy Walter; the Cougar Book Committee, chairman is David Hornack; and the Dance Committee, chairman is David Pratt. The main projects of these committees were bookshleves for the lunchroom, Student Directories, Sophomore information booklet, and several dances.

The Student Council officers included President Kenny Plunk, Vice-President Mel Crutchfield, Secretary Becky Berry, and Treasurer Jimmy Walters.

Making up the Bryan Adams National Honor Society are students possessing the highest of all scholastic marks. These students also are outstanding in other activities, including school service and school leadership.

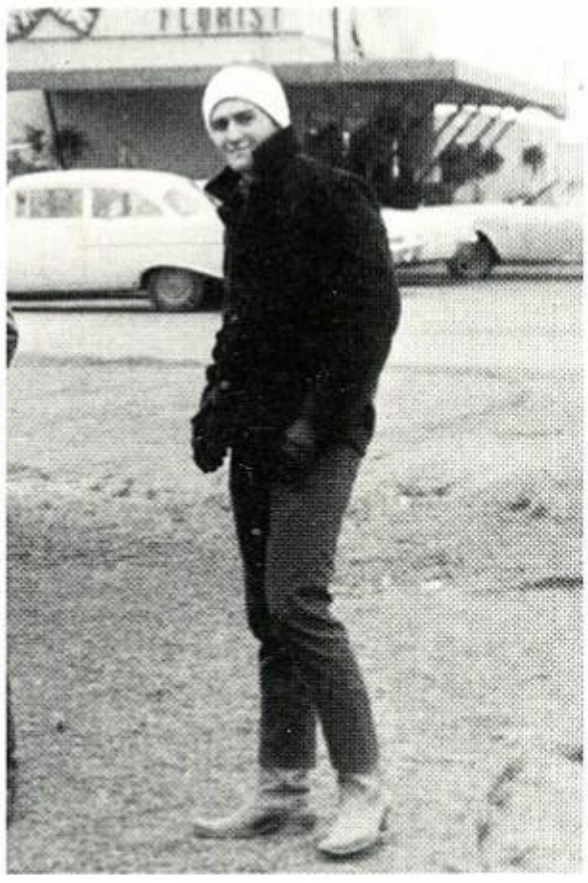
Selection for National Honor Society is based on a student's ability in several categories. Sponsors and teachers give points to students concerning scholarship, character, leadership, and service.

In the early spring, National Honor Society holds its induction. Present members "tap" newcomers (juniors and seniors) from the audience.

This year the Officers of the National Honor Society are President Steve Brooks, Vice-President David Hornack and Secretary Jan Hornsby. Sponsors are Mr. Robert Clamon, Mrs. Elizabeth Winder and Mrs. Peggy Chamblee.

KEY CLUB

SERVICE CLUB WORKS FOR "ANGELS"



Ikie Conway is all bundled up for a night at the Key Club tree lot.

"Get out the soap, sponges, and get ready for good hard labor; it's time for the annual carwash." This rallying cry signaled the 1967 Key Club carwash, one of the club's most publicized activities. As a service club, the Key Club's main activity this year was their work at Angels, Inc., a home and school for mentally retarded children. At "Angels" Key Club members cleared brush, tore down old fences, and cleaned up the school. Two other Key Club activities were Christmas tree sales to raise money for Angels, the help of some Key Clubbers in the Kiwanis Club Show. The Kiwanis Club, along with teacher, Mr. Alford Vick, sponsors the Key Club.

The gavel this year was handed to Bill Evans, President. Other officers were; Vice-president, Mike Paulson; Secretary, Paul Spann; Treasurer, Duke Garwood; Senior-director, Paul Gray; Junior-director, Randy Goss; and Sophomore-director, Richard Estes. The Key Club, through its activities, has demonstrated to Bryan Adams' students the importance of a service club.

The steady climb of the football team toward a city championship was measured by the spirit ladder, a Cheerleader inspired device to build spirit. Each week a football player placed a victory plaque from the previous week's game on a higher rung of the ladder.

While in competition at S.M.U. this summer, school cheerleaders won the spirit stick every day. This stick is given for displaying the most spirit.

Cheerleaders planned and presented weekly pep assemblies this year which featured humorous skits and pep talks by members of the football team. Miss Carolyn Chappell, sponsored the 1967-68 Cheerleaders, Becky Berry, Doug Sharp, Nancy Slevin, Sandi Collier, Kenny Plunk, Joycelyn Stailey, David Pratt and Head Cheerleader, Chuck Reid.

Briskly marching green and white uniformed band members led by high-stepping majorettes flashing lighted batons provided additional pleasure to spectators during football season. Musical entertainment at pep assemblies and superior half-time shows characterized the efforts of the Bryan Adams Band. Headed by Mr. Charles Patterson, the band played and marched to arrangements of both classical and popular music.

The majorettes, who performed at every game, became known for their lighted batons and peppy routines. Early morning practices helped in perfecting performances for football games.

ORCHESTRA

MUSICIANS WIN NUMEROUS HONORS

1967-68 was a prize-winning year for the Bryan Adams Orchestra. Individual members won an unusual number of awards, and the full orchestra also received special recognition.

Four orchestra members were named to places in the Texas All-State Orchestra, and full scholarships to attend Reston Music Camp in Virginia were awarded to two others. The Dal-Hi Symphony Orchestra, composed of musicians from many Dallas schools, has twenty-one students from Bryan Adams who hold places.

This year the orchestra presented a number of public performances, including a joint performance with the Southern Methodist University Orchestra and a concert at the Fine Arts Museum during the State Fair.

In early February Orchestra members traveled to Austin where they competed in the three-day Texas Music Educators' Convention. Mr. Malcolm Jernigan is director of the Orchestra.

Holiday excitement and the spirit of goodwill were radiated throughout the school as both students and faculty reacted with praise to the voices of the Bryan Adams Concert Choir. The Concert Choir also performed many charity shows. One of these shows was given for the Veteran's Hospital, while another was presented for the children of the Juliet Fowler Home.

After receiving instruction in one of the school's chorus classes for at least one semester, students must audition for available places in this select group.

COTHURNUS CLUB

STUDENTS PARTICIPATE IN VARIETY THEATER

Cothurnus members make finding lost contacts a hilarious event.

Dramatic scenery and inspired amateur acting are the two major ingredients which make the 1967-68 Variety Theater just one of the outstanding accomplishments of the Bryan Adams Cothurnus Club. These three one-act plays are performed on two nights in November following two school-time "teaser" assemblies. In addition to the Variety Theater, the club presents a Childrens Theater in the spring. Many members also participate in the Senior Play.

Prospective members of the club try-out by delivering a dramatic monologue or a duet acting scene to a panel of judges consisting of club sponsors and executive board members. Students must have average or above-average ability in dramatic efforts and talent. Good behavior and a high scholastic standing are taken into consideration in selecting Cothurnus members.

Sponsors of the fulfilling and pleasurable club are Mrs. Francys Walls, Miss Carol Marshall, and Mr. Kirby Matlack. Officers are Debra Pope, President; Greg Grove, Vice-President; and Edna Hanvey, Second Vice-President.

TALENT SHOW BECOMES "HAPPENING"

Bright blue and red flashing strobe lights and silver clad dancing girls opened the 1967-68 National Forensic League Show. Students made moving films and designs were seen on walls as students danced and performed on stage. Combo music during N.F.L. was provided by the "Countdowns," a senior combo composed of Dale Irby, Mike Howard, Terry Jackson, Dennis Carpenter and Ted Ellis.

This year's show, produced by the drama students and their sponsor Francis Walls and Kirby Matlack, featured the introduction of hippy life to a young conservative city girl Lynette Elliott.

The pros and cons were presented first by the realistic world of society and then by the dream world of the hippy. When the judgement was made, it was the realistic world that won, as Phil Martin, a previous hippy decides that conformity of the real world is best.

MATH CLUB FEATURES ANNUAL CONFERENCE

Computer reveals answer to Glen Haschke.

Exciting opportunities for young people are offered in the growing field of applied mathematics. An interest in the various fields of mathematical sciences is the qualification for students interested in joining the Bryan Adams Math Club. The goal of each member is to learn the many facets of this basic science by working together and teaching one another.

The annual math conference is held in the fall, and lectures and assemblies are the main activities. Membership in Mu Alpha Theta, a national math honor society, is acquired only through membership in the Math Club. An induction ceremony of the new members is held in the spring. Other activities include picnics, Christmas parties, and speakers from colleges.

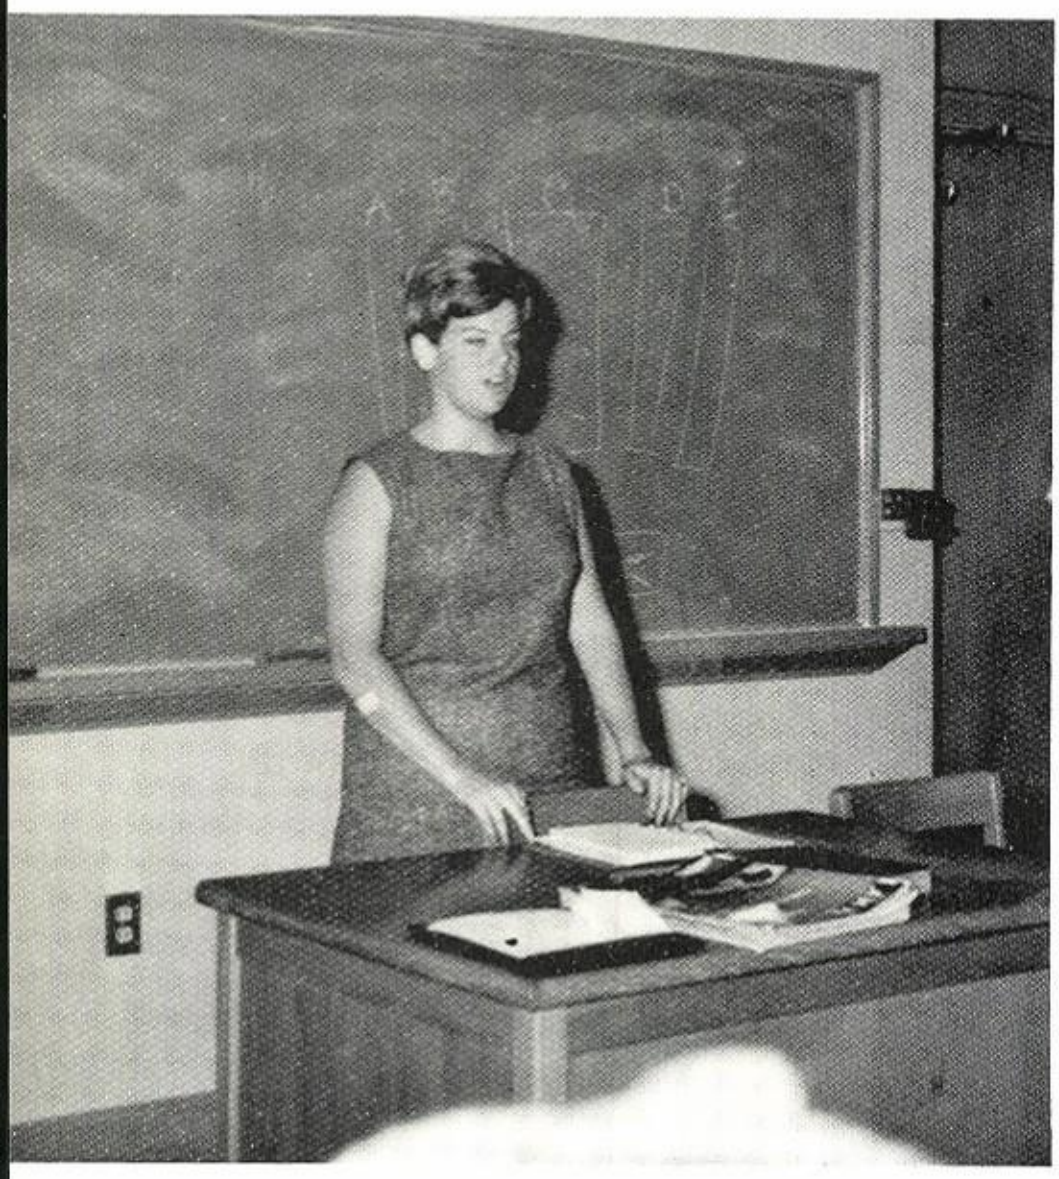
STUDENTS LEARN SPANISH CUSTOMS

Janice Raskin gives speech to open Los Vencendores meeting.



Encouraging the respect and a more thorough understanding of all nationalities in the western hemisphere through knowledge and appreciation of the peoples of these countries, and the learning of Spanish as a medium of communication are the admirable objectives of the Pan American Student Forum of Texas.

Active membership from pupils presently enrolled in the Spanish classes or native speaker of the language are the qualifications to join this club. This year the membership of 175 students is divided into four units of PASF: Unit One includes the third and fourth year students, Unit Two and Three are the second year students, and Unit Four consists of the first year students.

A Christmas Banquet with carol singing in Spanish at El Chico Restaurant, a bake sale in October, active support of the Dallas-Ft. Worth Pan American Council, and delegates attending the state PASF Convention in Austin are some of the interesting activities planned.

Sponsors of the four units are Mrs. Rushing, Miss Cole, Mrs. Golden, and Mrs. Rodriquez with Mrs. Chitwood.

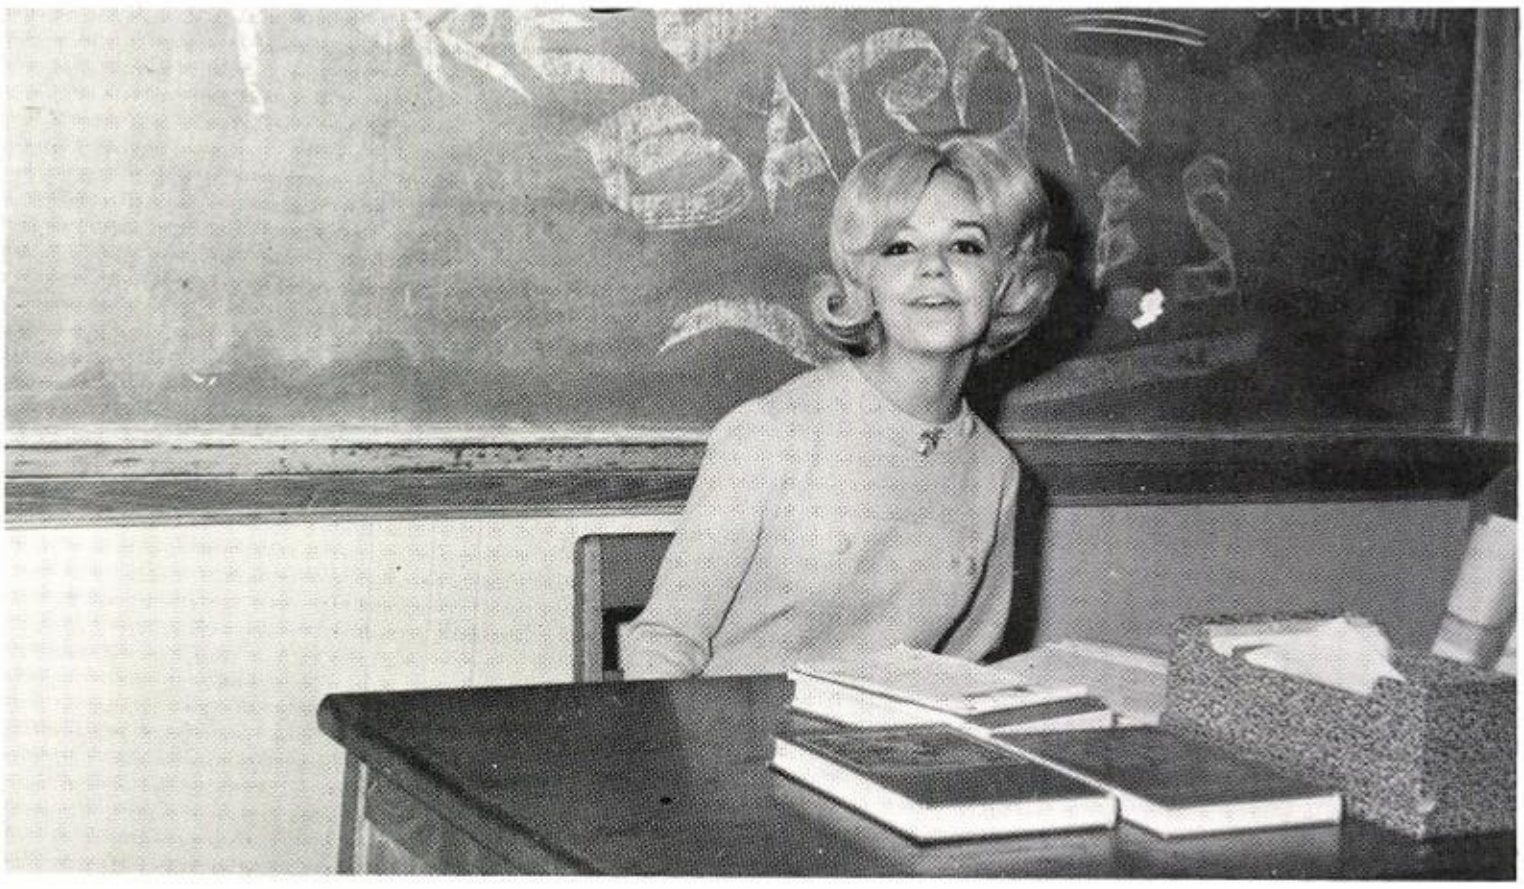
Carla Cox displays picture of an aztec god.

Mr. Brumbaugh displays relief at the end of a long day with Spanish classes.

Sponsor, Mrs. Rushing, finds Spanish meetings exciting.

DER DEUTSHE VEREIN

GERMAN CELEBRATIONS HIGHLIGHT MEETING

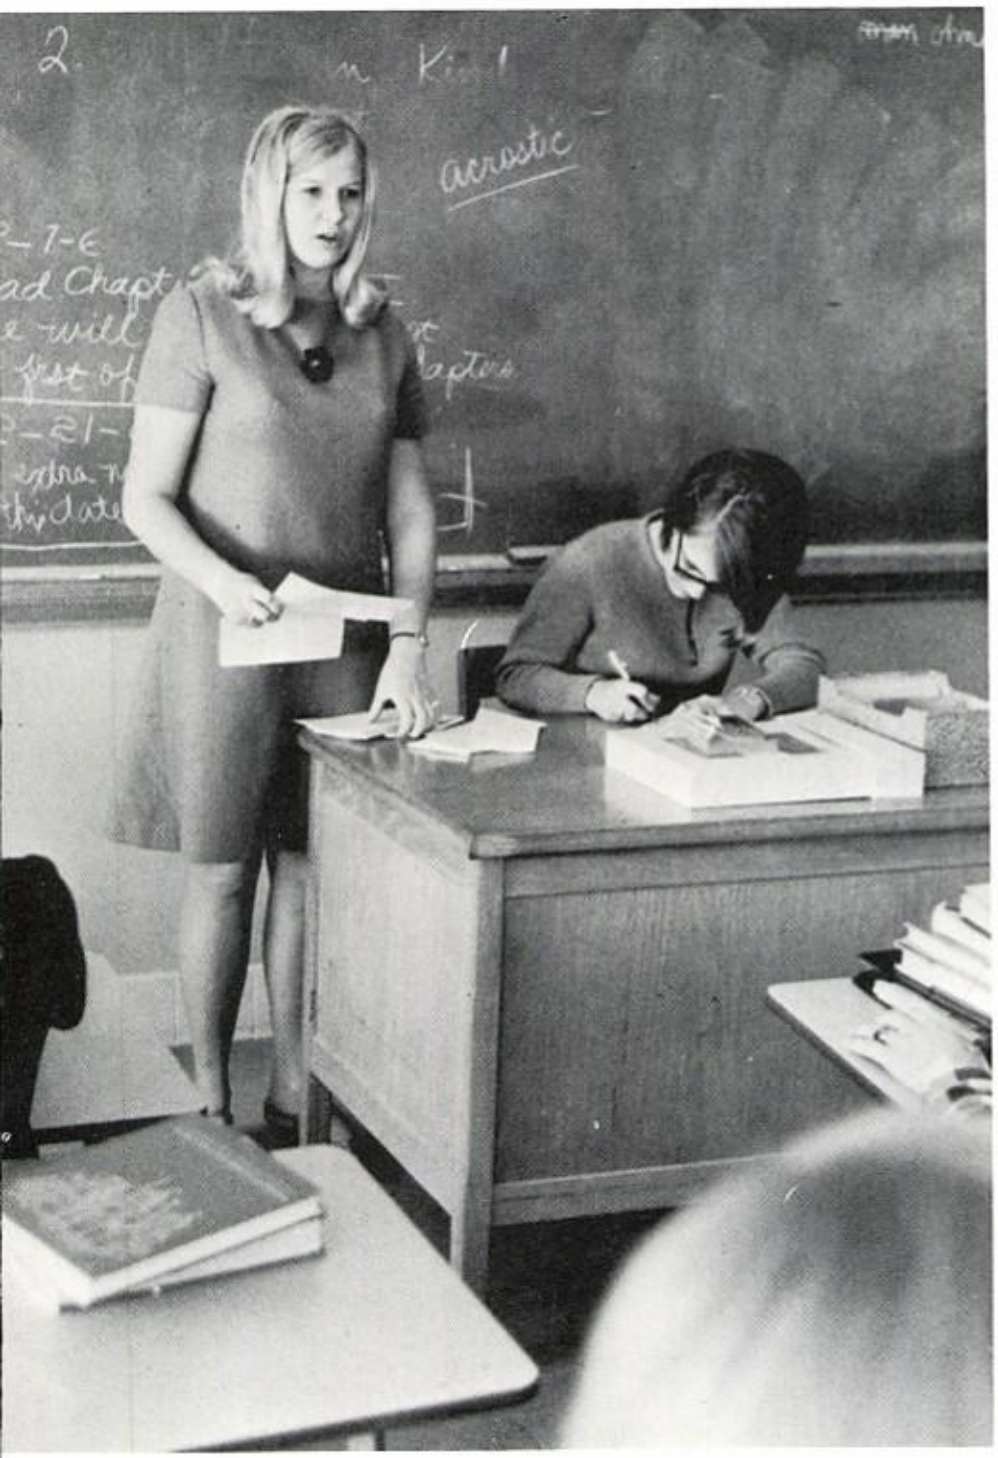


The Red Baron of the German Club, Miss Henenberg, calls the meeting to order.

Members of the club listen closely to the speakers.

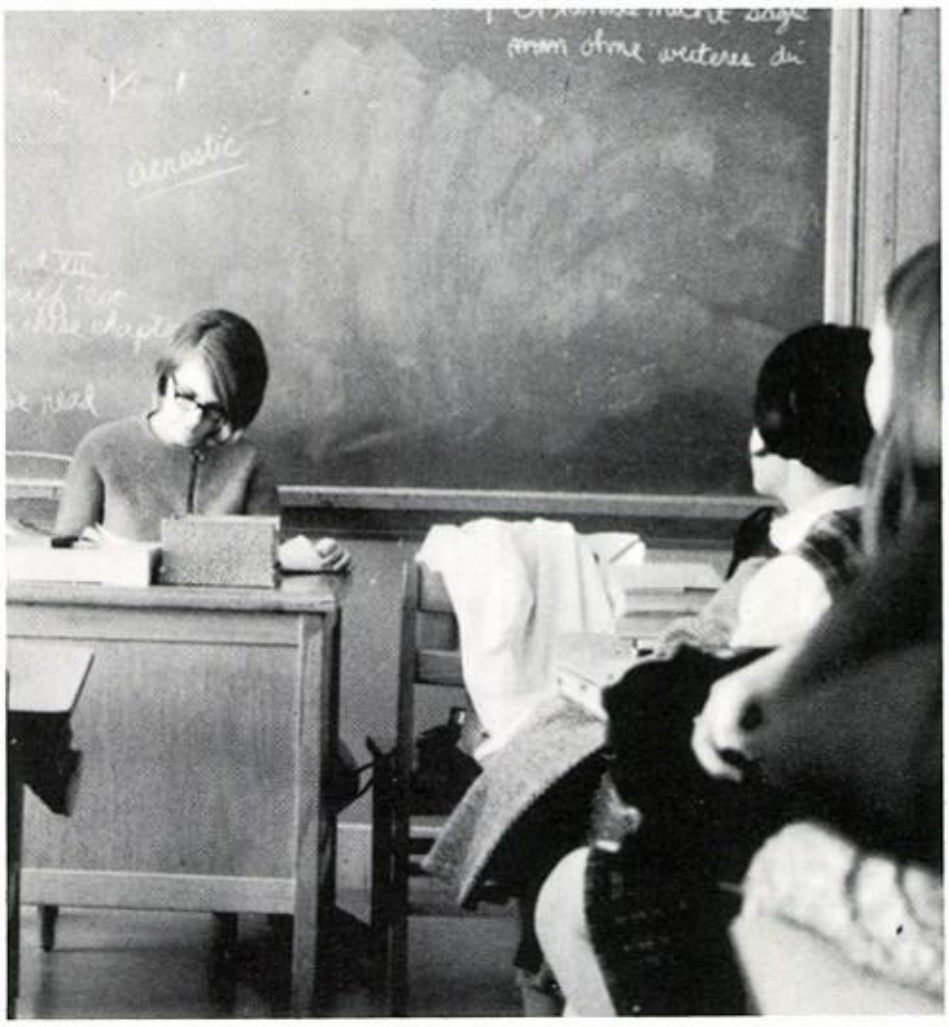
Authentic German picnics, Non-Capitulation Day celebrations and German Christmas parties have highlighted the meetings of the Bryan Adams Der Deutsche Verein. Second and fourth Wednesdays of every month in room 215, sponsor Miss Henenberg, calls the German Club to order. The thirty three members are headed by President Janie Olson, Vice-President David Dixon, Secretary Edna Harvey and Publicity Chairman Debbie Braff.

Any student taking German this year or anyone interested in learning of German cultures is invited to join Der Deutsche Verein.



President Janie Olson introduces a speaker.

Members listen attentively at a Der Deutsche Verein meeting.



Edna Hanvey, secretary, takes the minutes at an important meeting.

LES ELITES

SPEAKERS RELAY CUSTOMS OF FRANCE

Lois Alexander practices her French before fellow member Carolyn Cooley.

A French chef could be visiting for a demonstration of gourmet food or the members could be seeing a French movie starring Marcel Marceau at French Club meetings. Members also take side trips to French Restaurants or to French plays appearing in Dallas.

An annual candy sale helps the expense of each student's trip to the French Symposium at San Antonio in January. The Symposium, a competitive convention, consists of different French groups around Texas.

Each member of the Les Elites attempts to familiarize himself with each aspect of present day France and its language.

The officers for Les Elites are: President Joe Long; Vice-Presidents Karen Erxleben, Debby Tanner; Treasurer Steve Norton; Secretary Kay Lancaster; Historian Judy Dauterive and their reporter is Lois Alexander. The sponsors are Mrs. Marlys Wolfe and Mrs. Carol Chadwick.

Refreshments draw a large French Club crowd during intermission meeting.

Mrs. Hathaway, who spent one and a half years in France, sings for the French club.

Lynette Elliott speaks French to annual staff photographer.

The French Club gathers for an informal meeting in the chorus room.

Mrs. Chadwick chats with the speaker.

JUNIOR CLASSICAL LEAGUE

STUDENTS BECOME SLAVES

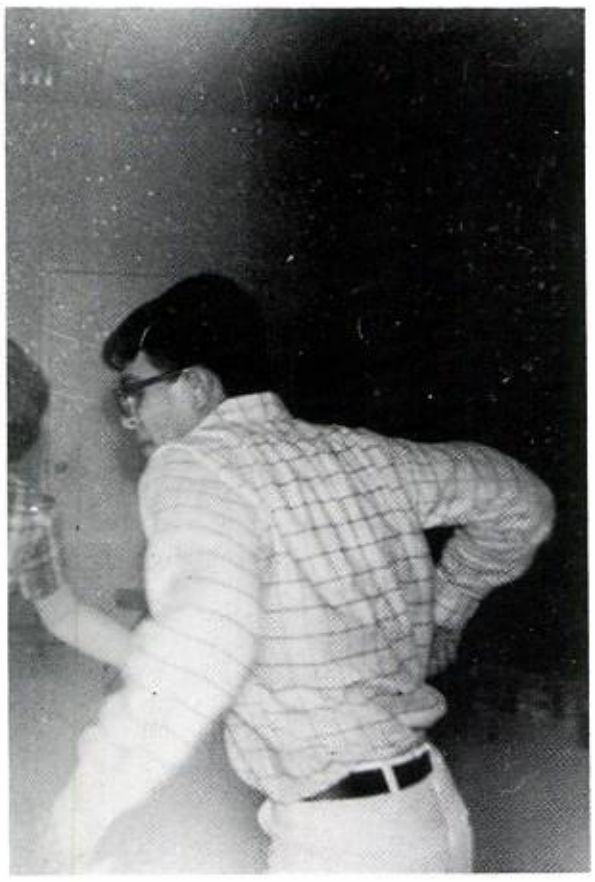
Beware the Ides of March! On this day, members of the Latin Club don their togas and sandals as they prepare to attend their annual banquet. Girls and boys alike bid for slaves as they are auctioned off. These slaves serve their masters during the week and are finally released at the end of the banquet. The money from the auction goes for sponsored activities of the club.

Other activities include another banquet at the beginning of the year for members to become acquainted; and a bake sale raising money enables members to attend the annual convention in Austin at the end of March. The participants in the statewide convention gather at Reagan High School in the state capital. The itinerary for the two days contains a tour of the University of Texas, a visit to the Capitol at night and various contests on Saturday. Sponsor is Mrs. Virginia Barnes.

Sponsor Mrs. Virginia Barnes is presented a corsage by the Junior Classical League.

Latin club members find time to leave the study of Latin.

Group parts are looked over by members of the Junior Classical League.



Member David Gonzales shows Latin Club members the real way to dance the Bugaloo.

Party by Junior Classical League is highlighted by a few moments of dancing.

The Y-Teen group takes children downtown for the movie.

Y-TEENS

INTEREST OF COMMUNITY PROMOTED

Children have become the primary interest of Y-Teens. In October Angels, Inc. had a Halloween party. Members also took two children from the Salvation Army and bought them about $50 worth of clothes. At Christmas the Y-Teens adopted one child and bought him toys.

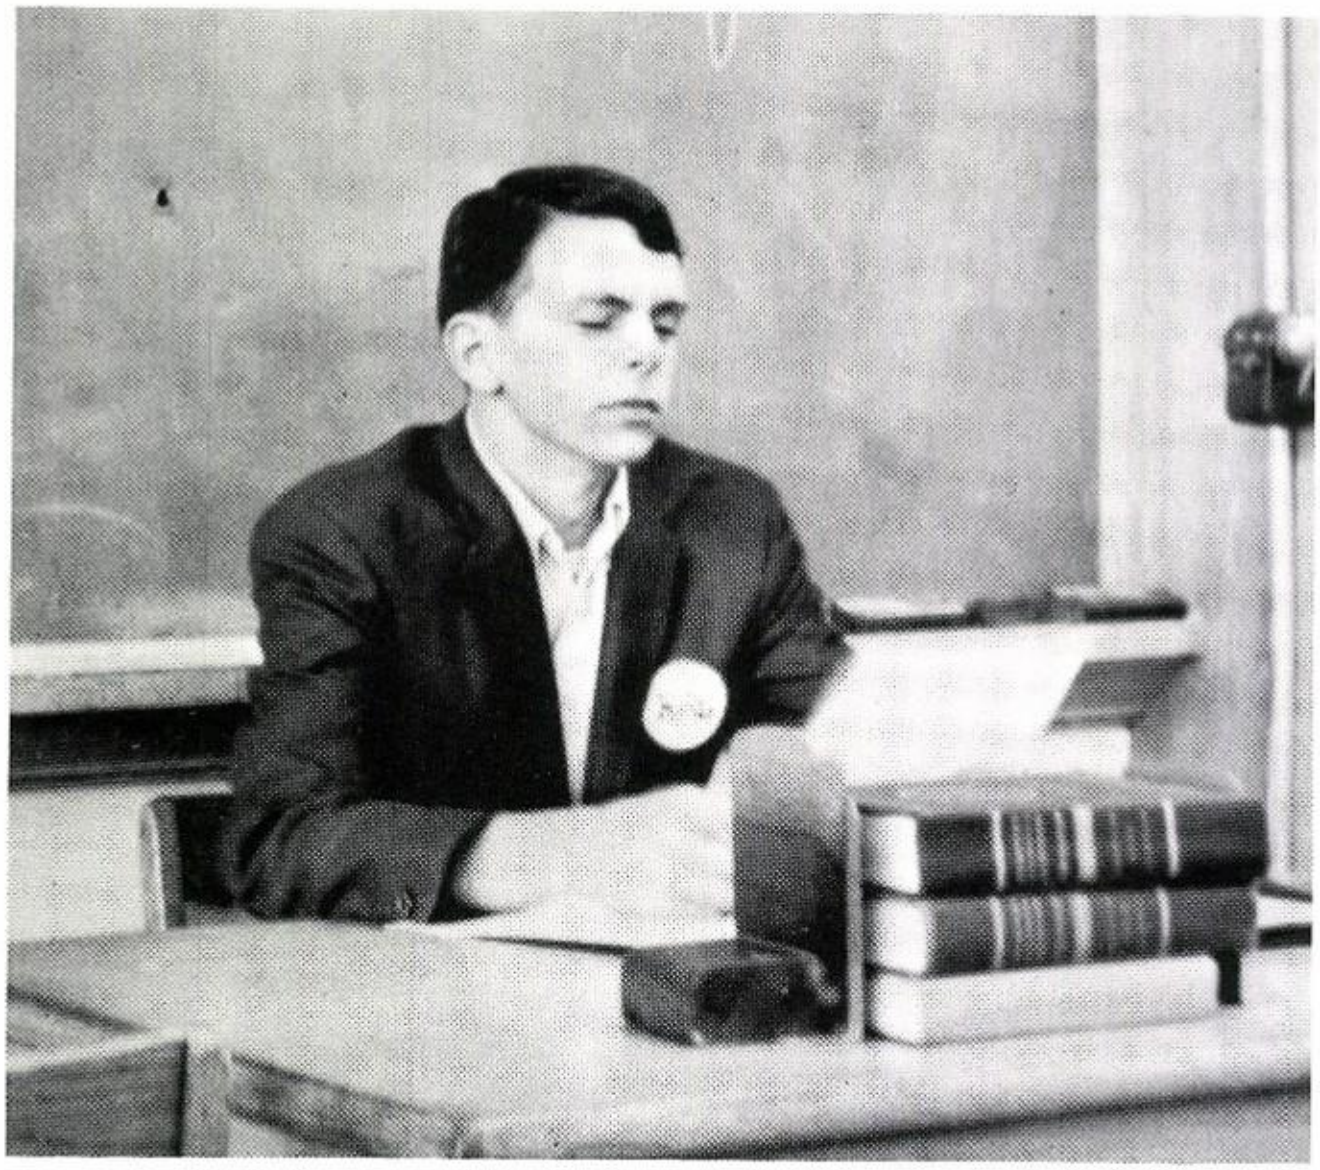
Some of their other activities include the World Fellowship Convention held for city-wide Y-Teen organizations. Because there are Y-Teens all over the world, each Y-Teen club selects a certain country to represent. Bryan Adams' Y-Teen chose Holland and made small Dutch hats and fudge. They used the profit from the sale of these articles to support the YWCA, with which Y-Teens are affiliated.

Children from Angels, Inc. smile for annual photographer during Halloween Party given by Y-Teens.

Y-Teens pose during Halloween Party with sponsor Mrs. Judy Walling.

HALLOWEEN PARTY GIVEN BY Y-TEENS

Y-Teen party is enjoyed by member Janis Carter.



Guest speaker, Jay David Jorner, tells U.F.O. club of KVIL's reports on flying saucers.

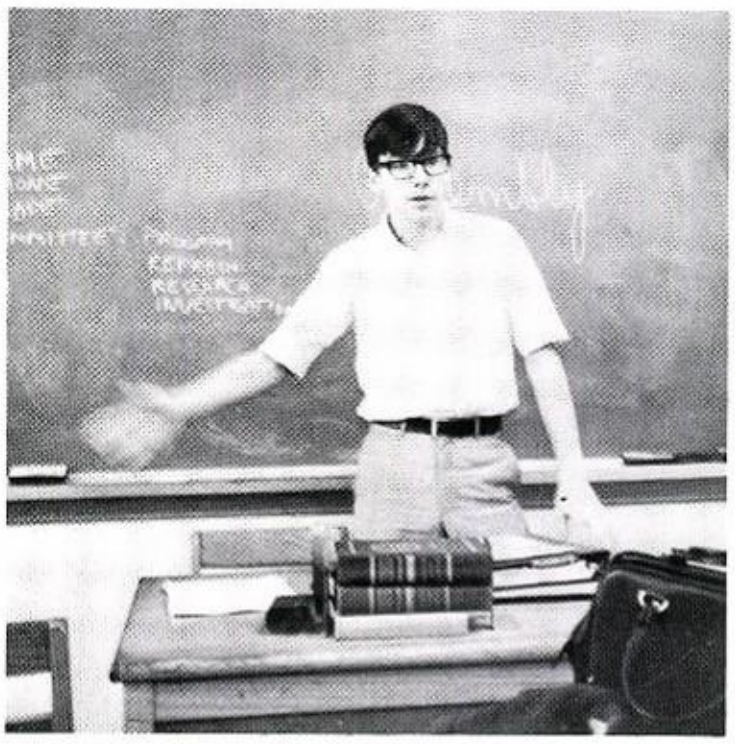
UNIDENTIFIED FLYING OBJECTS CLUB

U.F.O. SMASHES BRYAN ADAMS

Seventy people! But, you can't get seventy people in room 106. Well, that's just what the U.F.O. club had to do at its first meeting. The U.F.O. club had more people attending their first meeting than any other new club at Bryan Adams.

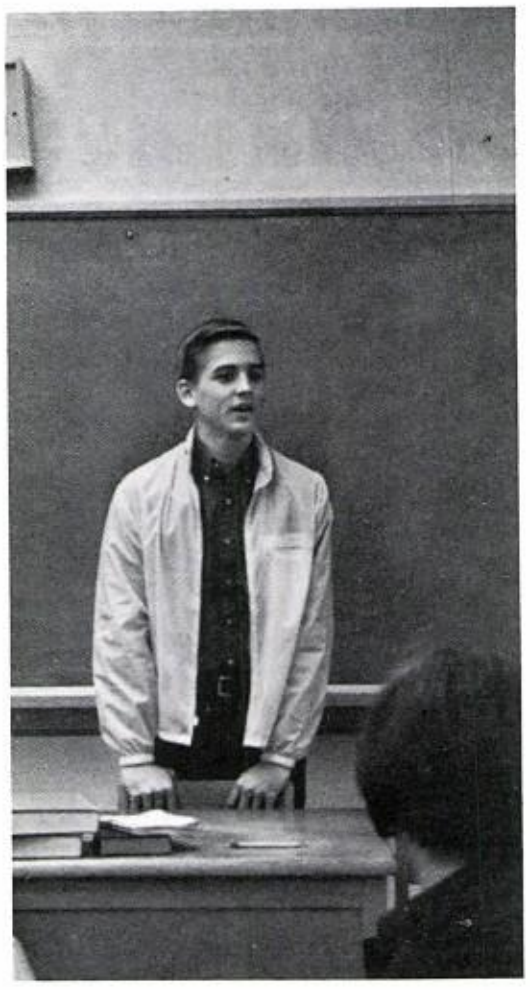
The U.F.O. club was started with the idea of finding out more about flying saucers. Sponsor Mr. Sam Lowe said he did not realize what he was getting into when he volunteered to sponsor this club.

The President, Ronald Clark, drafts speakers to tell about unscientific and scientific facts of "unidentified flying objects." The club's most advanced student speaker is Gary Moody, Vice-president. All of Bryan Adams has supported the U.F.O. club as being "out of sight".



Gary Moody illustrates a new U.F.O., the hand.

Members gather to listen to guest speaker.



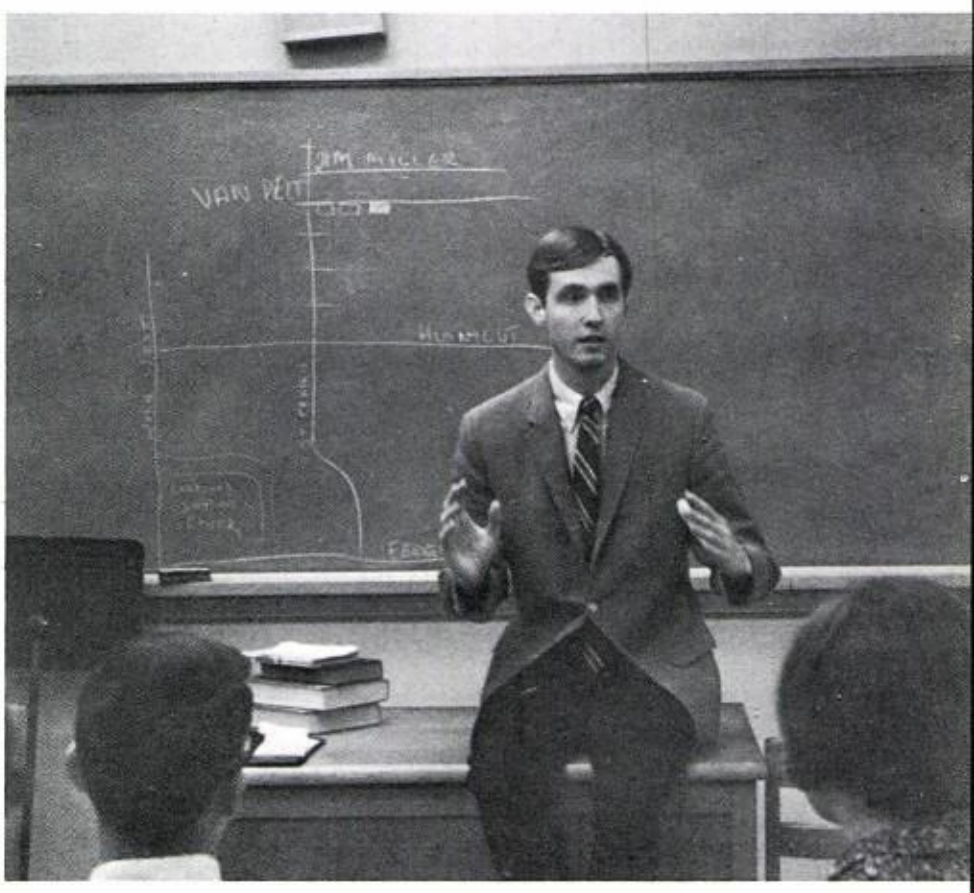
President, Steve Hardesty introduces a speaker to Youth for Christ.

YOUTH FOR CHRIST

RALLIES STRENGTHEN FAITH

Rallies and singouts make up only a part of the activities undertaken by the members of Youth for Christ. Meetings are held every Monday morning at 7:30. Anybody who gets up early on Monday mornings has to be devoted. During these meetings students enjoy programs given by fellow club members. Yearly projects include area rallies filled with talented speakers and great music every two months. The Youth for Christ is an international organization with clubs all over the world.

The officers for this year were President – Steve Hardesty, and Program Chairman – Lynn Smith. Bronson Stillwell, Kathi Brownlee, and Janie Wheeler were not really all vice-presidents, they just did the work that was left. Sponsors of the Youth for Christ are Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Maddox, and Mrs. Rodriquez.

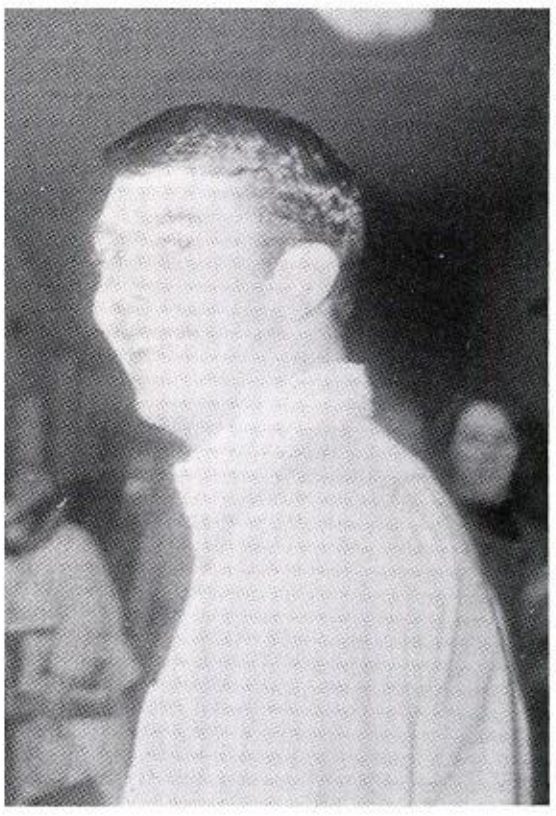


Allen Gulledge, a graduate of Bryan Adams lectures YFC.

JUNIOR CITIZENS TRAFFIC COMMISSION

J.C.T.C. PROMOTES SAFE DRIVING

J.C.T.C. members became excited when Annual photographer took their picture.



"Safe driver of the Month", Dillard Martin, receives congratulations.

Mr. Best, J.C.T.C. sponsor, is a little late to a meeting.

Zoom, screech . . ., here comes another "Safe Driver of the Month" as chosen by the Junior Citizens Traffic Commission. This club has many activities during the year, such as, a conference at S.M.U., Teen Court on Saturdays, and a scrap book turned in at the end of the year.

Pam Windham, as President, brought the early morning meetings to order on the first and third Wednesday of every month. Talou Lord, Vice-president, talked with Mr. Best, sponsor, about the club's need for more efficiency. All Student Council alternates were required to attend all meetings. This attendance was kept by Linda White, Secretary. Promotion of safety is the club's main objective.

JUNIOR RED CROSS

Mrs. Mary Ann Brown displays a smile at the Red Cross's success.

Mrs. Virginia Blair shows her surprise at colorfully decorated door.

Brightly colored costumes, gaily dancing clowns and a robed choir singing Christmas carols highlighted the Veterans Administration Christmas Show given by the Bryan Adams Junior Red Cross. The members of the club led by President Becky Faughn, and Vice-President Peggy Montgomery, also made Christmas stockings to send to children in hospitals on Christmas Day.

During the middle part of the year, Red Cross members attended a Birthday Party at Woodlawn Hospital. Here, patients were greeted by members of the club.

The club is made up of appointed homeroom representatives and students with an interest in serving one's community. Other officers in Junior Red-Cross are Publicity Chairman, Alice Odom and Secretary, Brenda Gaw. Sponsors are Mrs. Virginia Blair and Mrs. Mary Ann Brown.

Club members work on Christmas stocking project.

LIBRARY COUNCIL

COUNCIL GIVES AID TO STUDENT

Miss Fowler, the librarian, sponsors the Library Council.

Checking out books, decorating the library's bulletin boards, and shelving books are a few of the things members of the Library Council do. Besides working in the library, they must know how to cook. It is an annual custom for the Council members to give a tea for the school faculty sometime in February. The members bring cookies and drinks early in the morning, set them up in the library, and teachers come in and out all during the day.

Money is raised by having a bake sale to give an introductory tea for prospective council members coming from Hill and Gaston.

Miss Fowler, the librarian is the sponsor of the Library Council. The officers include: President – Cynthia Kuhn, Vice President – Stana Perkings, Secretary-Treasurer – Christy Muller, Historian – Carla Martin and Parliamentarian – Donna Pratz.

Members of the club include girls and a boy.

Members help in the library by shelving books.

Debby Tanner and friends sort information for the library.

PARA-MEDICAL

STUDENTS STUDY MEDICAL FIELD

Taking food, clothing, and Christmas presents to an underpriviledged family kept members of the Para-Medical Club busy during the year. Besides their projects, the members have meetings for fun, too. They gathered for a hayride at White Rock Stables, a tea honoring the Seniors and a Christmas party that was really a caroling party that the rain prevented.

Members of the club all plan to go into some part of the medical field as a career.

Sponsors are Mrs. Gurekunst and Mrs. Baker from the Woman's Medical Auxiliary and the Bryan Adams' nurses Miss Lynch and Mrs. Glasgow. The officers are: President – Jan Hornsby, Vice President – Gail Phillips, and Recording Secretary – Kathy Moore.

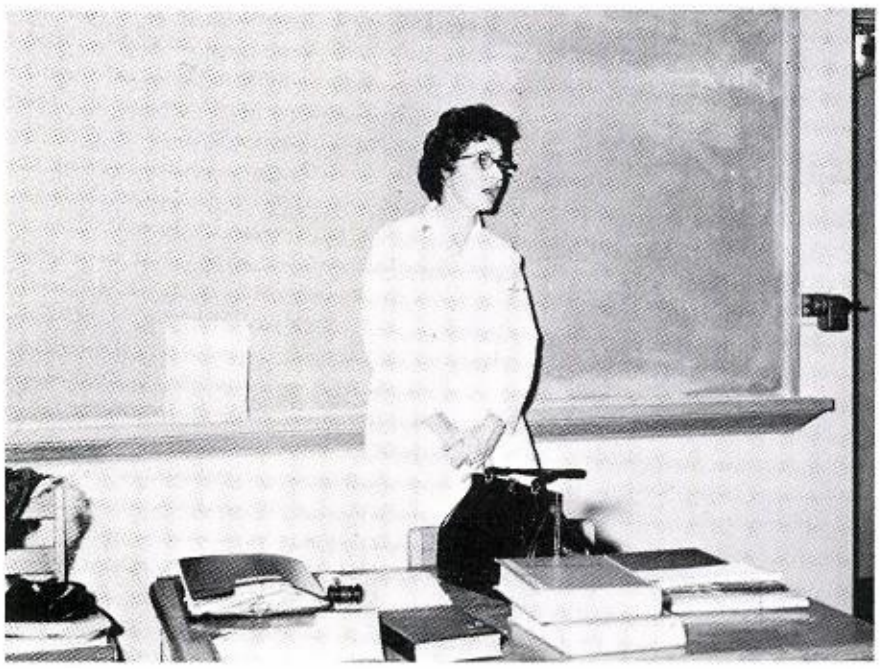
Members of Para-Medical look satisfied after good deed. (Monica Lucachek, Mrs. Glasgow, Kathy Moore, Judy Poe, and Cynthia Asher)



Mrs. Agnes Davis from Grady Vaughn School of Physical Therapy talks to Para-Medical.

PROJECTIONISTS

ALL GIRL GROUP RUNS FILMS

Just as movie producers play an important part in Hollywood films, the projectionists play an important part in Bryan Adams. Running films, making sure they are in good condition, showing the right film at the right time, and splicing the films are just a few of the duties accepted by the Projectionists.

The all girl group sacrifices its study halls to help teachers who supplement their teaching with the excellent films of the Dallas Independent School District.

In addition to their other duties, the projectionists travel around the building to run the Pixmobile units for classes who cannot be seated in the limited space of the film room.

Projectionists demonstrate how to run machine.

Projectionists do school work in the hall when not running projector.

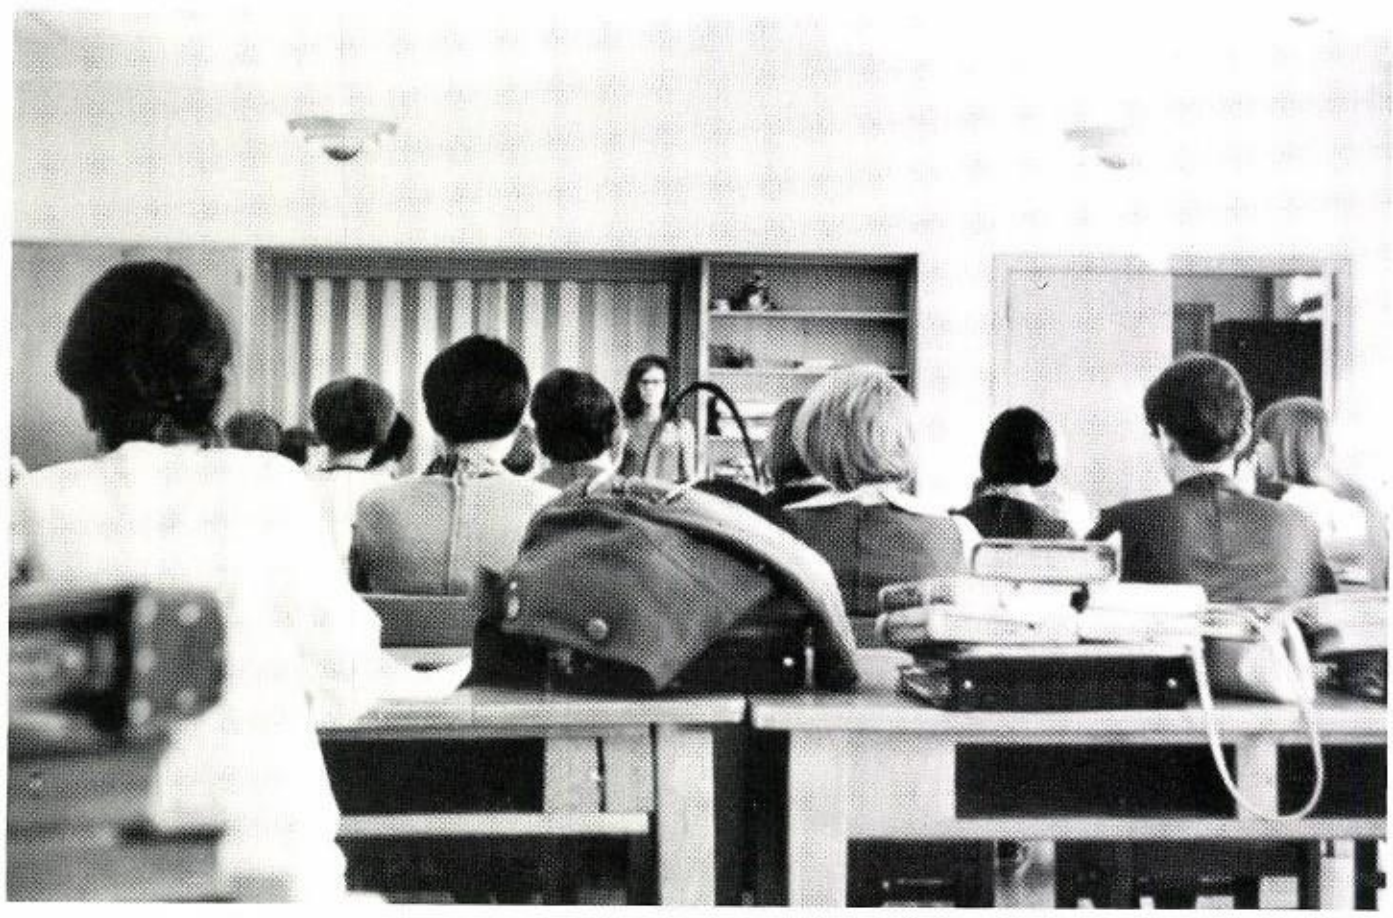
FUTURE HOMEMAKERS

HOME ECONOMICS CAREER AHEA

Homemaking teacher Mrs. Pat Withrow displays joy at success of Christmas teachers tea.

The sounds of tupperware dish tops popping and sounds of excited girls filled the homemaking room as Future Homemakers of America prepared to sell tupperware dishes to prospective customers. President Nancy Lipscomb and Vice-President Patsy Mayo briefed each girl on methods of selling and order taking.

During the early part of the year fashion coordinator Jack Peters gave a demonstration and speech on correct clothing coordination and styling. Leading the Future Homemakers of America are President Nancy Lipscomb and Vice-President Patsy Mayo, Secretary Linda Harris and Treasurer Kathy Mellor. Sponsors of Future Homemakers are homemaking teachers Mrs. Pat Withrow, Mrs. Mary Brown, Mrs. Virginia Blair, Mrs. Atkins and Mrs. Cambell.



President Patsy Mayo gives discussion on the sale of tupperware dishes.

TOR MEMBERS

Mrs. Mary Brown, Homemaking teacher, watches on as student Becky Faughn works on project.

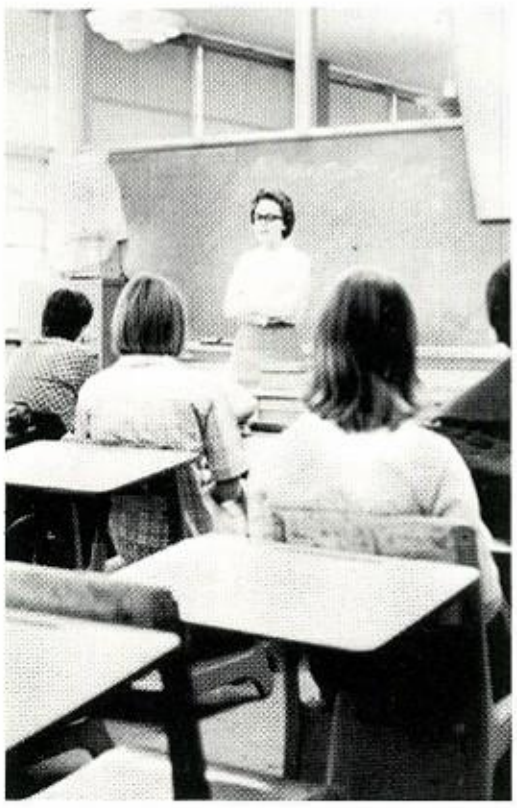
Students enjoy homemaking skills both in and out of class.

Future Homemakers members enjoy guest speaker Jack Peters during afternoon meeting.

Jan Romack checks supply of food during teachers Christmas Tea.

FUTURE TEACHERS

CAREERS OF SCHOOL WORK AHEAD



Guest speaker from Light House for the Blind gives instructions on teaching to the blind.

Early morning conferences, grading tests, and student teaching are the many events that will someday greet the Future Teachers of Bryan Adams.

Besides preparing to be teachers, the club engages in many outside activities. During Texas Education Week which was held in the fall, the members gave an all day tea for the faculty and administration of Bryan Adams. While open house was going on, most members acted as room hostesses for different rooms. Robin Chambers is head of the Future Teachers. Sponsor for the Future Teachers is Mrs. Luella Cathey.

Future Teachers club members and sponsor Mrs. Luella Cathey are attentive to present day teaching.

FUTURE SECRETARIES

SECRETARIAL JOBS; A BRIGHT FUTURE

resident Myra Benner speaks the girls of Future Secre-ries.

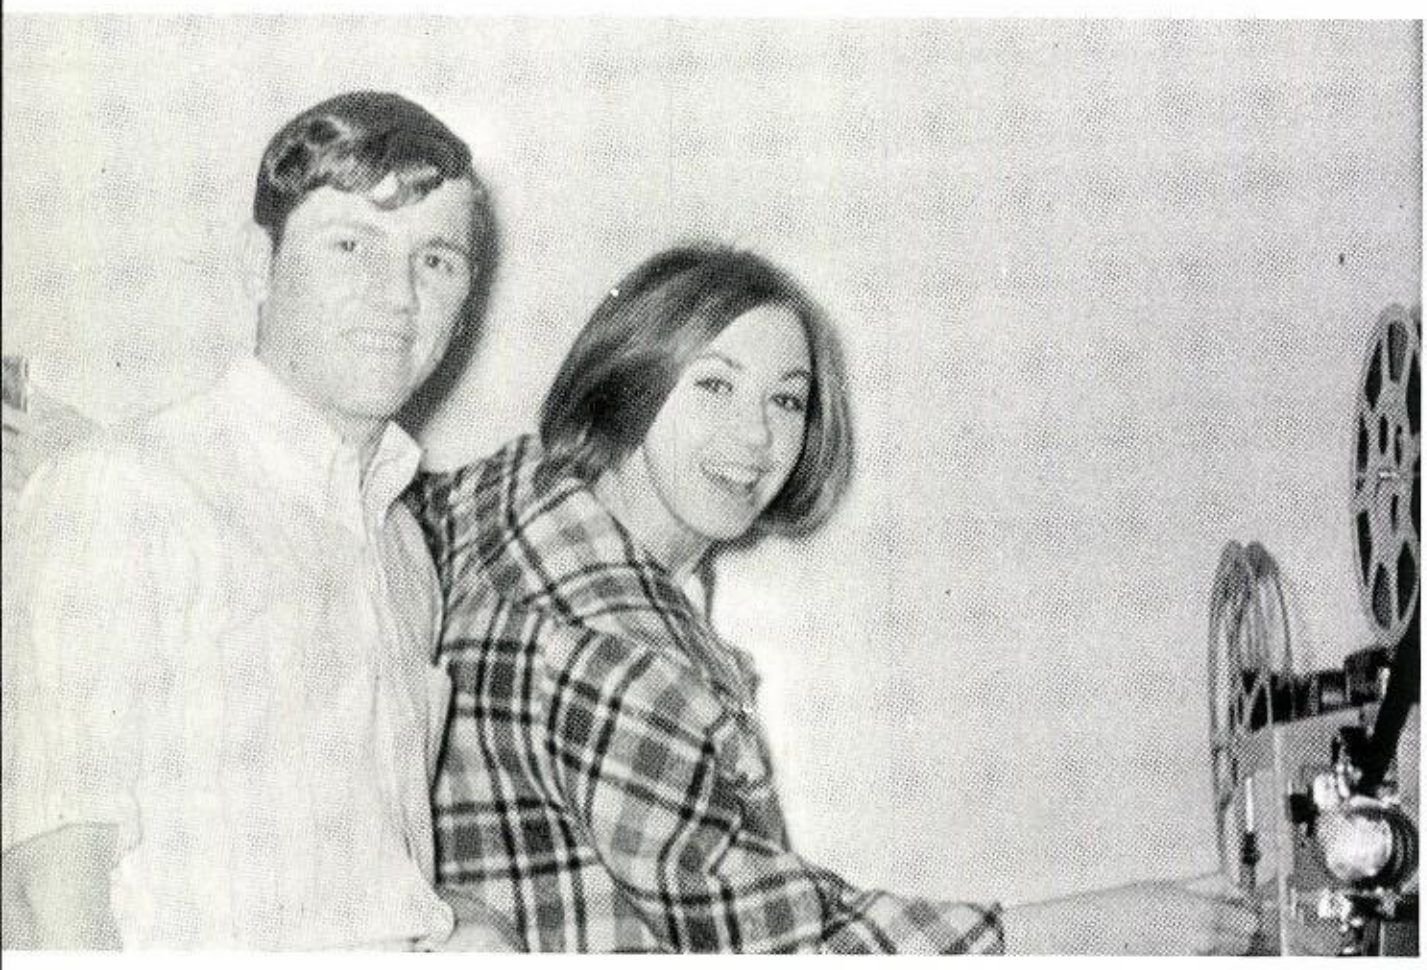
Secretarial work is discussed among members of the club and their President.

The field most open to girls today is in the area of secretarial work. Typing, filing, and assisting the boss are daily activities faced by an executive secretary of today. The Future Secretaries of Bryan Adams keep their practices up by taking available courses in bookkeeping, typing, office practice, shorthand and some form of math.

This year's President of Future Secretaries is Myra Benner. Sponsor of the club is Mrs. Vera McCauley. This year the Future Secretaries sold candy to patrons for charity purposes.

Shorthand and dictation are major skills to learn in secretarial work.

FUTURE CLUBS



Chuck Reid and Jackie Russell get film ready for Future Red Raiders.

Miss Ann Gibbs poses as sponsor of the Future Mustangs.

FUTURE CLUBS PROMOTE FUN

Future Texas Tech Red Raiders wait for film of Tech campus to begin.

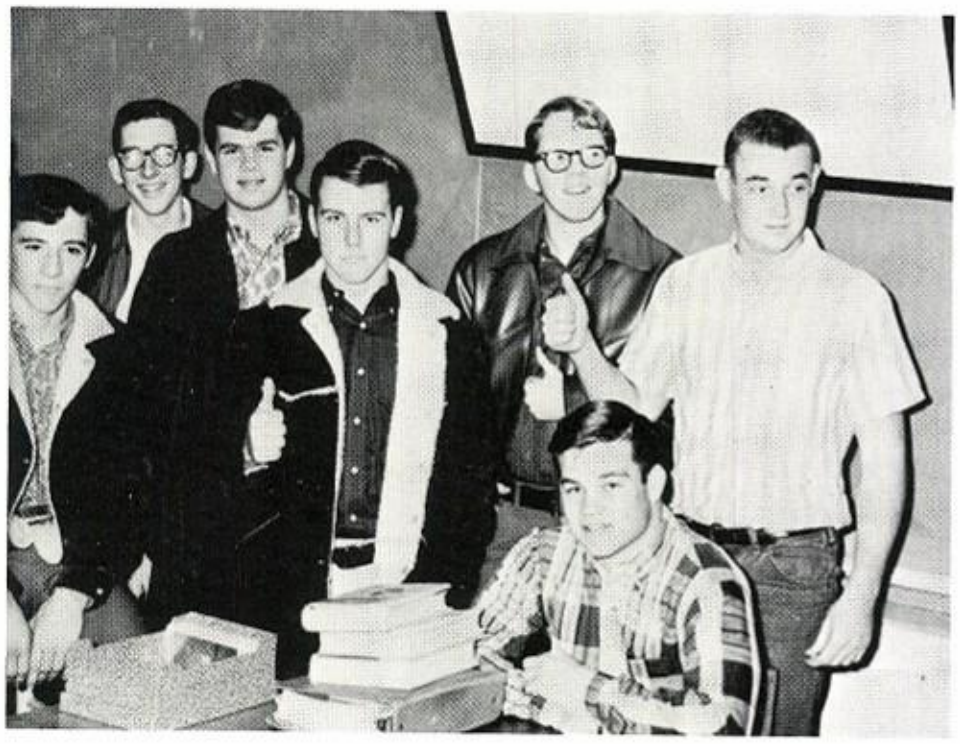
Future Mustangs and Future Longhorns compete with each other to see who can make the loudest noise.

Mike Swinford steals purses from feminine members at Future Longhorn meeting.

Future Mustangs display broad smiles at afternoon meeting. In the foreground are Tom Usrey, Phil Cuny, Paul Oswalt, Mark Harris, Charles McDonald, and Doug Wren.

COLLEGE CLUBS INFORM STUDENTS

Carol Edger, Gail Phillips, Janet Painter, and Pattie Peitzch discuss future football games of the "Bears".

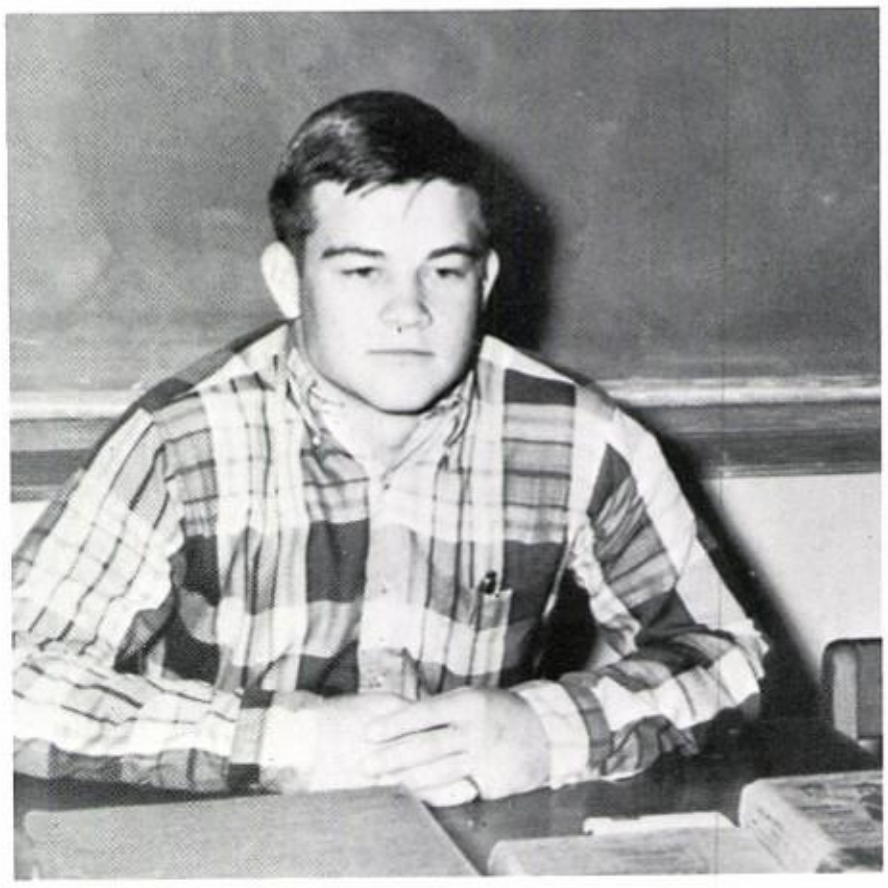


Future Aggies, Rusty Dawney, Joe Gibbins, Troy Praiter, Ray Holbrook, Mac Bean, Tom Stewart, and Lloyd Smith, pose for a picture.

Jackie Berrit talks to Future Baylor Bears about Baylor's campus.

. . . And today we have the Texas Tech Red Raiders playing the Baylor Bears. The Future College clubs are enthusiastic football fans, that intend to support their future "institutes of higher learning."

The Future Aggies, Bears, Longhorns, Mustangs, and Raiders all have early morning meetings, when meetings are needed. At these meetings, the members listen to speakers, look at slides, have refreshments, or catch up on the latest gossip. The purpose of the Future clubs is to inform students of college life and of college professors. The presidents of these clubs arrange for speakers from the different colleges.



Lloyd Smith, President of the Future Aggies, poses for a picture.

Future Baylor Bears seem amused at the morning's happenings.

LITERARY SOCIETY ACTIVELY BEGINS

Linda Walker, Bob Cohen, Carol McDonald, and Fran Schlein laugh at having their picture taken.

The Literary Society has been extremely active this year. This recently formed club was organized for the purpose of stimulating intellectual growth, promoting scholastic advancement, and encouraging provocative discussion.

This club is respected for its interesting programs, including a discussion of modern poetry's Lawrence Ferlinghetti by Rev. John Danhof; a review of Graham Greene's novel The Power and the Glory (this review was by Carol Nabb, a professor at S.M.U.); and a study of existentialism led by Robert Bennet, philosophy professor at El Centro.

Officers are: President, Carol McDonald; Vice-president, Lynda Walker; Secretary, Fran Schlein; and Treasurer, Bob Cohen. The sponsor of the Literary Society is Mrs. Harryette Stover.

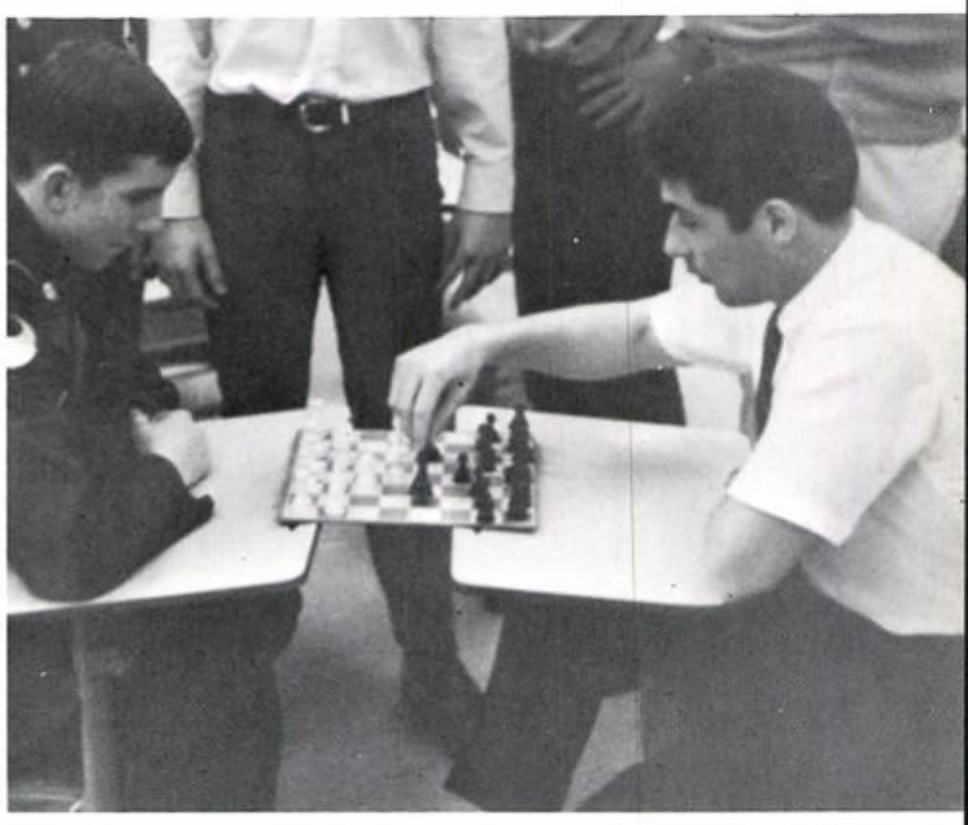
Fran Schlein, Lynda Walker, and Bob Cohen surround Mrs. Stover, club sponsor.

Chess Club members assemble around Sponsor Mr. Perry Berns and playing mate.

CHESS CLUB

CHESS CLUB KINGS CHECKMATE

Kings, Queens, Rooks, Bishops, Knights, and Pawns! These pieces start off the fascinating game of Chess. Conquering the game of Chess this year is Mr. Perry Berns and his group of chess players. After school on Mondays, Tuesdays, and Wednesdays, the Bryan Adams Chess Club holds its concentrating games. The main object in playing chess is to force the surrender of the opposing man's king. Students display their ability to think quickly and to make correct decisions. Meetings are held in room 148. During the year, members play chess against other schools, other chess mates, and with the sponsor.



Chess members find playing chess a very solemn experience to undergo.

ICE SKATING

COLISEUM ENTERTAINS SKATERS

Slipping, sliding, and falling are familiar characteristics of the Bryan Adams Ice Skating Club. Special activities planned are a Christmas party and a banquet at the end of the year. Members enjoy skating (or learning how) every other Thursday.

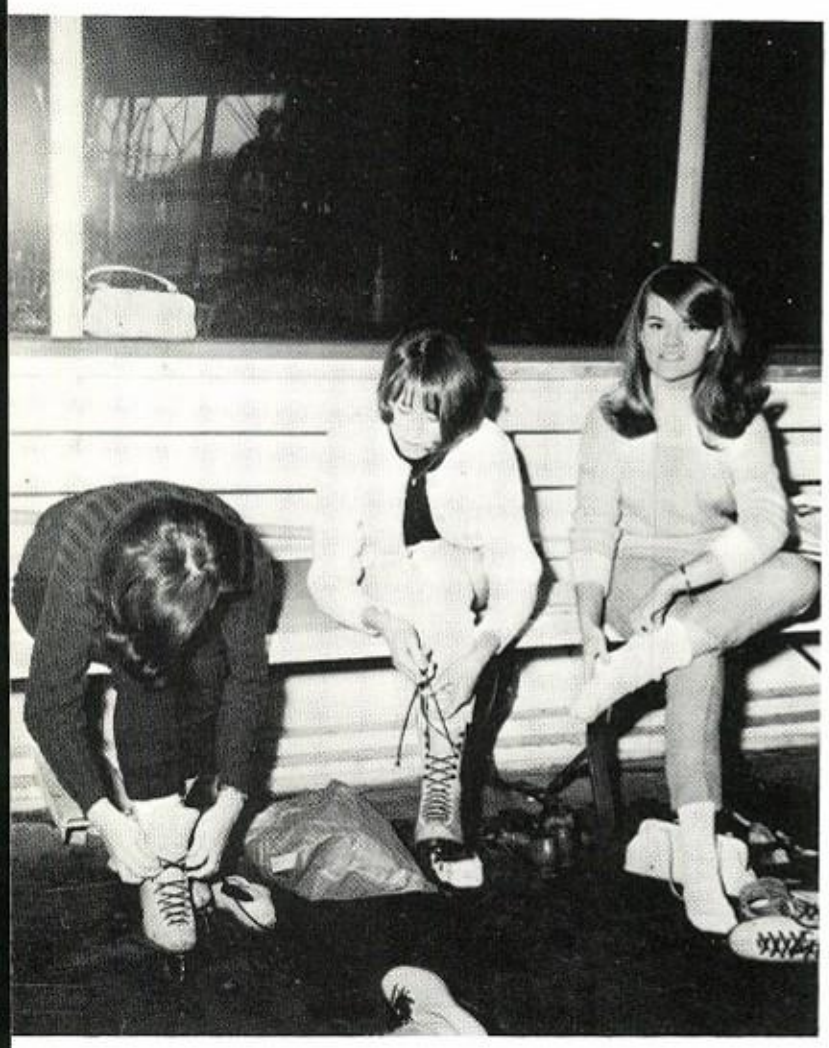
With a membership of thirty-seven, the list of officers are as follows: President, Birdie Sutherland; Vice-President, Linda Williams; and Secretary, Tenesa Combs.

Ice skating provides students with healthy exercise and exciting fun with friends. The sponsor who supervises skating is Mrs. Juanitta Cunningham.

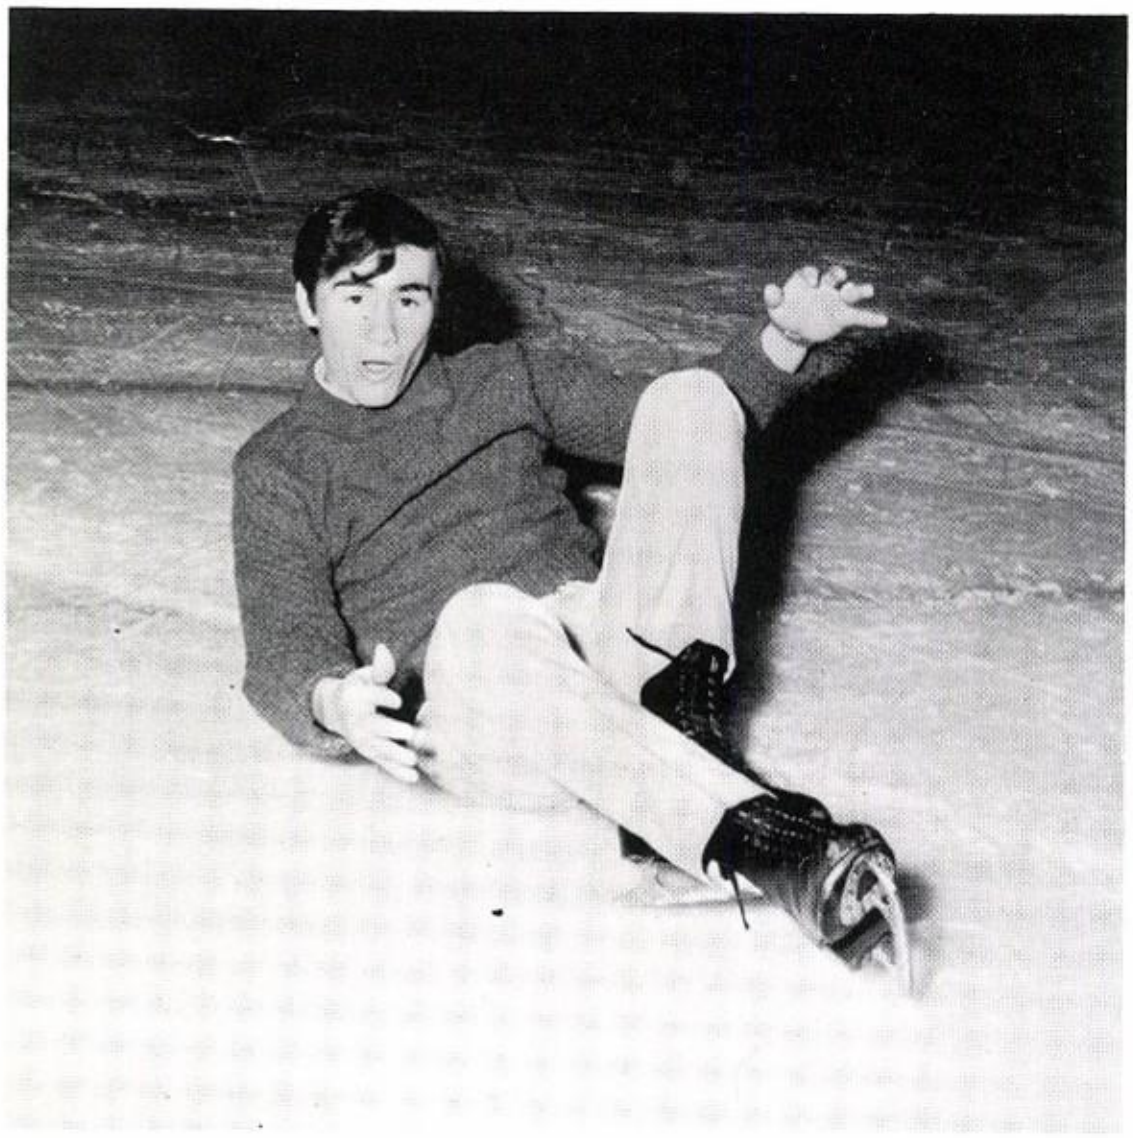
This year, the Bryan Adams Ice Skating Club skates at the Livestock Coliseum which is the home of the Dallas Black Hawks.

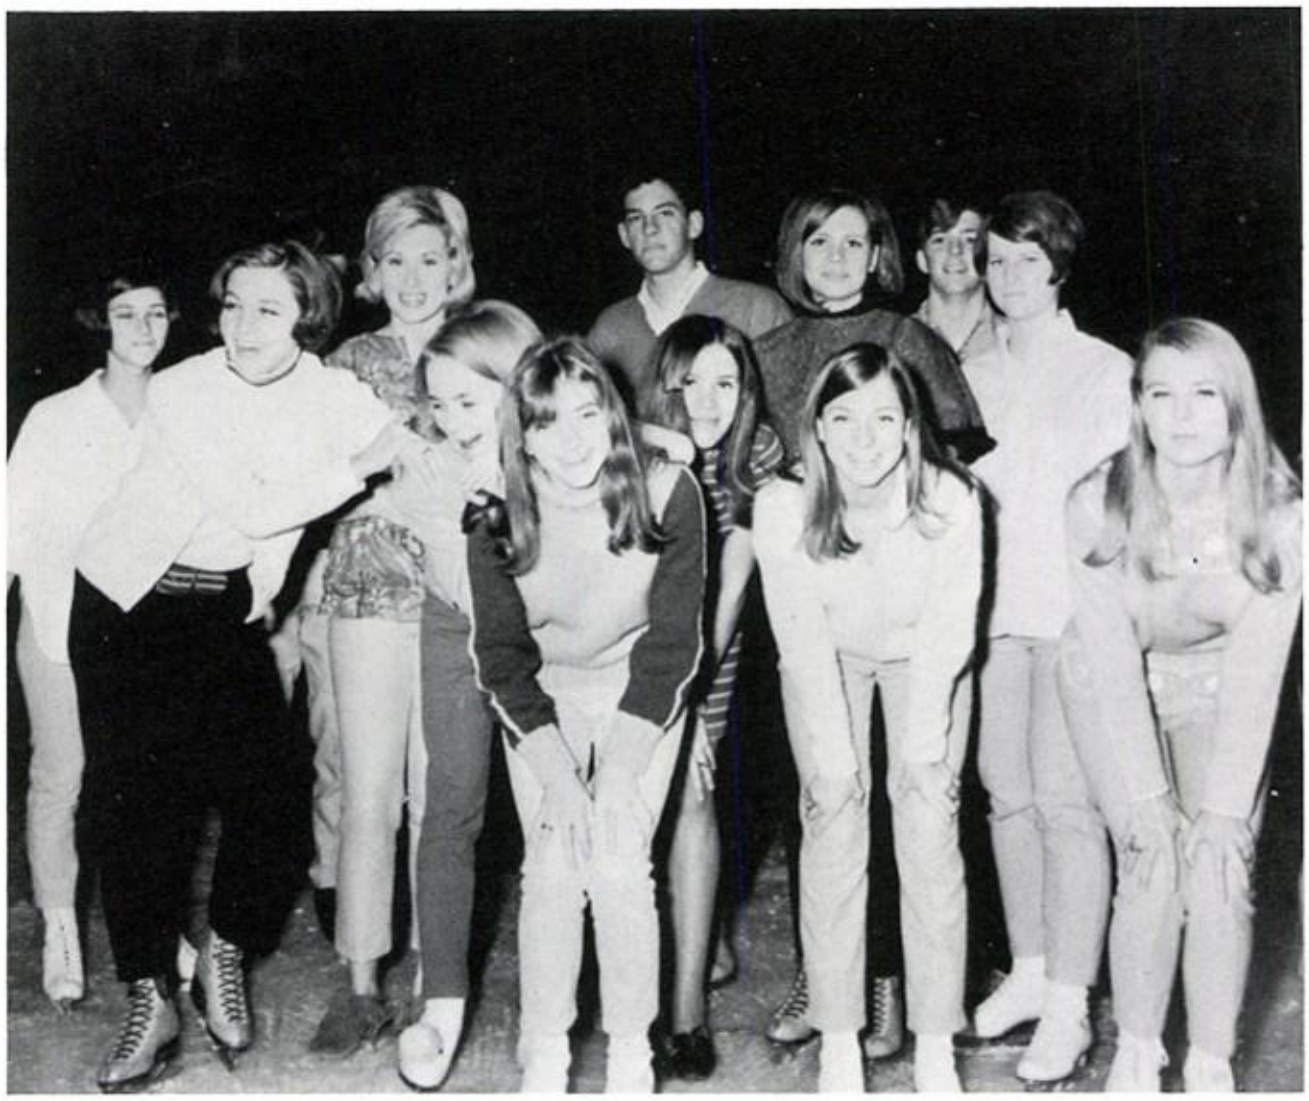
"How did you talk me into going skating?" says Frances Williams to Janet Painter.

"Are we going to skate or sit here thirty more minutes?" says Rita Randall.



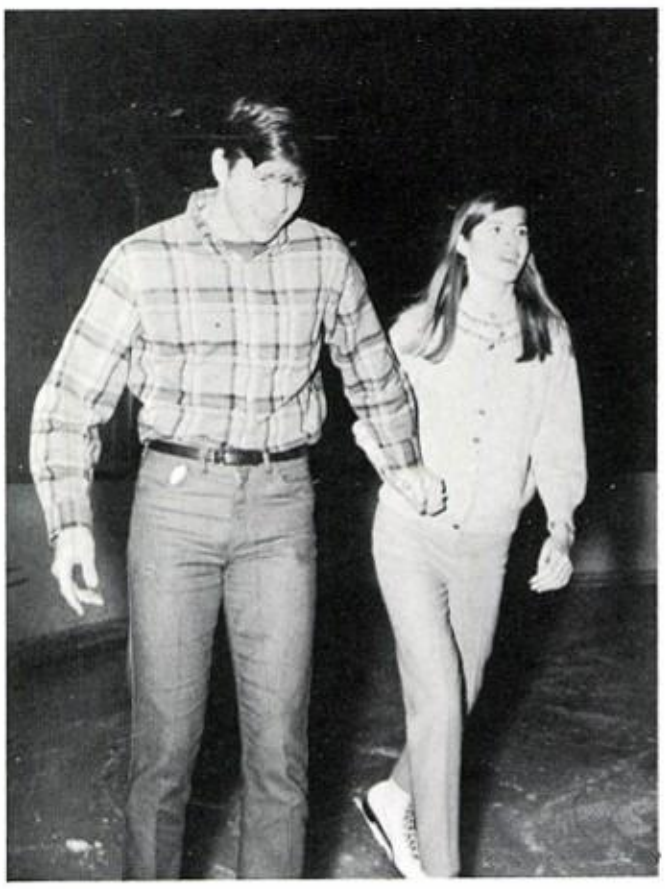
"I skate better on my feet!" says Tim Scoggins.





Will the best skater please stand?

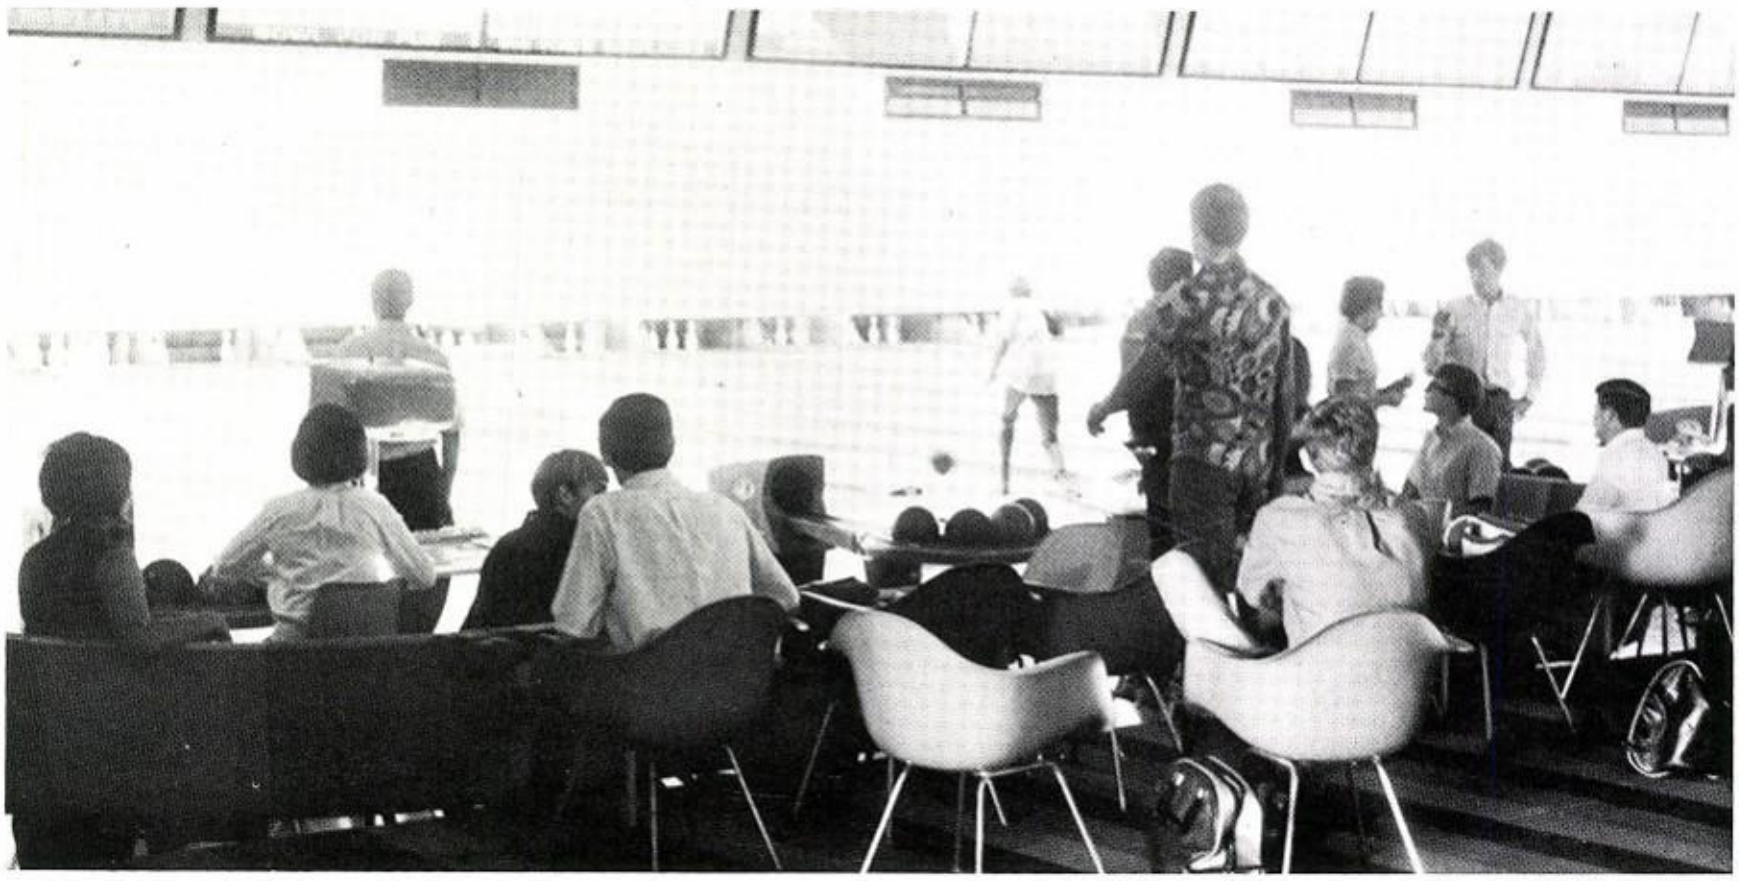
Where are you taking me, Bill?



Mrs. Cunningham, sponsor, supervises skating.

BOWLING CLUB

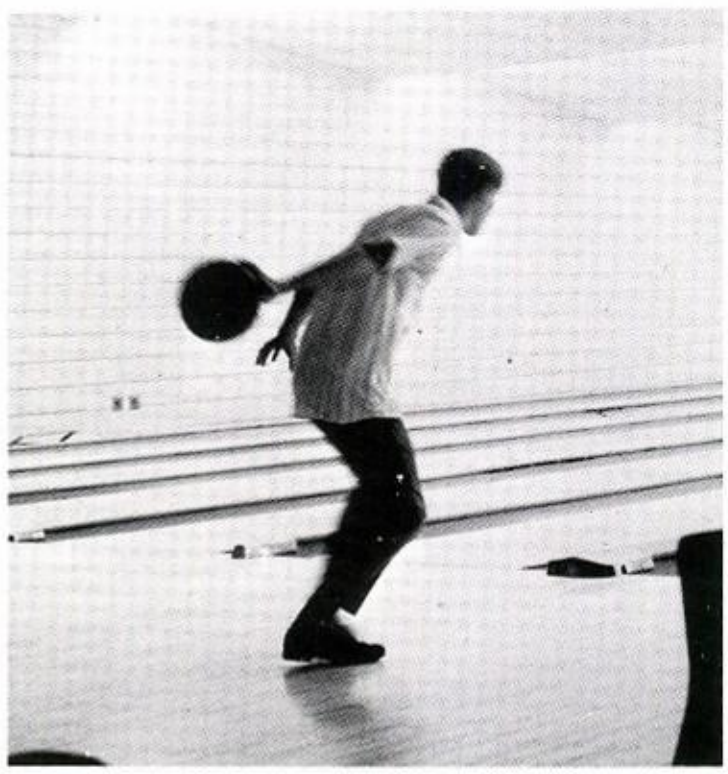
TEN-PINS OFFER EXERCISE AND ENJOYMENT



Club members watch as instructor demonstrates perfect form.

Exciting competition and friendly rivalry constitute enjoyment for the Bryan Adams Bowling Club. Members improve the technique of their bowling game while meeting new friends and competing with old ones. Expert ten-pinners delight in the club-sponsored contests, and novice bowlers learn more about strikes, spares, and those 7-10 splits.

Club sponsors, Mrs. Peggy Sansing and Mrs. Barbara Rush, insist that the meetings at Big Town Bowlanes offer exercise, enjoyment, and physical evidence that theirs is one of the most "active" clubs in school.



Student takes careful aim.

With arms in an upright position, Bowling club member steps forward and . . .

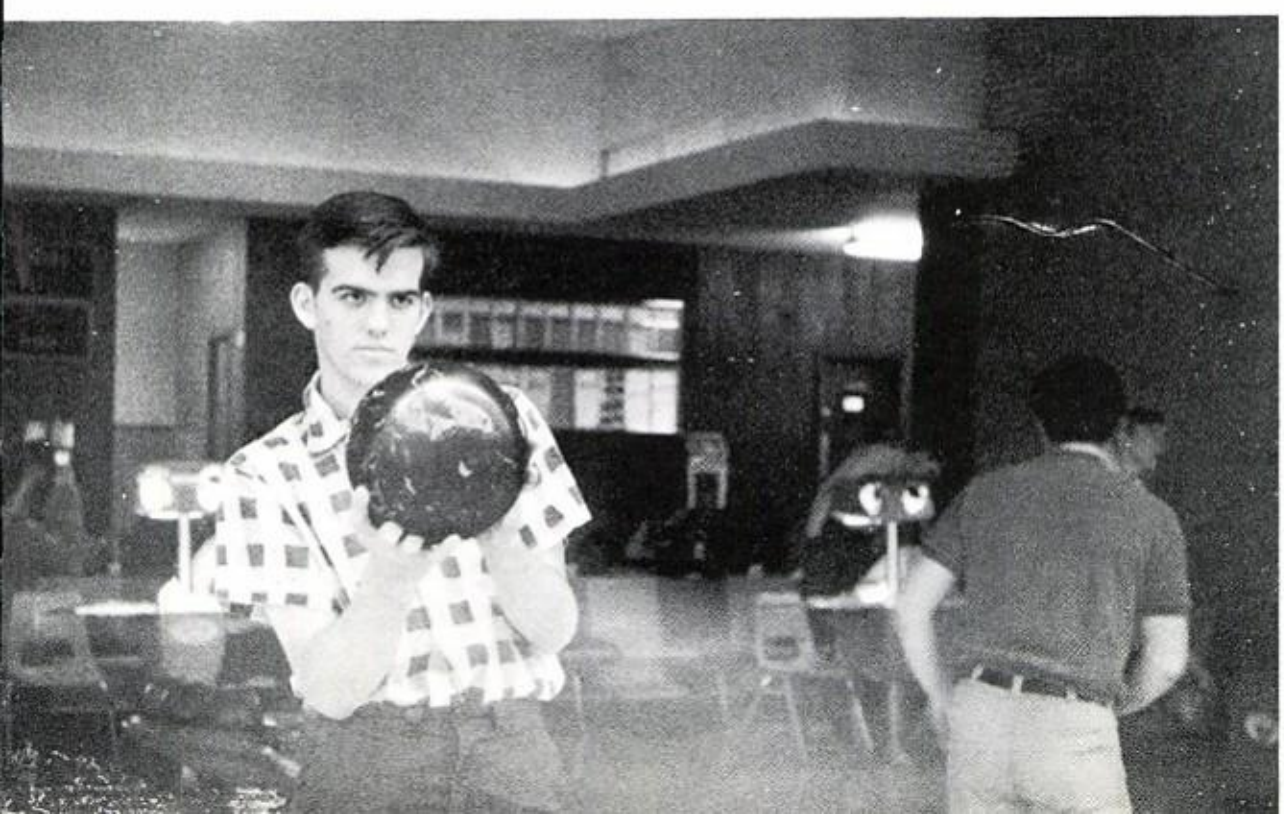
Clifton White exhibits his bowling form at an afternoon meeting.



Bill Kilpatrick sizes up the pins and ponders his strategy for winning.

NEWSPAPER

CHRONICLE STAFF CHOSEN TOPS

Editor, Katie Weidler, looks at the newspaper with a sense of accomplishment.

Any event that might have happened this year was written about in the 1968 Cougar Chronicle. The Bryan Adams Newspaper Staff put out special issues for Homecoming, Valentine's Day, Christmas, and Easter.

Miss Anne Voss, the Chronicle sponsor, took her staff to T.C.U. this year for an advertising convention. At this convention the news staff learned how to produce more effectively.

The Bryan Adams newspaper is printed once every two weeks. The Cougar Chronicle contains anywhere from six to twelve pages. A critical rating of the newspaper comes about every Spring when a state convention is held.

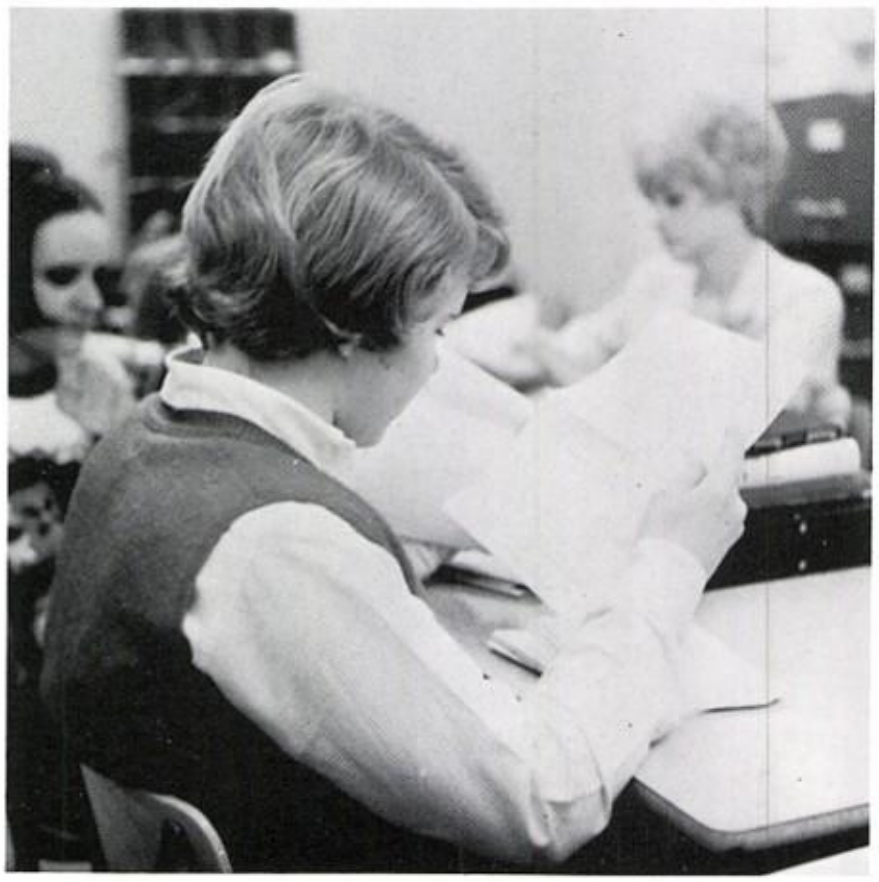
This year's editor was Katie Weidler.

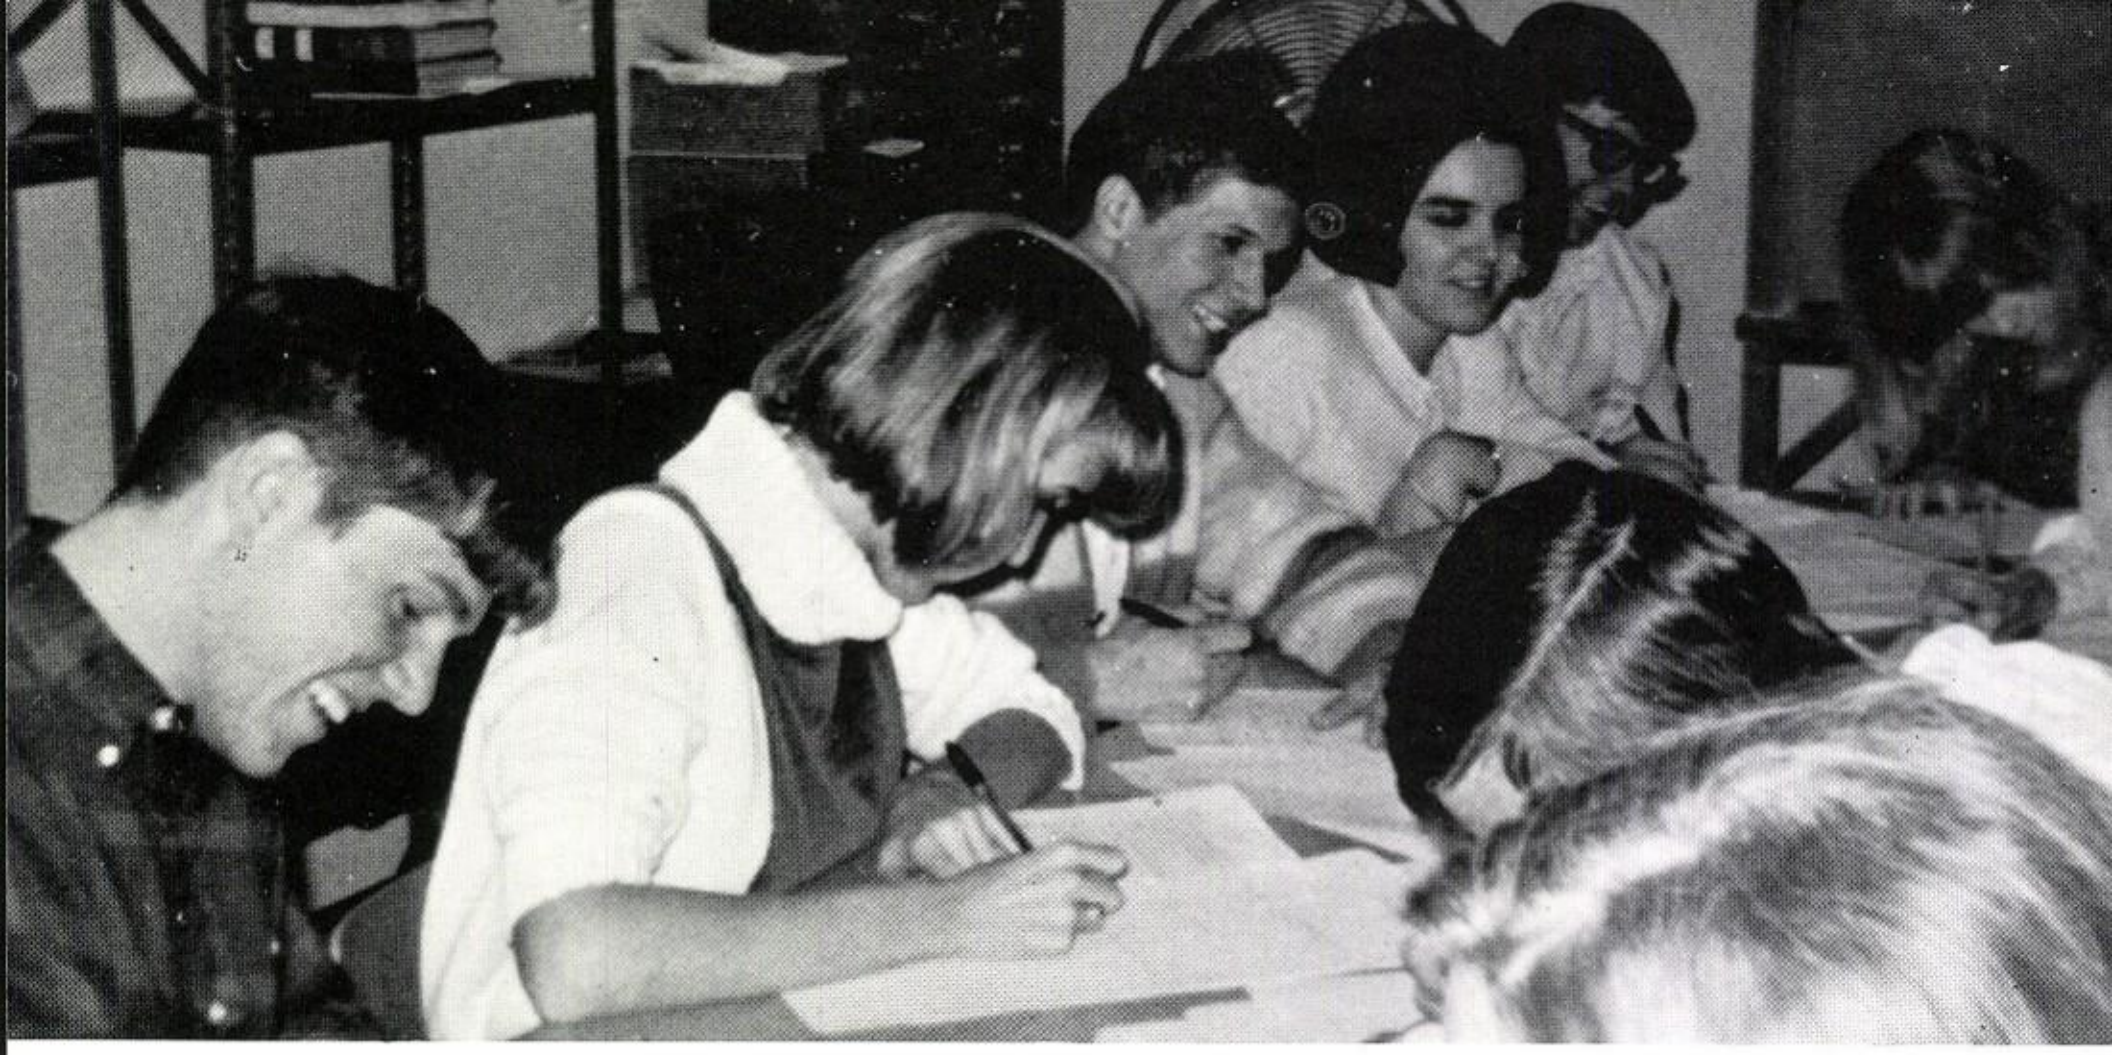
Miss Voss checks layout for newspaper while Jimmy Reagan works on sports section.

The Cougar Chronicle Staff works diligently to meet deadlines, in order to get the paper out on time to students.

Nancy Scoggins laughs at mistake in ad books.

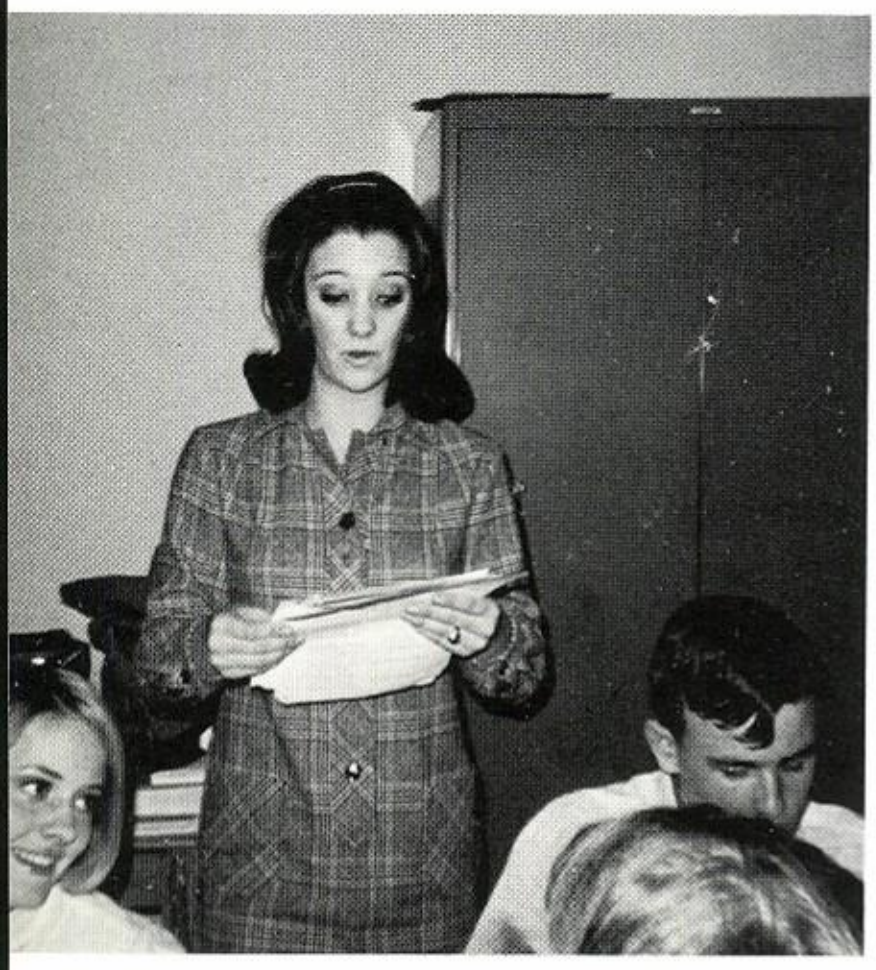
Melanie Odom checks over copy for paper.





All members of 6th period Pub Staff work to complete their coming deadline.

UNDERCOVER ACTIVITIES REVEALED IN PUB

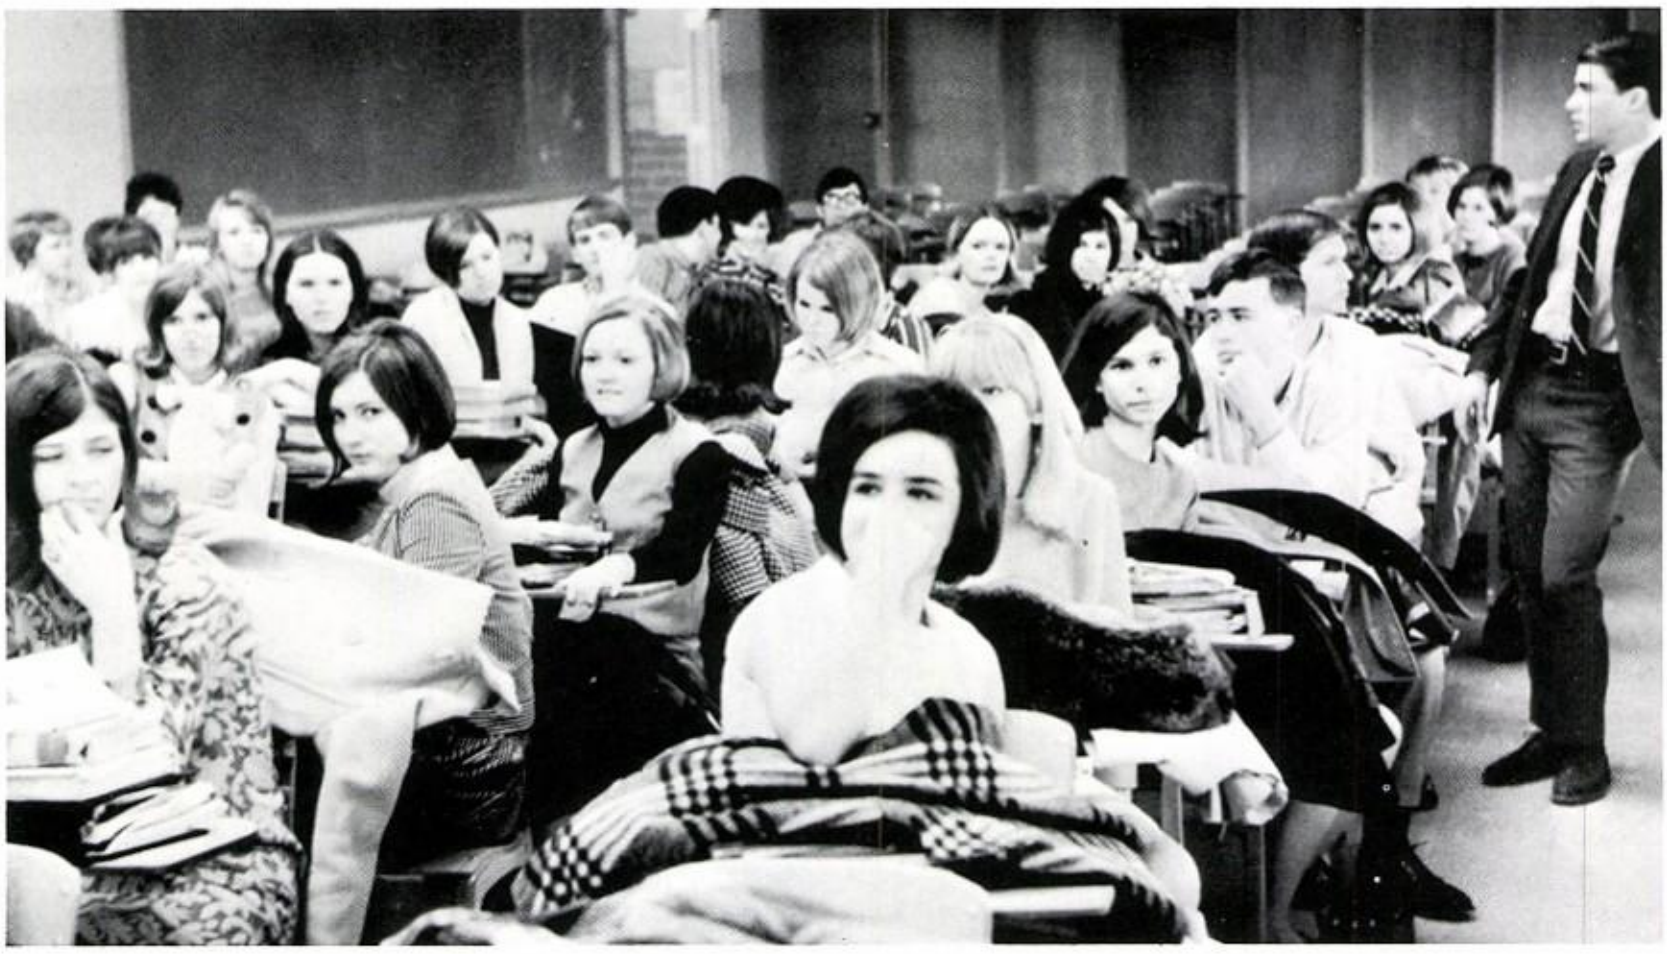


While Editor Carol Edgar reads out assignments to Pub Staff, Pam McDonnell makes eyes at Wayne Crawley.

Pub Staff members Tim Holler and Gayla Cambell read over material for the Pub.

SENIOR PUB

SENIOR CLASS HUMORED BY SAYINGS



Mr. Arrington and Pub Staff discuss dedication and theme of the 1968 Pub.

Pub sponsor Miss Anne Voss instructs Senior Pub staff on organization of Pub.

Thirty-eight super spies began stalking the hallways of Bryan Adams shortly before mid-term in an effort to gather comments for the Senior Pub magazine. These capable humorists were chosen in December by sponsors Miss Anne Voss and Mr. James Arrington.

Everyone likes to see his name in print, even if he finds it unpredictably located under "Wind-Up Dolls," and Senior Pub Editor Carol Edgar makes sure every senior's name and some incident about him is included in this book. Senior wit Wayne Crawley shares the responsibility of editing the Pub with Carol.

The Pub Staff blends into school activities during the day and at sixth period converges on Room 147 where someone may proudly announce that, they "just discovered who went with whom in the seventh grade, and would you ever have guessed it?"

The Senior humor magazine is distributed in April, prior to senior activities, and the result of the Pub espionage network is greeted with laughter.

QUILL & SCROLL

HONORARY JOURNALISTS FORM CLUB

Quill and Scroll members Elizabeth McMains, David Dixon, Lauren Potts, Melanie Odom, Dorrie Morris, Anita Patterson, Connie Tharp, Wayne Crawley and Katie Wielder stand with newspaper sponsor Miss Anne Voss.

Cold outside meeting greets members of Quill and Scroll, Jan Hornsby, Deborah Pope, James Eubanks, Janet Schultze and David Dixon.

Sponsor Linda Ray pauses to concentrate on outlook for the coming years activities.

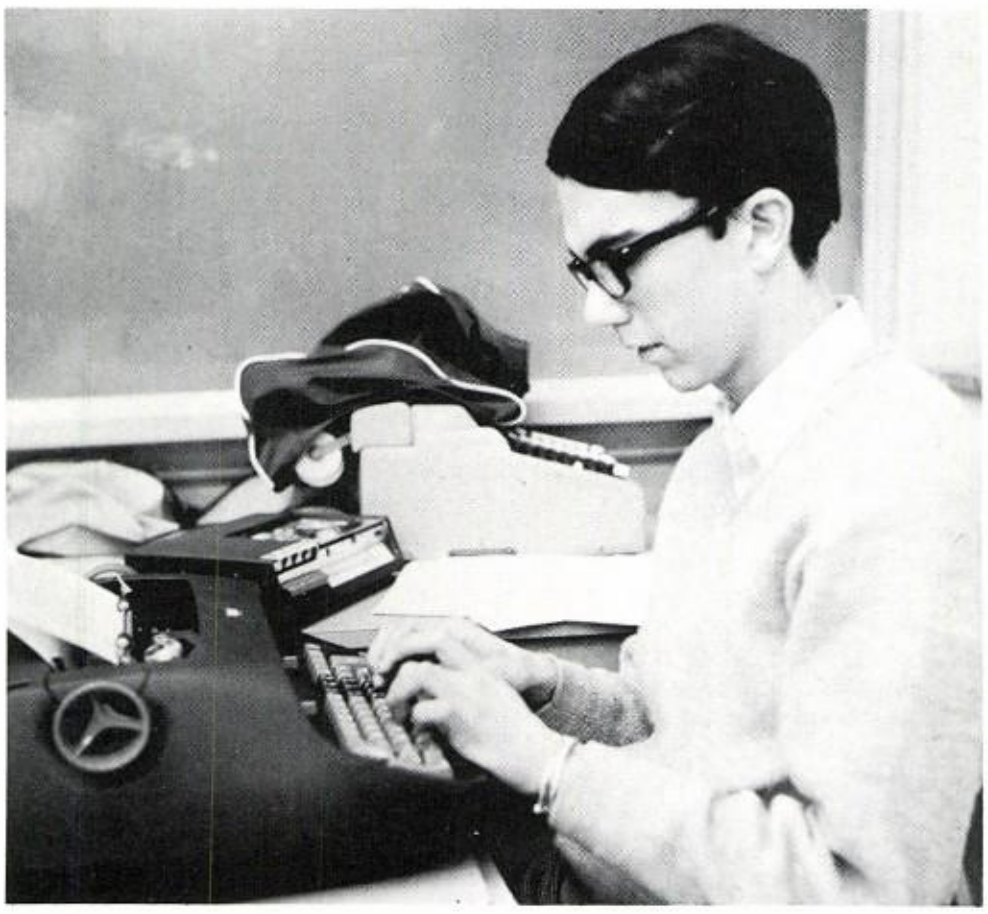
Outstanding journalists representing the El Conquistador Staff and the Cougar Chronicle make up the honorary Quill and Scroll organization. Each year at the annual spring banquet, all members gather for initiation of new members into Quill and Scroll. During the banquet members receive Quill and Scroll pins engraved with annual and newspaper staff position.

This year's officers are President Katie Weilder, Vice-President Kenny Plunk, Secretary Connie Tharp and Treasurer Wayne Crawley. Miss Anne Voss and Mrs. Linda Ray sponsor this honorary organization.

Yayne Crawley, Melanie Odom, Miss Voss, Anitra Patterson, Jimmy Reagan and Gaye Goodwin remember the old memories by pictures.

Annual staff members Debra Pope and Jan Hornsby do last minute work.

QUILL MEMBERS AT WORK



James Eubank finishes annual work on the typewriter.

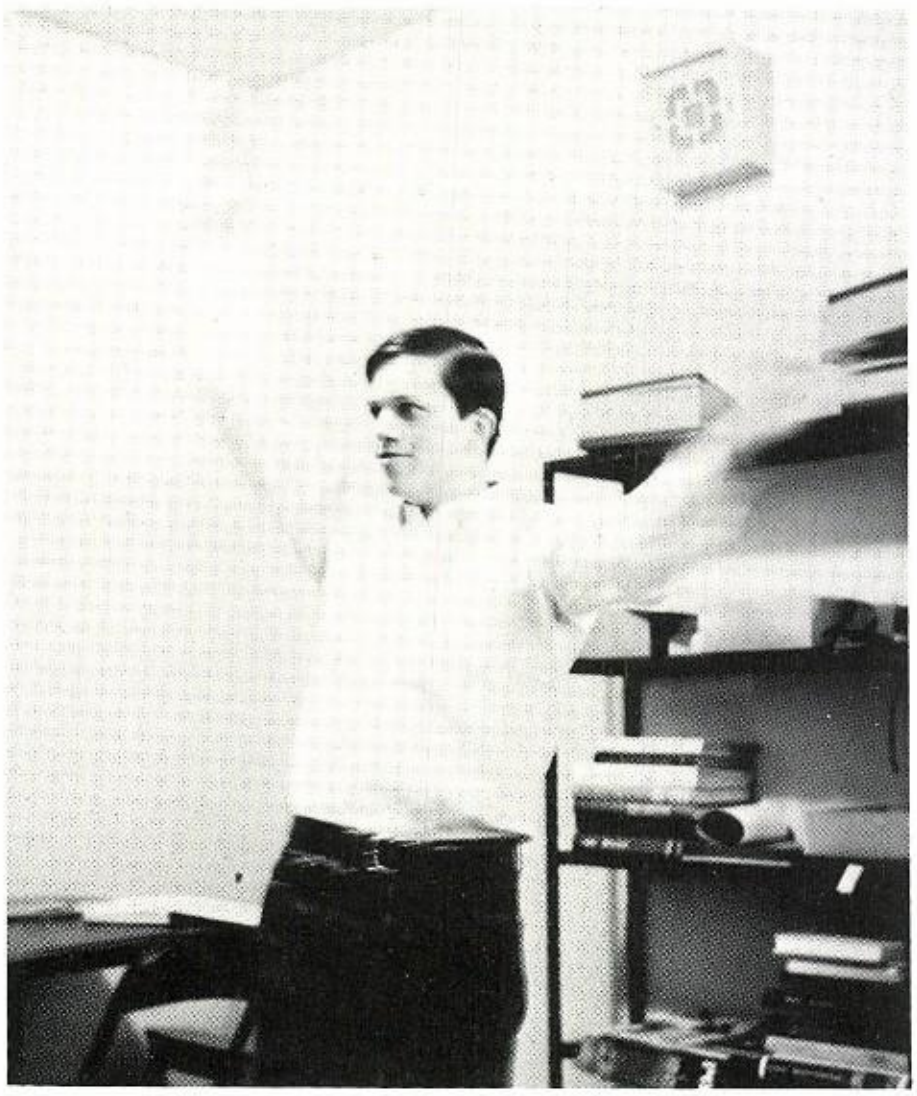
Annual Staff spends the last couple of days together before the March 1st deadline.

Billy Flynn relaxes while others sell ads.

"EL C" SPONSORS TWIRP DANCE

Kenny Plunk attempts flying.

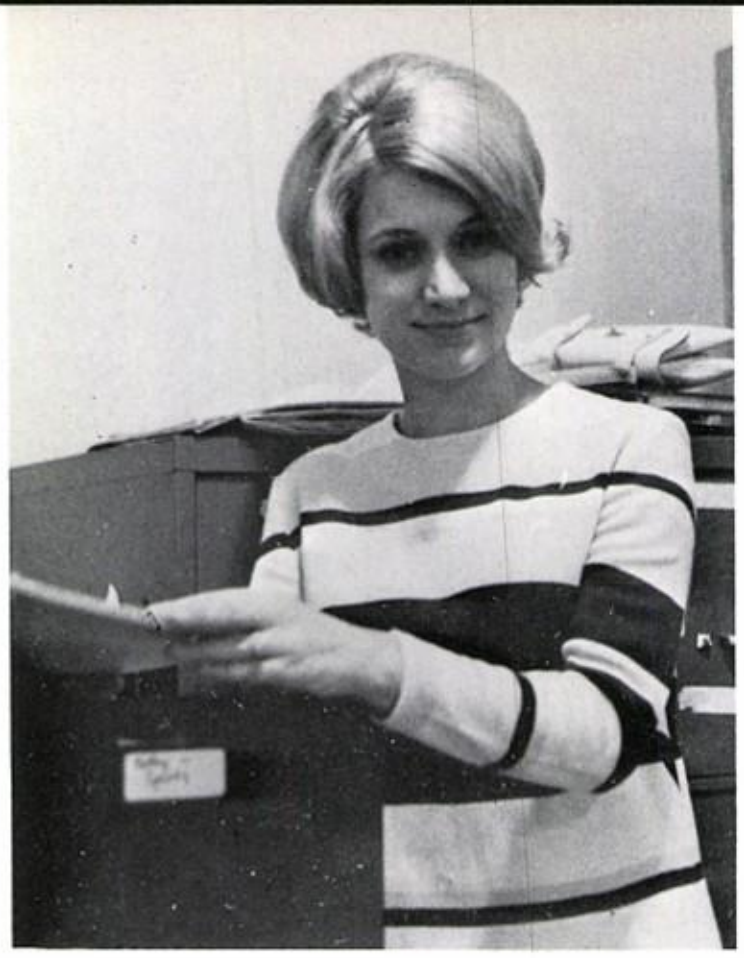


Room 231½ is exactly that – half a room designed to contain hard working members of the El Conquistador staff. Files, photo requests, and typewriters line the walls. As the hurried pace of deadline time draws near, senior organizers tightened the screws on junior and sophomore subordinates and the pages go in 20 seconds before the bell on D-Day (deadline day). The work steadily increases in tempo from the first humorous posters to the writing of copy.

The Twirp Dance annually sponsored by the El C is a costumed dance held in March.

The activities section is headed by James Eubank. Organizations is controlled by Janet Schultze with Debbie Cassaday, Rhonda Daniel, and Linda White. Kathy Joplin heads sports with Billy Flynn. Faculty is headed by Jan Hornsby with the help of Gary Hardaway. Photographers for the annual are George Emmett, Steve Hahn, Jackie Campbell, Ken Gretz, and John Swenson. Working on classes is Lindy Williams. Copy editor and lay-out editor are Judy Poe and Nancy Harris. Junior editor is Linda Reece and Senior editor is Debra Pope.

Judy Poe and Lindy Williams look through old annuals.



Kathy Joplin digs for pictures of sports in files.

Mrs. White gives "pep" talk to James Eubank.

Nancy Harris is always ready to pose for pictures.

RESERVED OFFICERS TRAINING CORPS

MILITARY ORGANIZATION ESTABLISHES CITIZENSHIP

Since 1958, the Bryan Adams R.O.T.C. Corps has established itself as one of the most prominent organizations in the school. Through strict discipline and military conduct, the ideas of good citizenship are instilled in every cadet. R.O.T.C. is a two year course, with the third year being optional. The military ball, Rifle Team and Drill Team competition, Color Guard, and various other activities add spice to the military life of the cadets. The protection of Democracy and the future well-being of the United States lies in the hands of these young cadets in uniform.

SANDY COLLIER RECEIVES CROWN AT MILITARY BALL

"Captain, you're standing on my foot."

A Military Ball is given yearly by the Bryan Adams Corps of Cadets in honor of the Corps sponsors. This year's Ball was an overwhelming success. Among the dignitaries present were Major General and Mrs. Harley B. West, retired commander of the 49th Armored Division. At the Ball, Commandant McClure and SGM Stadler received presentations for their outstanding leadership. At the climax of the Ball, Sandy Collier was crowned Military Ball Queen of 1968.

Sandy wears coveted crown (Sandy Collier).

Even Generals have fun!

Presentations are received with due modesty.

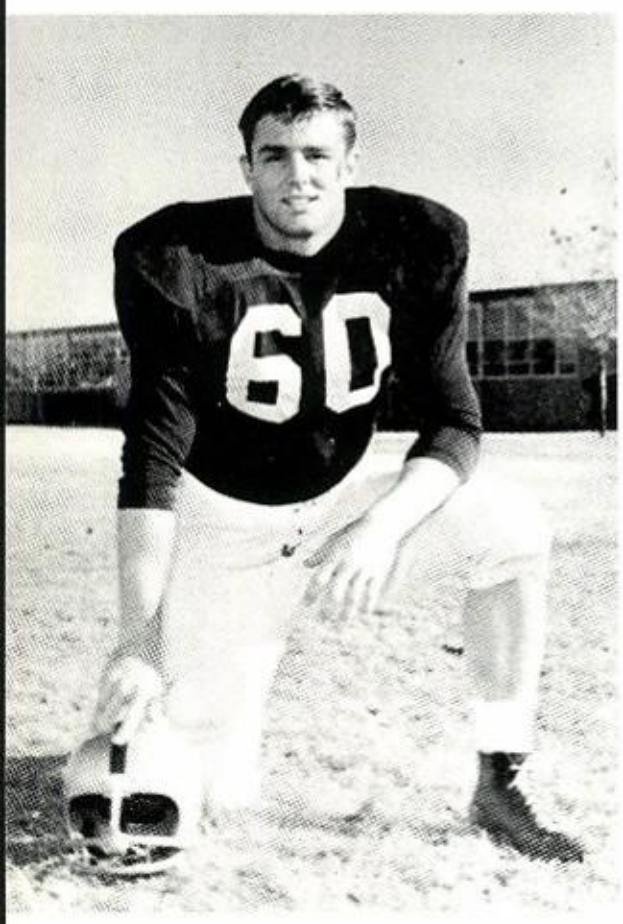
VICTORY COMES IN INDIVIDUALS



Although producing a nearly perfect season is strictly a team effort, the '67 squad had its share of outstanding individuals. These were the boys that put out 110% both in practice and in the game. Their unselfishness was well rewarded by their selection to various post-season all-star games. The Cougar name was hailed on several occasions this season, including eight all-city and two all-state awards.

COUGARS TAKE BI-DISTRICT

Panthers of I. M. Terrell were declawed, as Scotty Miles and Company travelled via air for 245 yards. The Cowtown site of Farrington Field was the arena where the Bryan Adams Cougars defeated the I. M. Terrell Panthers, Saturday night, 35-6.

A capacity crowd of 13,609 fans watched Cougar back Alan Crawford as he fought for four big yards which gave B. A. their initial score. With blocking from Steve Storie, Steve Arthus, Eddie Hamlet, and Lloyd Smith, and Miles passing the Cougars came back to Dallas victorious.

The following week the successive rise of the spirit ladder came to a halt as the Richardson Eagles defeated B. A. 28-0.

COUGARS DOMINATE NORTHERN ZONE

Scotty Miles slides for precious yards.

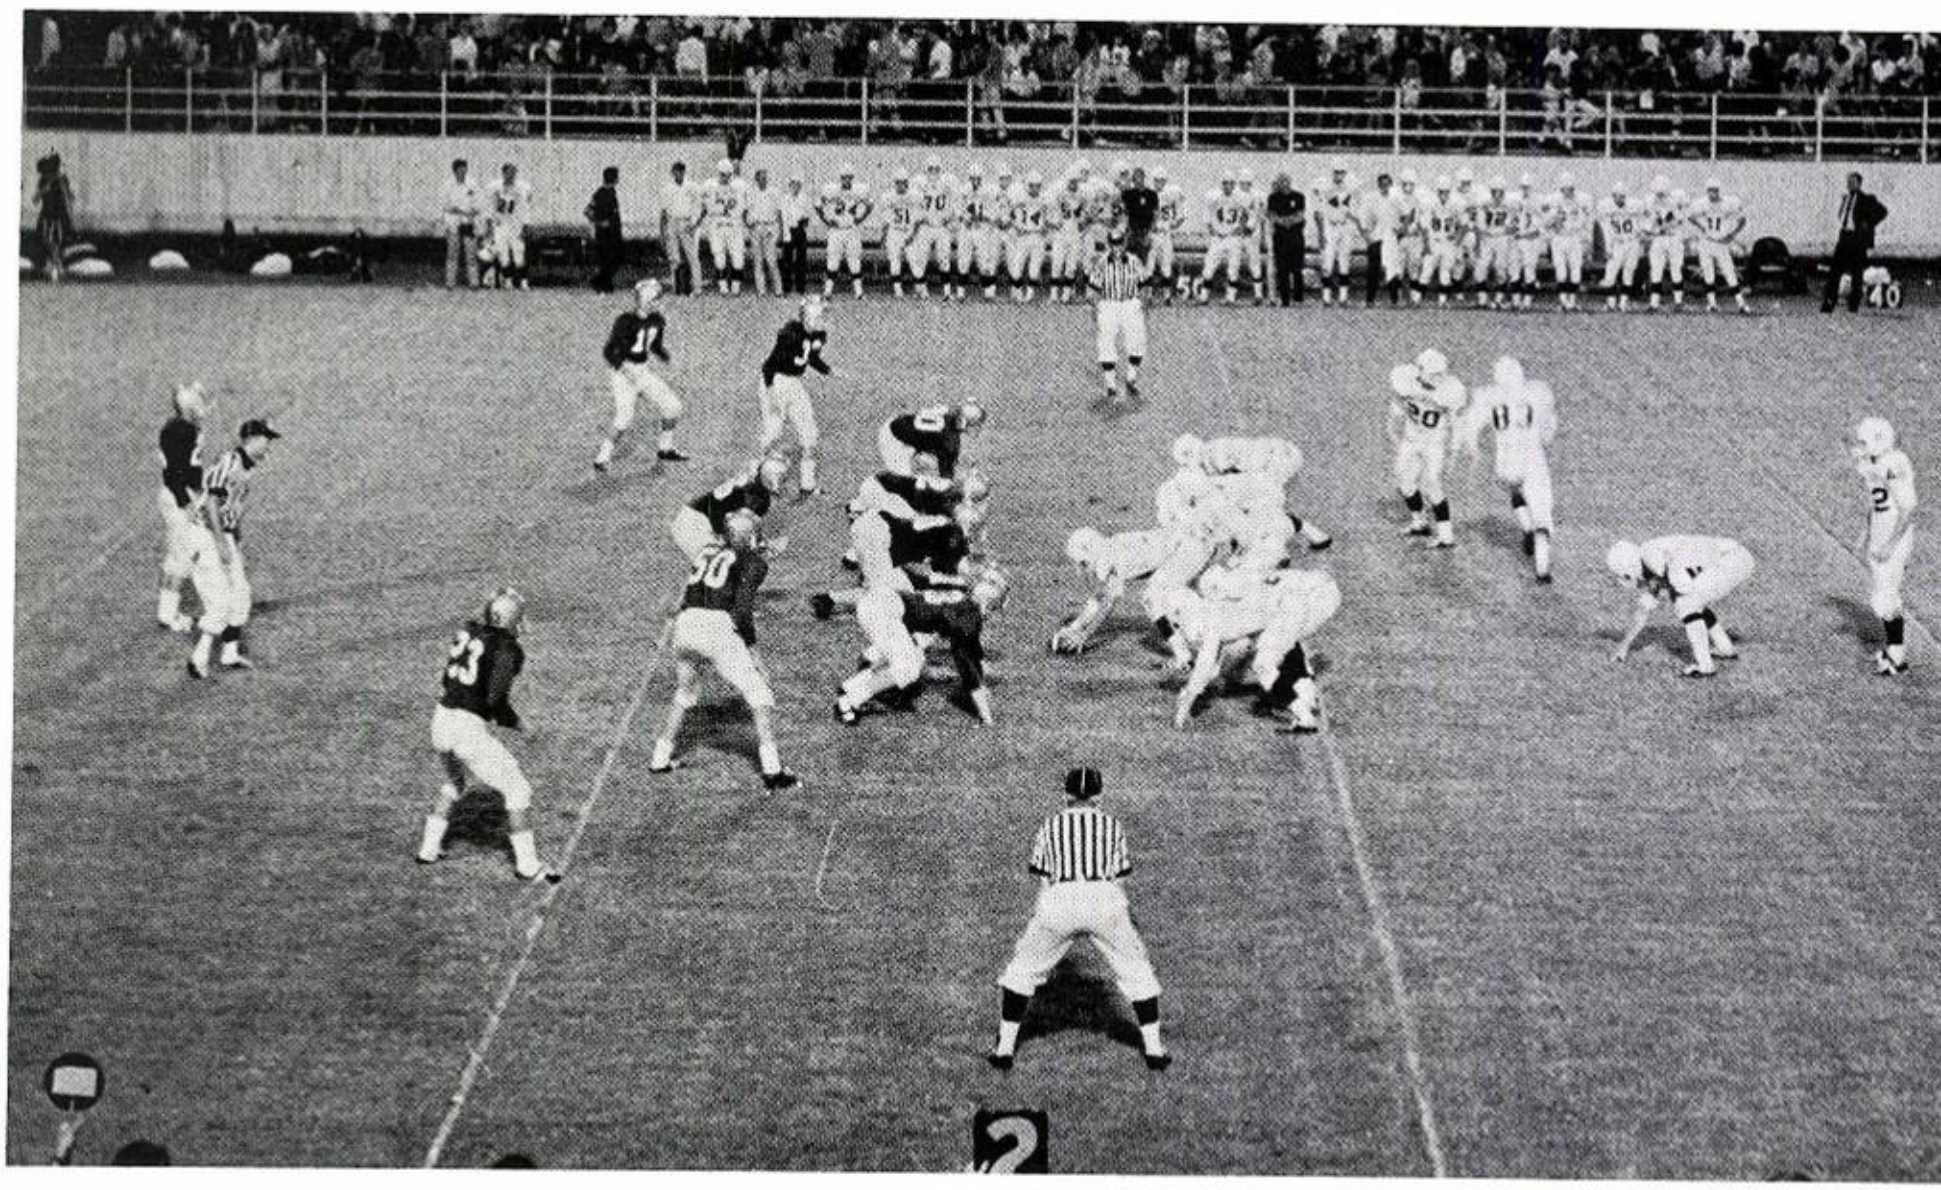
The soggy turf on the ground, the school spirit in the air, and the low hum of 14,000 Cougar and Spartan fans in the stands set the stage for the North Zone championship in District 6-AAAA Friday night at Forester Field.

B.A. had 20 first downs to Samuell's 7. In yards rushing, Cougars had 166 to the Spartans' 39, and quarterback Scotty Miles won his personal duel as he completed 10 of 18 passes for 80-yards when Samuells could complete only 6 of 14 for 48-yards.

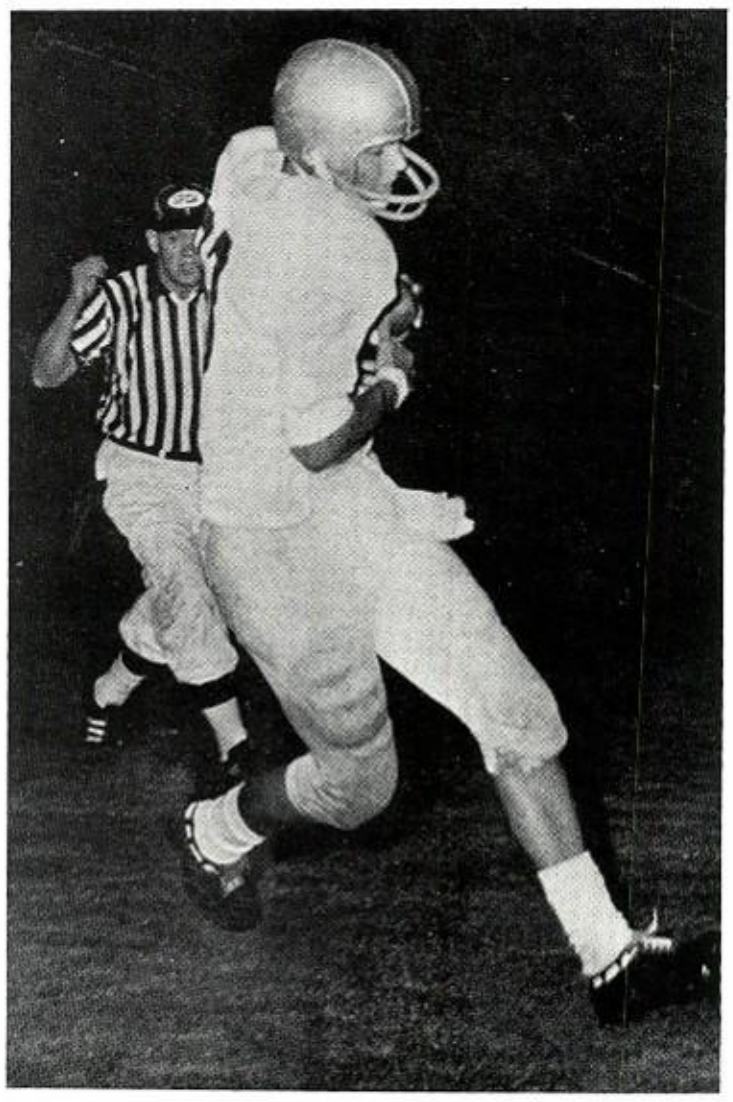
Alan Crawford was the main offensive gun for Bryan Adams. The 180 pound fullback carried the ball 27 times for 93-yards and one TD. Eddie Hamlet and Lloyd Smith did a terrific job of blocking. The Spartans got into B.A.'s territory only once during the first half when they moved to the Cougars' 41.

Eddie Owens, along with linebacker James Helwig, Dick Simpson, Bruce Gaw, Johnny Gardner, and Craig Johnson were outstanding on defense for the Cougars.

COUGARS KICKOFF 1967 SEASON



Cougars tense-up for first play of the 1967 Football Season.



Cougars have that extra step on Garland Owls as Mike Paulson goes in for the score.

Bryan Adams' Cougars opened the 1967 football season on a warm September night at Forrester Field. Cougars maintained possession of the ball for most of the game, and the Skeeters from Mesquite were unable to manage a first down until late in the second quarter.

Robert Hamic set up the first BA score with a 62-yard run, and Alan Crawford carried over for the TD. Randy Dossett kicked the first of three extra points. Six other TD's, highlighted by Johnny Gardner's 77-yard punt return, followed and accounted for a final score of 42-0.

Soggy turf at Williams Stadium indicated a low scoring game when the Garland Owls hosted Bryan Adams for the second pre-district game.

Twelve points were scored by the Owls in 48 seconds, but the Cougars came back with a 62-yard scoring drive in ten plays as quarterback Scotty Miles hit Mike Paulson with a 4th down TD pass. PATS were the main factor in the hard game, and Garland fell to BA, 13-12.

COUGARS MANGLE MADISON, 35-18

Rain-drenched Forester Field looked like an aqueduct Saturday as Cougars and Trojans raced back and forth all afternoon. Nothing stopped the Cougars, for they were still able to find the goal line.

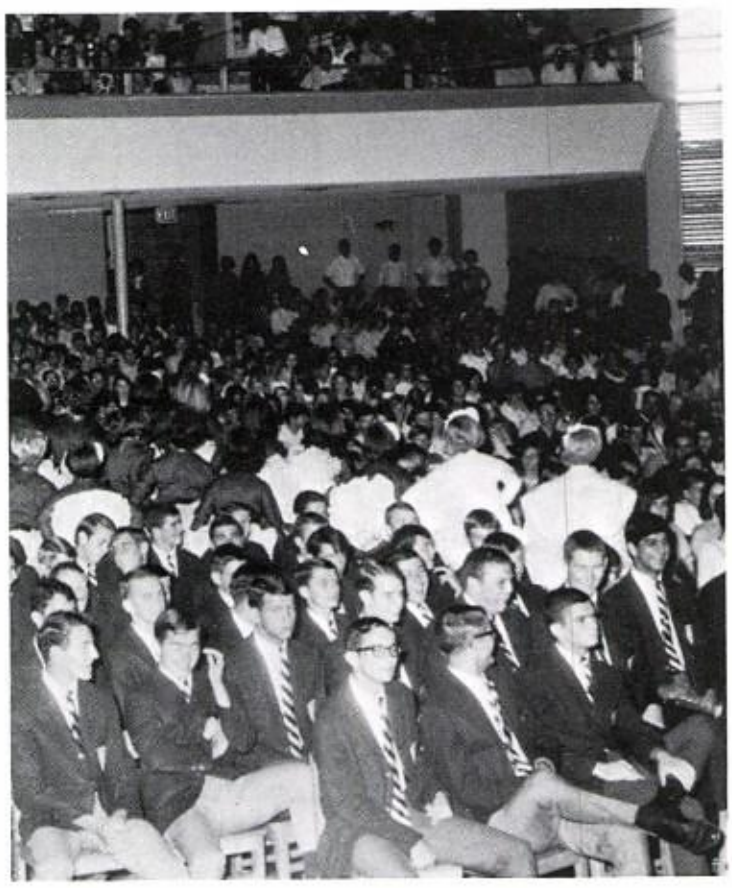
In the first quarter, the Cougars rolled up 19 first downs and 28 points on TD runs by Alan Crawford, Johnny Gardner, Scotty Miles, and Robert Hamic, each time following a BA drive to the Trojan 1-yard line.

Randy Dossett kicked the first two extra points, and Alan Everett added the next two. Nothing cools Johnny Gardner's engine, for the second and third TD's were the result of speedy Gardner detouring and recovering two on-side kick-offs.

In the third BA completed an 88-yard drive when Miles hit Mike Paulson with a 37-yard scoring pass. Everett kicked the point afterwards.

Madison waited until four minutes deep into the second 65-yard Trojan TD.

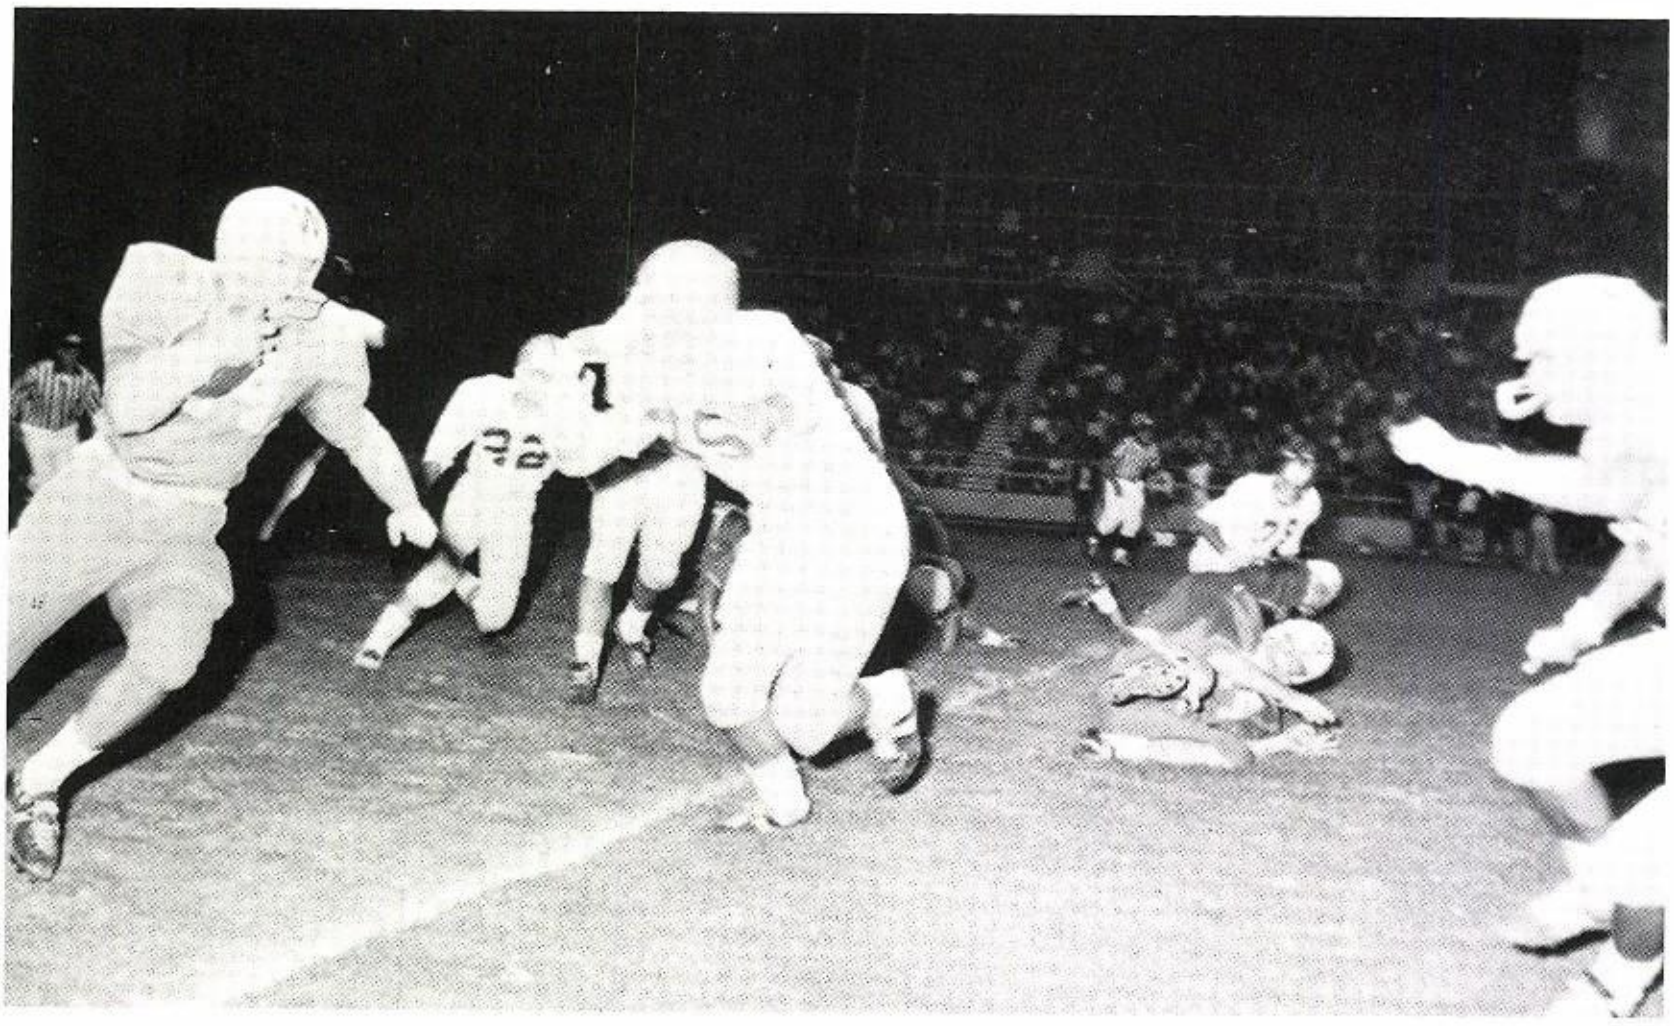
Another three minutes and Madison had another six points. Madison was unable to score again with 7:54 left to play. Cougars got to the wire first, with an impressive 35-18 victory.



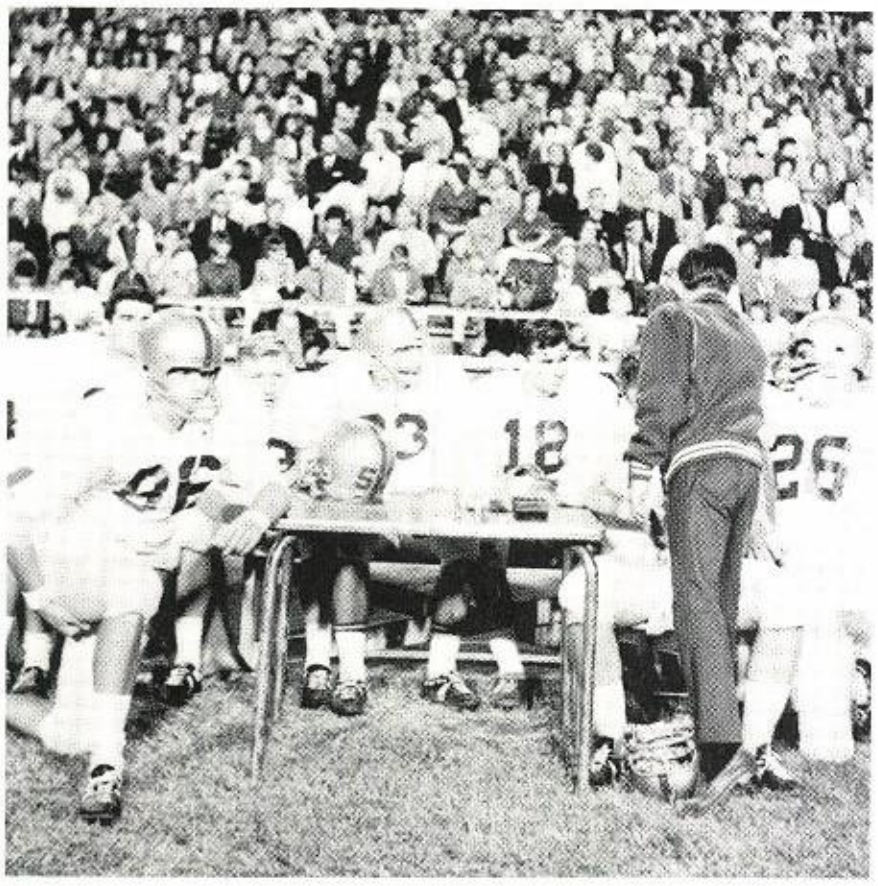
Pre-season spirit starts at school in a rousing pep assembly.

White-shirted Cougars display strong defense.

COUGARS CORRAL THE LONGHORNS, 35-12



Cougar Captain Eddie Owens charges for the tackle.



Randy Goss prepares for action as Cougar manager Tommy Holt tends to the wounded.

"The eyes of Texas", or at least those of Dallas, were upon the W. T. White Longhorns at Loos Stadium Friday night. However, early in the first stanza Randy Dossett began his scoring role with an 84-yard TD jaunt on the opening kickoff. Dossett also set up his second scoring play, a pass from Scotty Miles, 29-yards with an interception at midfield. For the remainder of the first half, Miles lofted a duo of aerial six pointers as he connected with Mike Paulson.

Miles to Paulson touchdowns were set up by Jimmy Bailey, with an interception on the Longhorn 25-yard line. Paulson's first reception traveled three yards for a TD. The second 24-yards was just under the line of ending the second quarter.

Cougar's final touchdown came in the third quarter with a 19-yard pass from the Cougar quarterback Stanley Chick to Jimmy Wallace. After this, Allan Everett kicked the extra point as he did for all the Cougar touchdowns, to make the score 35-0.

In the second half Longhorns, scored two TD's. Longhorns second half battle was daring, but in despair, as the gun sounded with the Cougars on top, 35-12.

COUGARS TRAP THE TIGERS, 19-12

Coach Cowsar turns his back to the crowd as Johnny Gardner sizes up the Tigers.

Physical skill, a desire to win, a muddy field, and the determined BA Cougars were too much for the Lincoln Tigers Saturday at Forester Field. Always moving, alert, and running were the powerful Cougars.

Despite the weather conditions, the Tigers went 68-yards on their initial drive. The big gainer was a pass which was good for 35-yards. Tigers scampered 25-yards for the score.

Moments later Eddie Owens recovered a fumble at the Lincoln 25. On the first play Scotty Miles hit end Randy Dossett for the TD resulting in a tie at 7:07 of the first period.

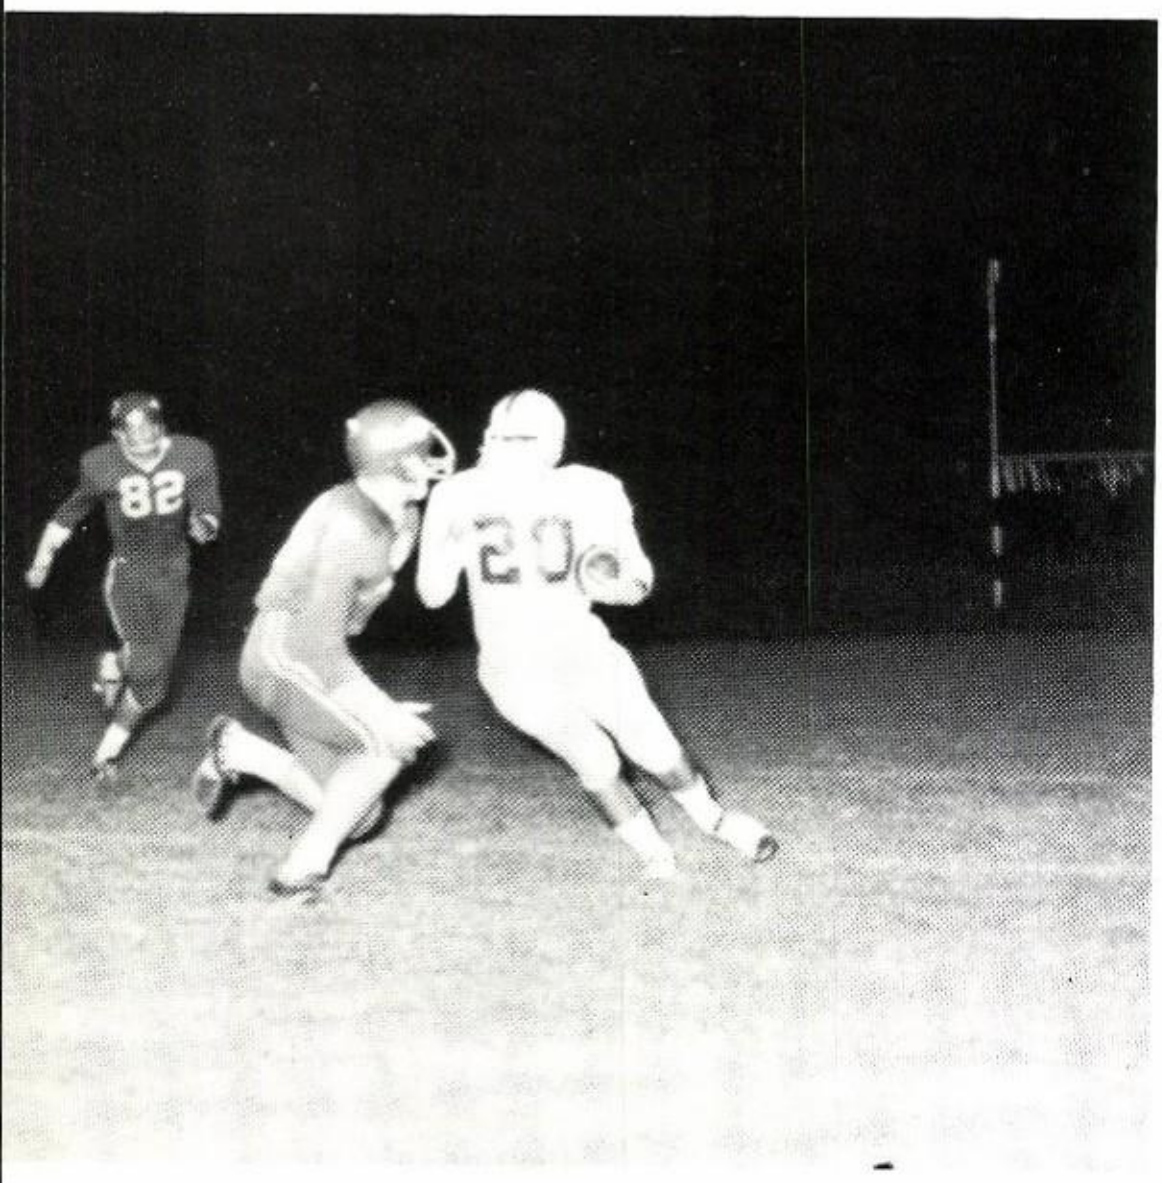
Cougars took a 12-6 lead when James Helwig dropped on a fumbled punt at the one, and Miles took it in for the score with seventeen seconds left in the quarter.

In the third quarter, Miles capped a 62-yard march by hitting end Jim Wallace with a 20-yard TD pass. Dossett's kick made it 19-6 at 7:48.

Following the kickoff, Lincoln swept 70-yards to score in five plays. Johnny Gardner, Jimmy Bailey, and Bruce Gaw aided the Cougar's cause toward the city championship.

Cougars charge up field for another TD. (Randy Dossett, Eddie Hamlet, Alan Crawford)

COUGARS DOWN PANTHERS, 14-13



Johnny Gardner works his way through a pack of Panthers.

Although the Cougar team had not known the taste of defeat this season, supper was almost served at Loos stadium Friday night as the Cougars scratched by the Hillcrest Panthers, 14-13.

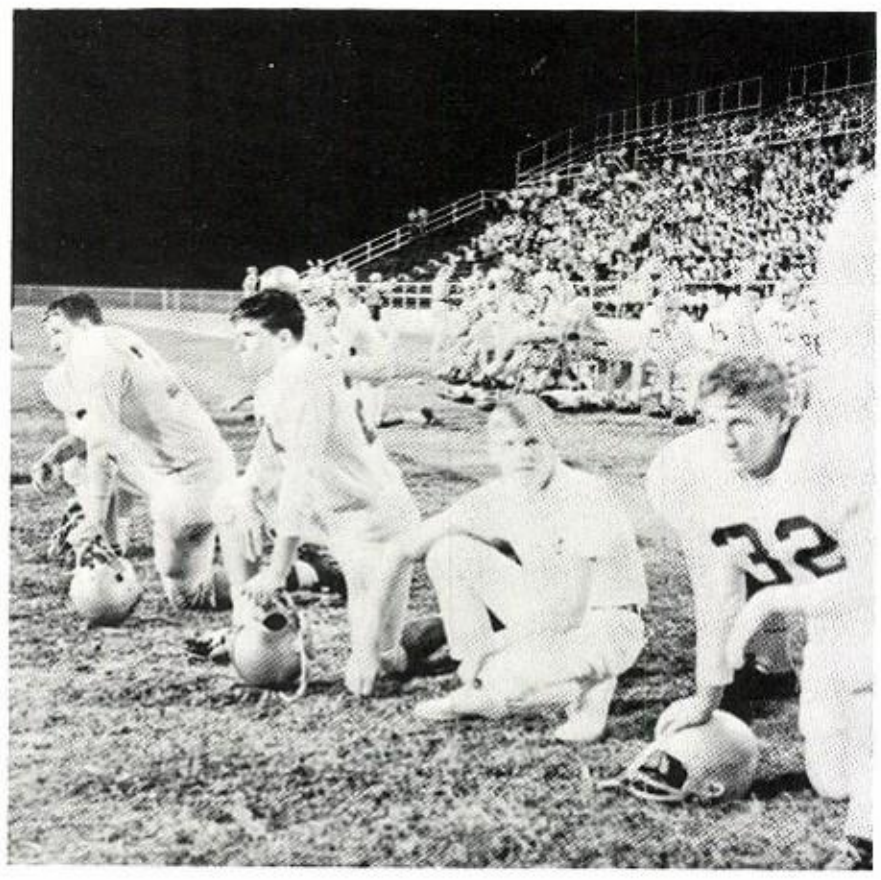
The Cougars, as well as the Panthers moved exceptionally well with the ball. Midway through the first quarter, Scotty Miles hit Randy Dossett skimming down the right side to push the Cougars out front on a 49-yard scoring play.

Deep in the second period, it was the Panthers' turn. Panthers hauled the pigskin and out-ran the Cougar defenders on a 61-yard soaring play. A panther stepped to the tee and booted the Panthers out front, 7-6.

Cougars used their ground attack to move back in front in the third period. Johnny Gardner and Alan Crawford chewed up chunks of real estate with Gardner squeezing over right tackle for the last yard. Jim Wallace took a lonesome pass for the conversion.

Hillcrest marched back with a 69-yard scoring drive. It was all on the ground until the bit of razzle-dazzle that put the last six points on the board.

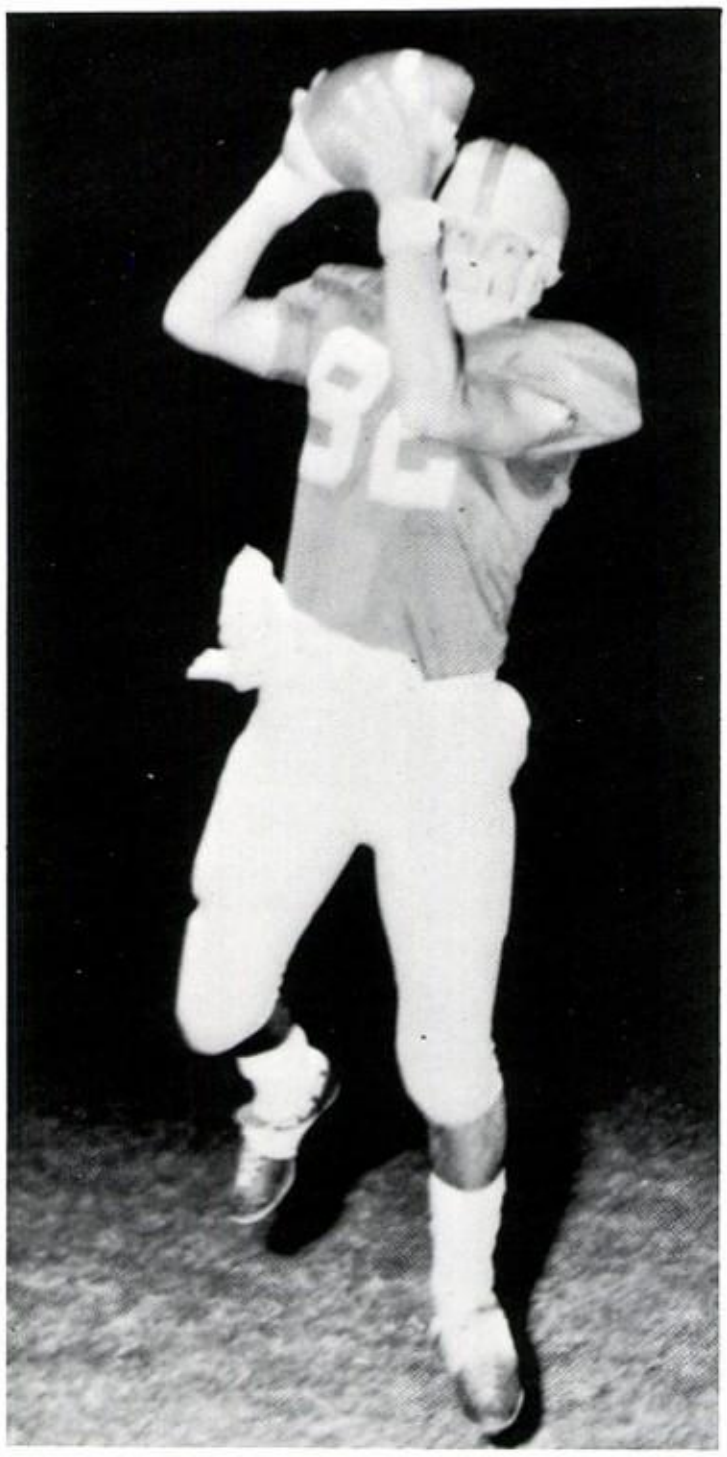
Panthers picked up a deflected pass and tossed it to a team-mate to close the last 24-yards. Yet, the Panthers started out cold, and although they warmed up in the second quarter, the Cougars managed to roll up another win.



The fearless four, Steve Storie, James Laney, Chris Liebrum, and Alan Crawford

Gill Johnson and Dick Simpson pursue the Panther Passer.

COUGARS SINK VIKINGS, 17-6



Randy Dossett snags another one.

Bryan Adams' Cougars sunk the Vikings of Pinkston Thursday night as they sustained their perpetual march toward the North Zone title. The seventh consecutive Cougar win was a must to clinch a 4-0 record.

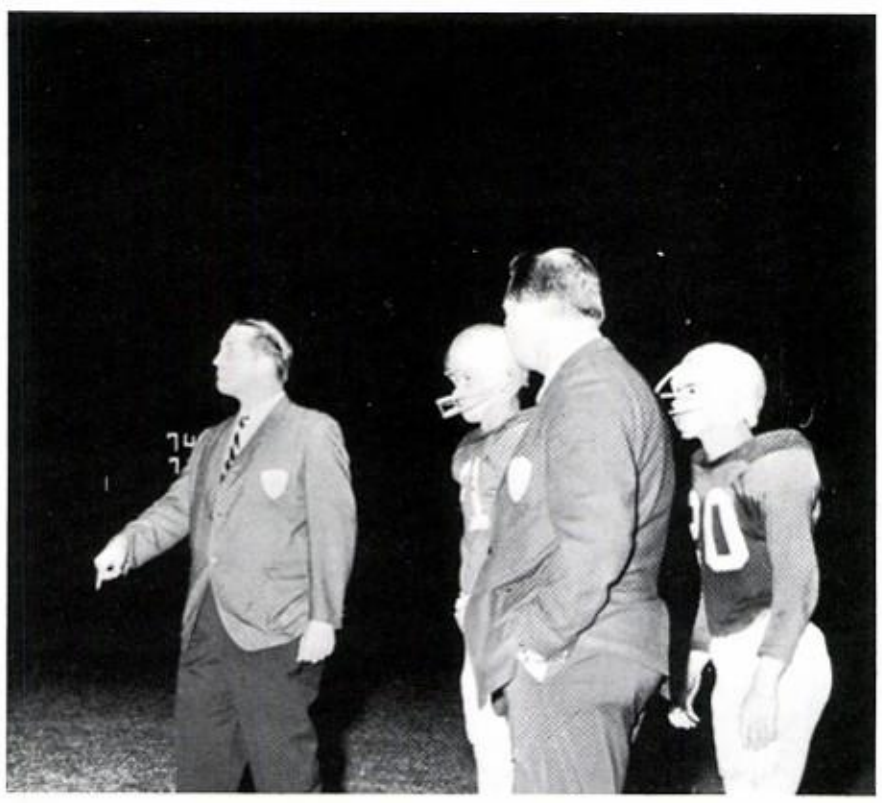
Vikings blew through B.A. on a 75-yard TD march the first time they had the ball, but the Cougars kept their usual cool and came storming back.

Unfortunately for the Viking's fans another clash was not to be hard until the final moments of the game when they were cut short of their last chances for six points.

In fact, after that opening flurry, the only other serious threat the Vikings could manage against a crushing Cougar defense was a drive that died at the B.A. 6-yard line as the game ended.

In the 3rd down quarterback Scotty Miles fired a perfect strike to Johnny Gardner and he roared to paydirt for a 30-yard TD play.

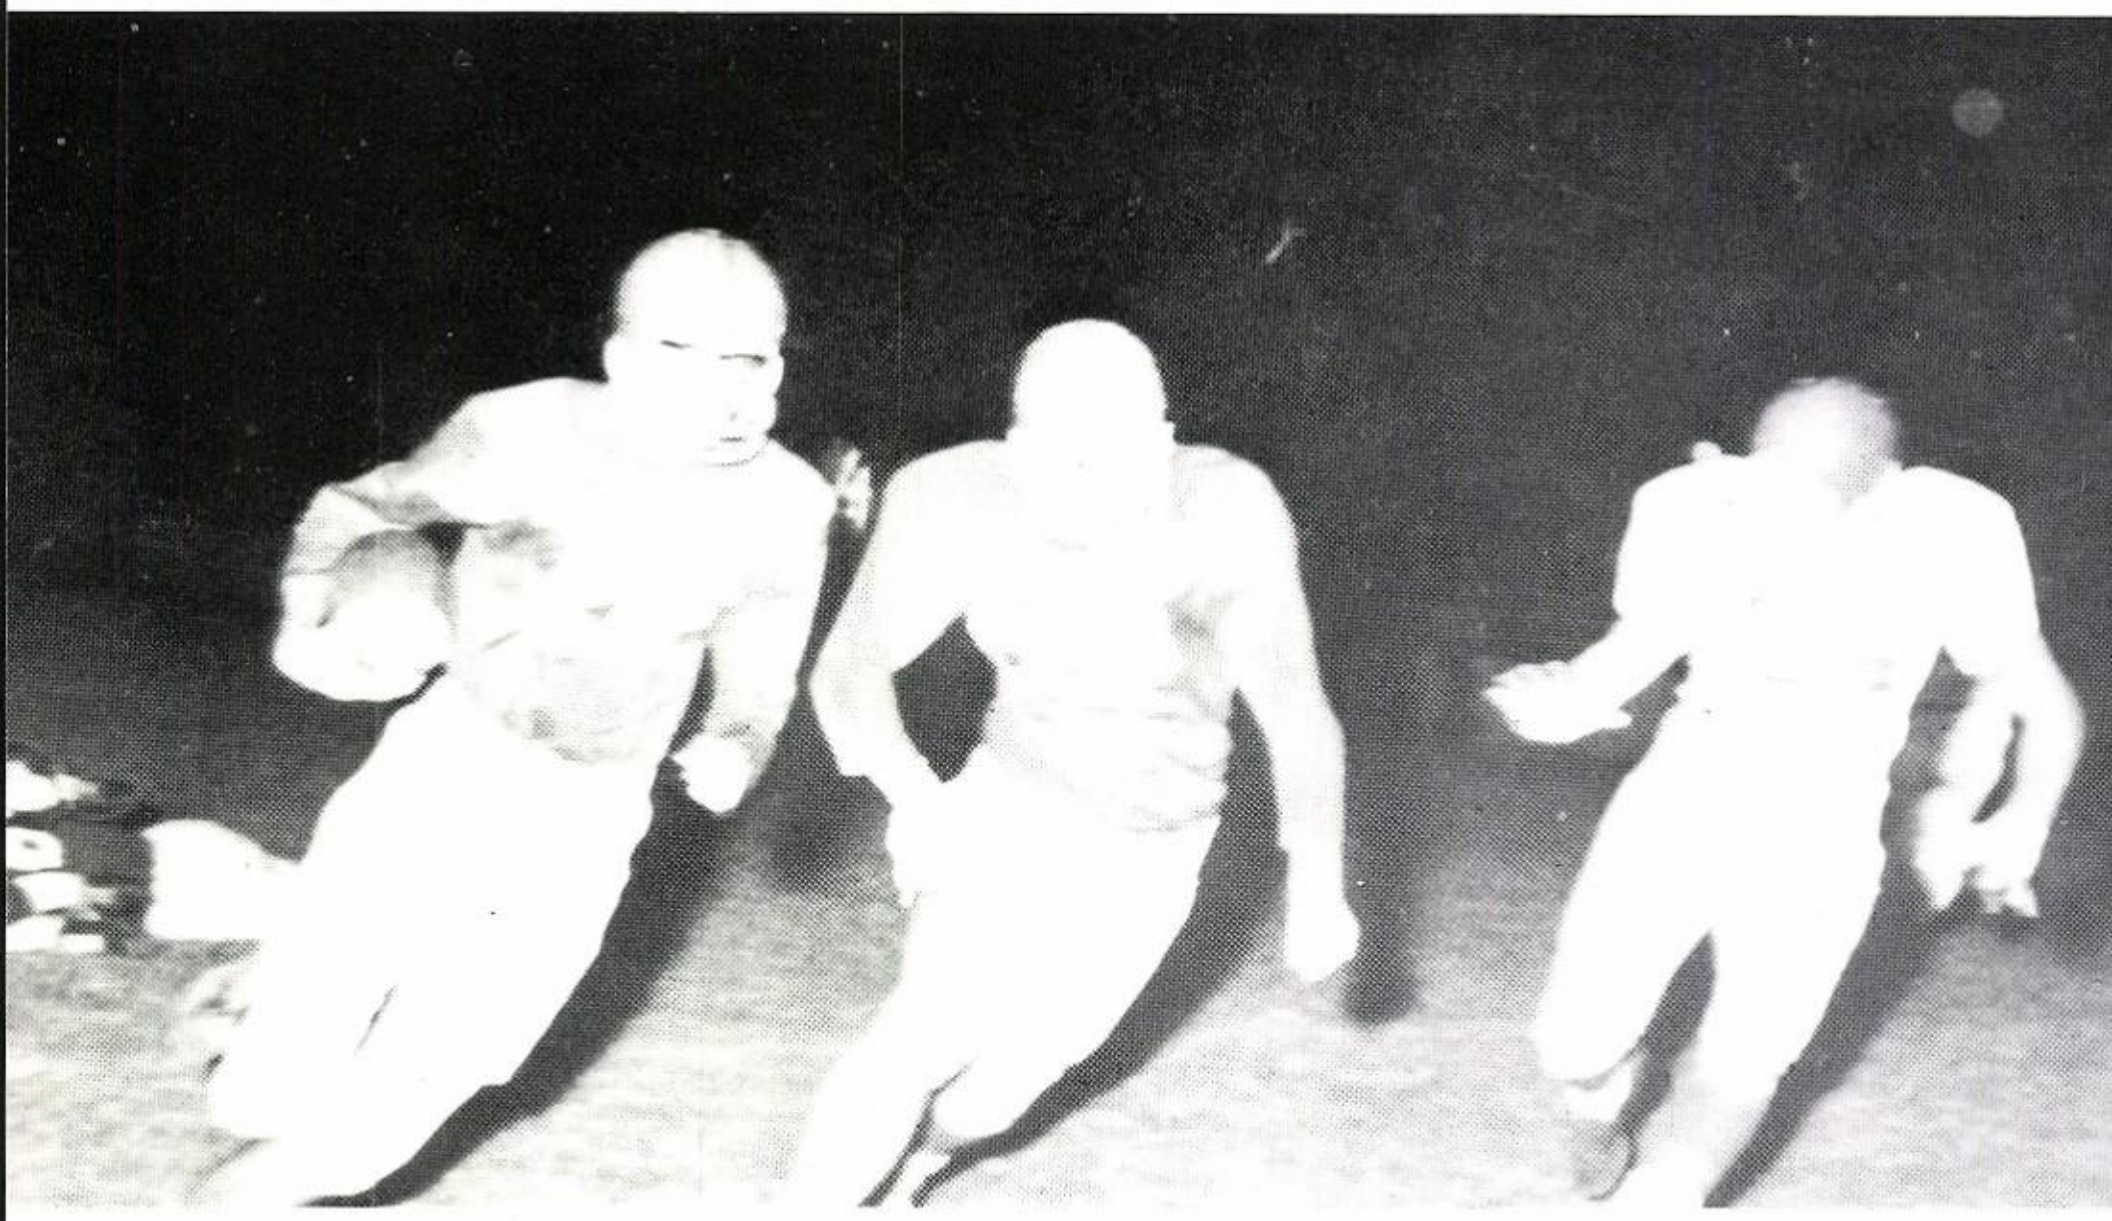
Alan Everett added the tying PAT, then in the second quarter dropped through a perfect 32-yard field goal to put the Cougars into the lead for keeps. B.A. got an insurance tally by moving 53-yards after taking the kickoff to open the second half. Kenny Farmer did the TD honors with a 5-yard jaunt.



The coaches Bob Cowsar and Jim Hunt.

The "work horse", Alan Crawford, yields nothing to a Viking.

APACHES SCALPED, 40-0



Stan Chick, led by Mike Crowe, charges up the field in rocket fashion.

Randy Dossett – his feet are swift and his hands are sure.

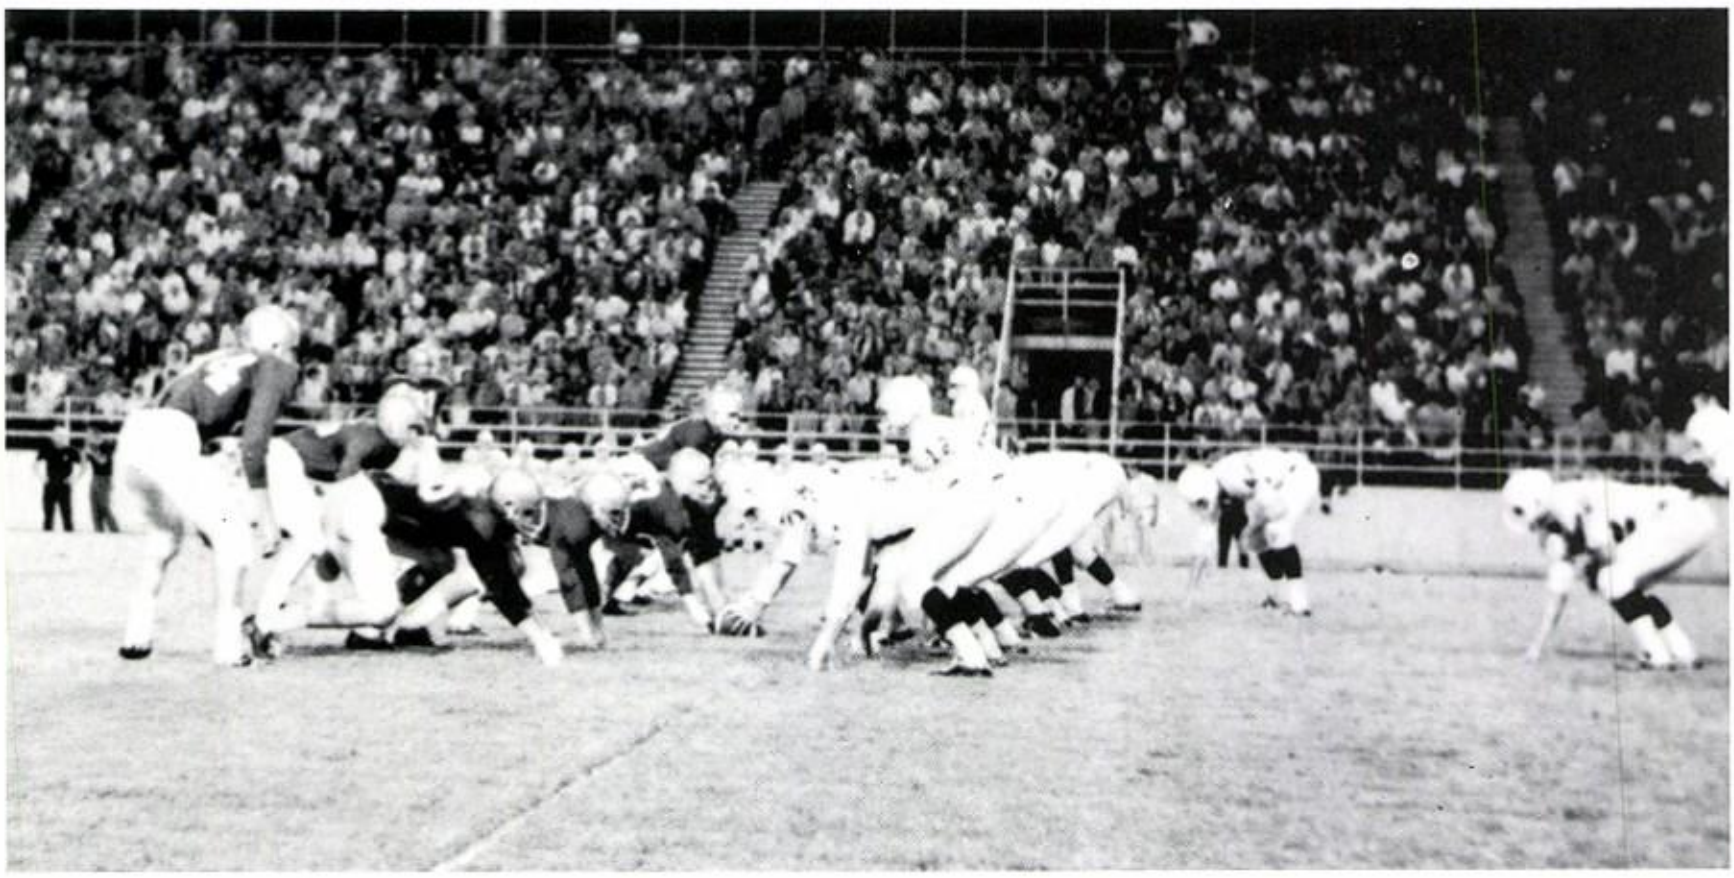
The Bryan Adams Cougars massacred the Spruce Apaches Thursday night at Forester Field. The Cougars took the Apache's scalp on five different occassions to make the final tally 40-0.

Cougar's showed a well-balanced attack, with all four backs getting about equal time as ball-toters. Also Scotty Miles spiced Spruce with an occasional pass to keep the defense honest.

Miles engineered an 81-yard, 14-play drive for the first 6-pointer, with the payoff, a 9-yard pass from Miles to end Mike Paulson.

Gardner capped a 78 yard march in the second quarter with an 8-yard plunge over right tackle, then followed with his pass interception return to push the score to 20-6 at the half.

Three more TD's were scored in the final quarter. Miles hit end Dossett for a TD, reserve Craig Johnson followed with a 30-yard scoring jaunt, and Stanley Chick scampered 32 yards for the final toll.



The Cougar defense is a tough one – just ask the TJ Rebels.

COUGARS RACK REBELS, 48-12

Randy Dossett connects with Scotty Miles for another touchdown pass.

TJ game set the stage for the Homecoming festivities. The game actually pivoted around a strange play in the third quarter. BA was leading 14-6 and driving goalward with confidence. TJ made its final mistake in the fourth quarter with a fumble on its own 17-yard line which Bryan Adams turned into the final score of the night.

Big plays were the fashion. Miles and Mike Paulson combined for the first one, a 49-yard TD pass near the end of the first quarter. Johnny Gardner ran 31 yards in the second quarter for the second Cougar score, and TJ scored on the board minutes later with a 55-yard ramble up the left sideline.

In the end, Alan Crawford had 96 yards rushing for BA, and Bruce Gaw, James Helwig and Jimmy Wallace had their share of tackles. The BA Cougars once again prevailed over the TJ Rebels.

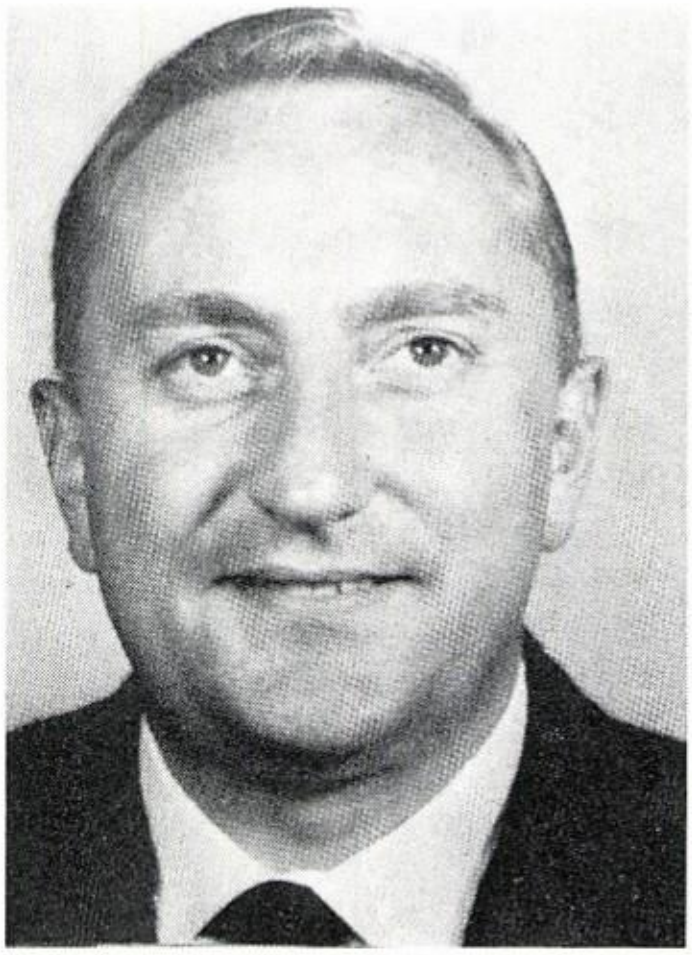
ZIETZ NAMED COACH OF YEAR



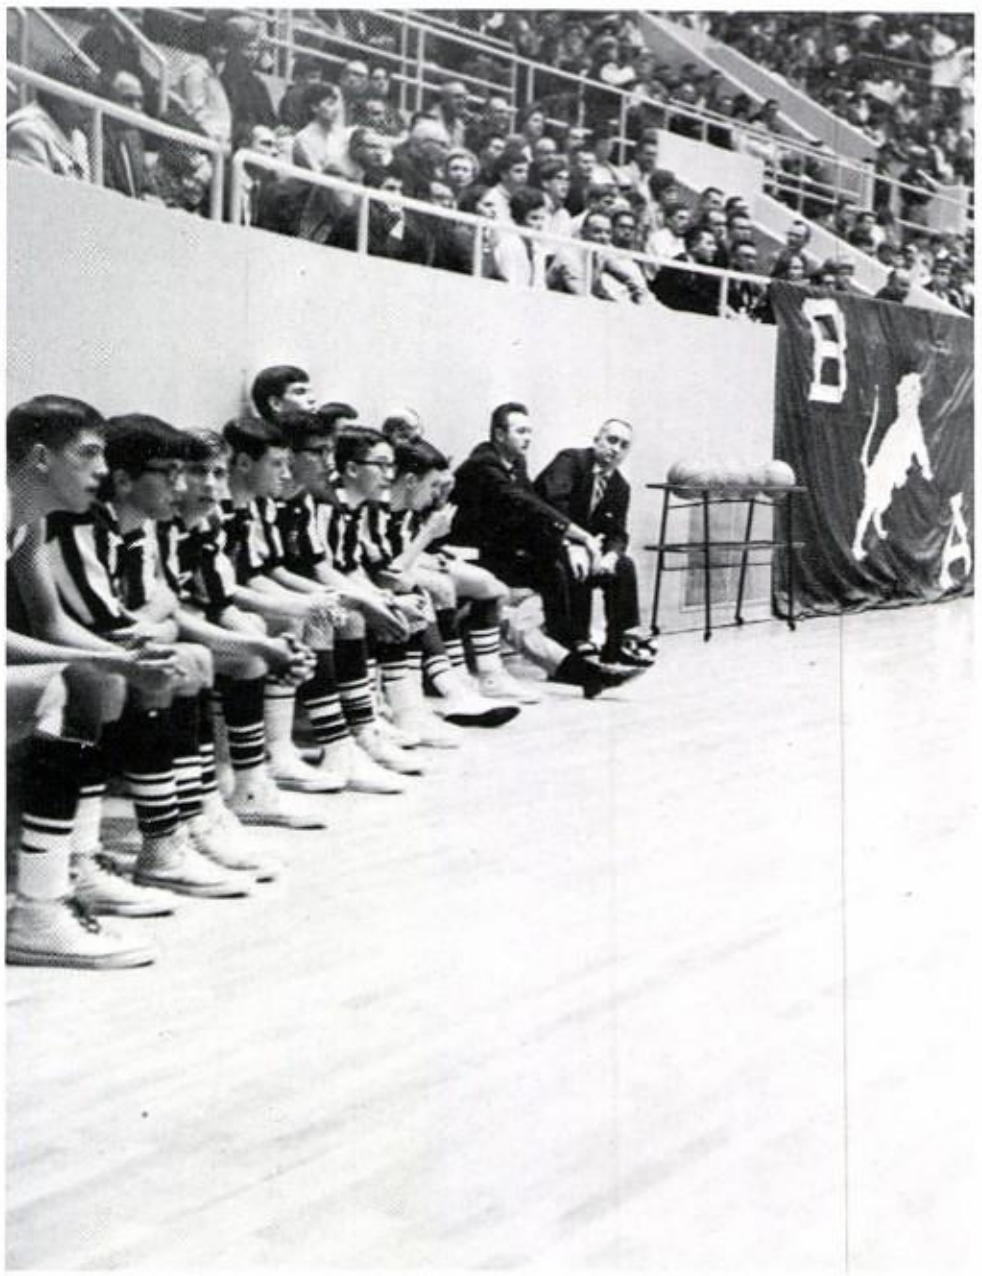
Ralph Zietz
1968 Coach of the Year

Coach Ralph was honored by local sports writers and other city coaches by being named Dallas Coach of the Year.

Developing the potential he knew the team had was the basketball coach's objective throughout the season. Team members credit Zietz's stress on defensive play with being the decisive factor in the cagers winning season.

Given only a slight chance in the East Zone race, the Cougars gathered momentum and by mid-season had pushed a step ahead of the preseason favorite. The Bryan Adams cagers finished in a deadlock with Samuell to win co-championship honors in the East Zone.

Defensive positions are pointed out to the team by Coach Zietz.



Coach Zietz's face reflects the tense situation during the second game with Samuell.

Cougars Jackie Harris and Jim Walter go up for a rebound in the Spruce game.

COUGARS STREAK TO ZONE LEAD

Bryan Adams' 1968 Cougar cagers began their conference season with a thirty-six point victory over the Lincoln Tigers. Senior center, Eric Groscurth, was responsible for thirty of the Cougars' eighty-one points.

The Cougars continued their winning ways in what local scribes considered a surprising upset against the favored Samuell Spartans. Groscurth was again high-point man with twenty-two points. Although the game was a close one, 56-52, this win became the impetus for a series of victories which followed.

Steve Sparks, Junior, was leading scorer in the Cougars' third victory of the season. Sparks scored fourteen points against the Spruce Apaches whom the Cougars defeated 70-57. With this spirited beginning, the Bryan Adams' cagers streaked to a zone lead.

Paul Gray shoots for two points against the Wildcats.

COUGARS MAINTAIN FIRST PLACE

Charlie Gromatsky shoots a free throw as Eric Groscurth and Jackie Harris wait for rebound.

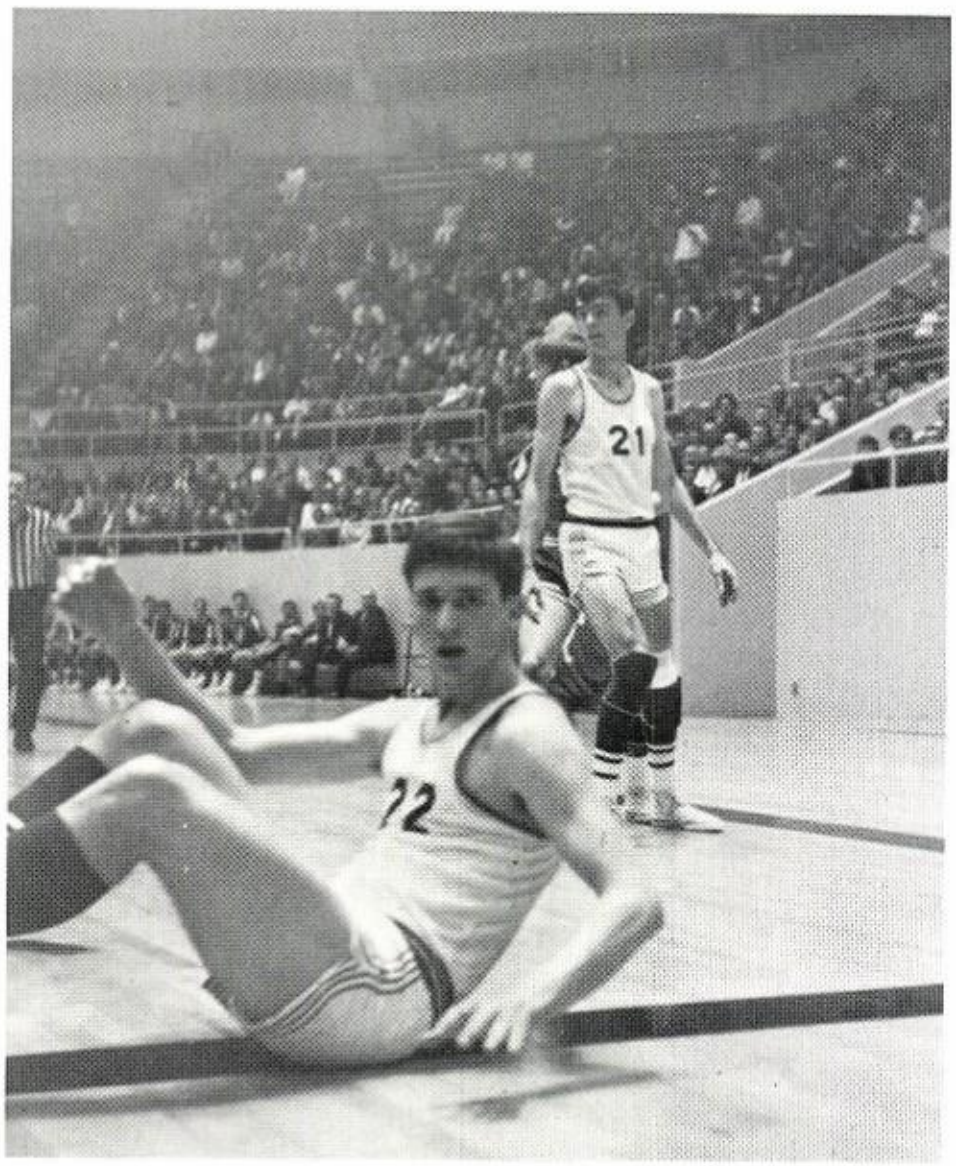
Led by Eric Groscurth's twenty points, the Cougars had three players scoring double figures, including Jon Dooley, 19, and Jackie Harris, 16, in posting the fourth zone win against Madison's Trojans. A twenty-five point third quarter turned the tide in the 70-59 Cougar victory.

Zone-leading Bryan Adams scored a 84-54 win over Woodrow Wilson in the season's fifth win. High-scoring Eric Groscurth bucketed thirty-one points to lead the team effort.

Jackie Harris played a major role in helping Eric Groscurth control the backboards and lead the Cougars to a 78-66 victory over the Lincoln Tigers in the teams' second meeting. Seniors, Groscurth, Harris, and Paul Gray led the Bryan Adams team in their successful effort to maintain their first place lead.

Cougars vie with Apaches for possession of the ball.

UPWARD SURGE CONTINUES



Camera catches Steve Sparks in unusual playing position.

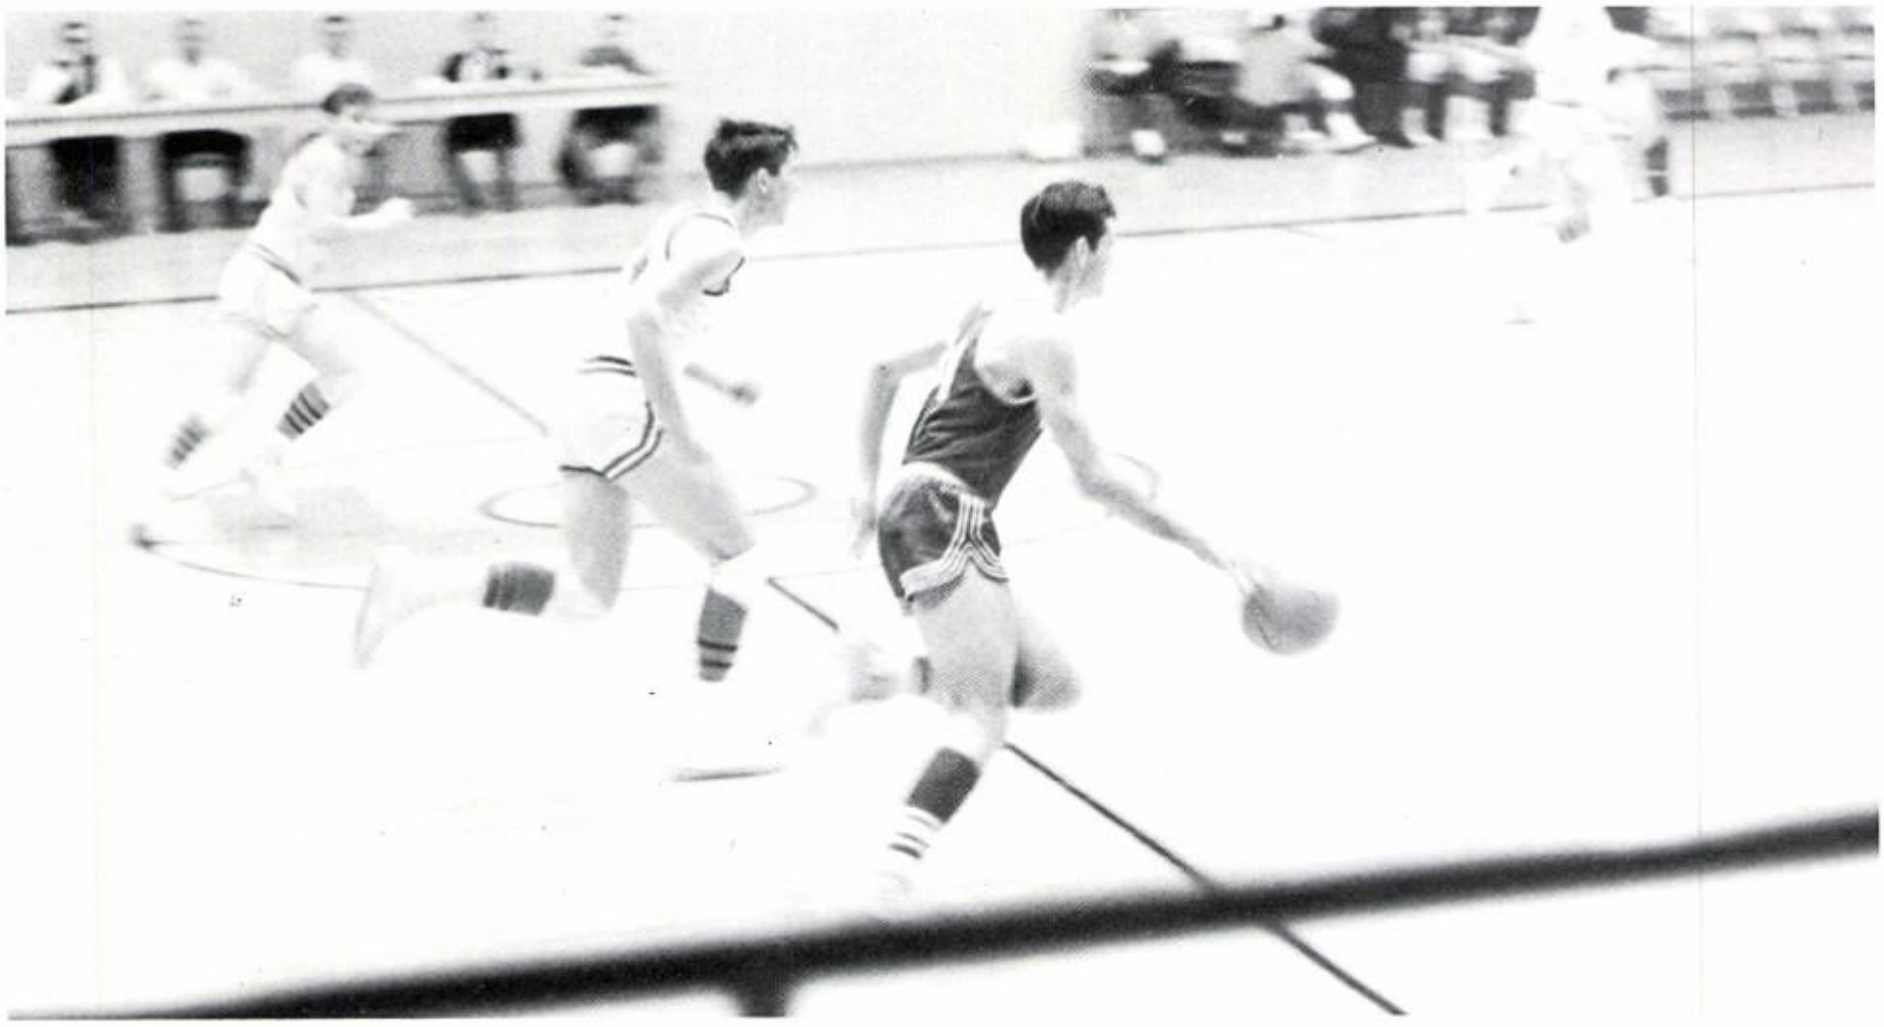
Excitement and a series of nip and tuck leads were the keynote of the Cougars second game with their chief rival, the Samuell Spartans. The score was tied until the last second of the game when Bobby Thompson of the Spartans scored the winning two points for Samuell. Jim Walter turned in a creditable performance in guarding Thompson in the 43-45 defeat.

In another close game, 54-52, the Cougars defeated Spruce for the second time and scored their seventh victory of the season.

A successful surge of victory-minded play brought the Cougars a decisive 69-55 victory in their second game with the Madison Trojans. Eric Groscurth scored twenty-three of these points as the team's upward surge continued.

Cougar team warms-up before play-off game with Samuell.

Paul Gray rushes downcourt with opponents in close pursuit.



COUGARS FORCE ZONE PLAY-OFF

Jackie Harris, 21, spots teammate and readies pass in Samuell play-off.

Boosting the season's record to a 9-1 victory tally by an important 83-53 win over Woodrow Wilson, the Cougars finished the season in a deadlock with Samuell for the championship of the East Zone. Jackie Harris was high point man against the Wildcats with twenty-two points.

Zone co-champions BA and Samuell finished season play with identical records. Each team had one victory over the other and was forced to a Zone Playoff.

Cougar effort showed in B.A.'s leading score for the first three quarters of the play-off game. Harris and Gromatzsky turned in outstanding performances for the Cougars as did the whole team. However, the Spartans gained a five point lead early in the fourth quarter and maintained it to score a 54-49 victory over the Cougars.

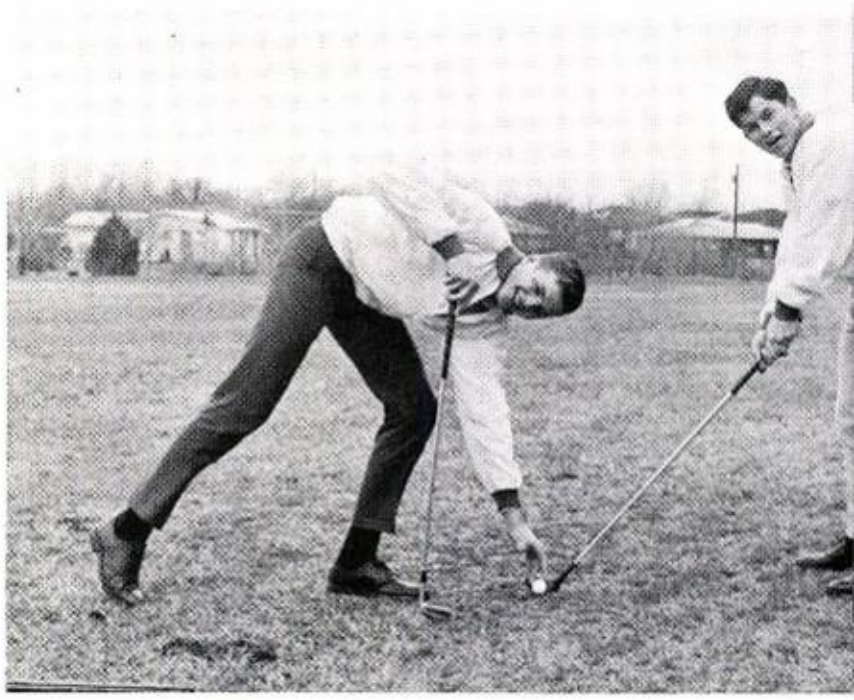
GOLF TEAM WINS STATE

Due to annual deadlines the el Conquistador is forced to submit data from last year's standings. Under the leadership of Coach Hill, the golf team was successful in winning state.

The team this year placed seventh in the San Antonio tournament. Captain Jeff Neito and John Gee are the leading scorers. The team practices every afternoon to enrich their skill and coordination with hopes of winning city and possibly a place in the state rank.

That's right, put the ball on the tee. (Ken Smith, John Gee



The idea is to watch the ball! (John Young, Bill Morrow)

Glen Martin practices his stance.

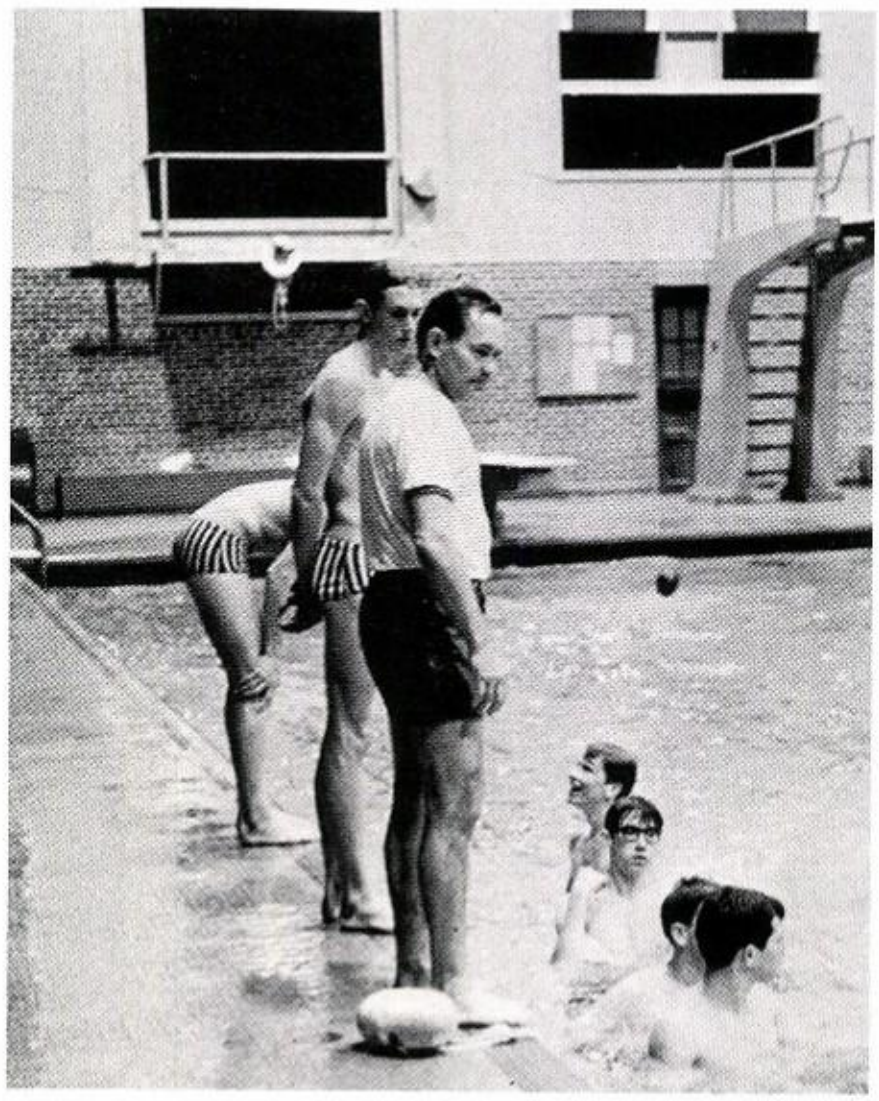
Is Tom confused or cold? (Tom Cox, Pat Casey)

SWIM TEAM TAKES TOP HONORS

This season the Bryan Adams Swim Team took top honors in several meets. B. A. ranked first in a triangular meet with Woodrow and Samuell, and first in dual meets with Woodrow, Samuell, Thomas Jefferson, and St. Marks. B. A. ranked 12th out of 27 teams in the Dolphin Relays at Texas Tech, 17th out of 32 teams at Southern Methodist University, and 19th out of 40 teams in an Austin tournament.

One of the team members, Scott Riedell, is one of the ten best back-stroke swimmers in the state of Texas this year. He has been clocked at 59.7 for 100-yards.

The team works under the able direction of Coach Herb Aduddell. This year the team has no chosen captain but functions under Manager Tommy Shelton. Practice is held at Southern Methodist University each Tuesday through Thursday nights from nine to ten o'clock.



Coach Herb Aduddell looks on the team in silent meditation.

LEFT TO RIGHT: FIRST ROW: Steve Perry, Steve Tommey, Tommy Aduddell, Jeff Weaver, Tommy Shelton – Mgr., Mike Thomas. SECOND ROW: Allen Riedel, Ronald White, Alfred Zimmern, Coach Herb Aduddell, Bobby Stevens, Robert Murray, Richard Gladstone. THIRD ROW: Scott Riedel, Alfred Crump, Bert Bartram, Tommy (Flash) Redwine, Doug Sharp, Gary Isacksen. BACK ROW: Joe Stevens, James Bowden, Kerry Zubras, Mark Potter, Kelly McCullar, Robert Burnett.

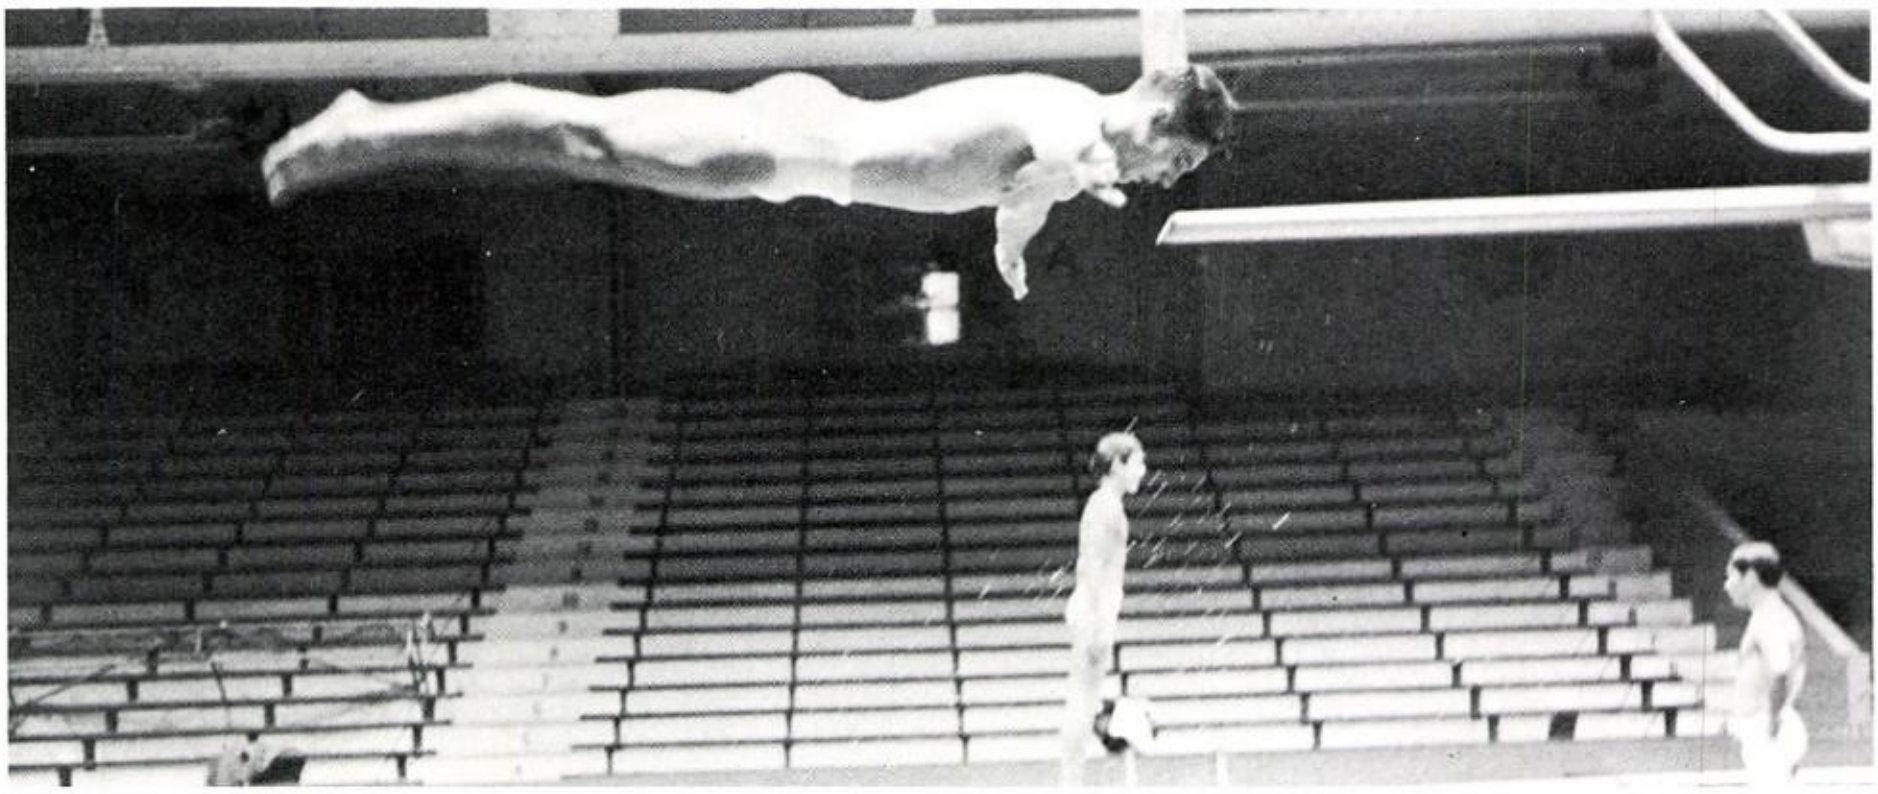
Swim team clowns around as Coach Aduddell thinks, "They're gonna get theirs!!!!!"

Has anybody found those trunks yet? (Mark Potter)



Now for my next stunt . . . (Steve Perry)

DIVERS: Steve Perry, Bobby Stevens, Tommy Aduddell, Jeff Weaver.

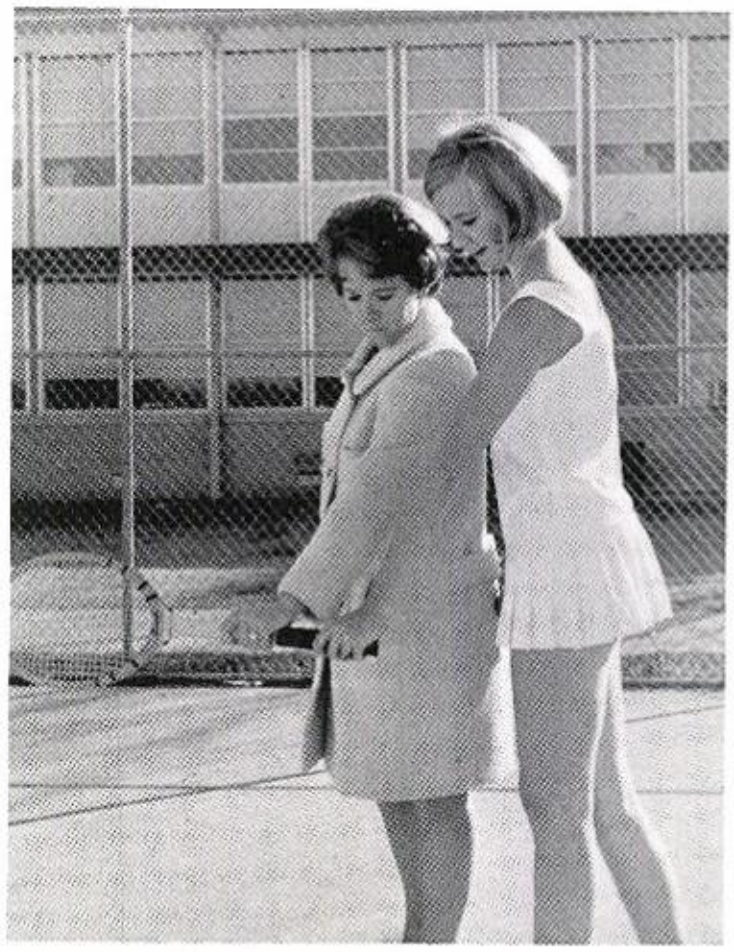
TEAM DEFENDS DISTRICT TITLE

With a display of quick thinking and fast movement, the tennis team has begun a great season with the determination to go all the way. This year the B.A. team is trying to defend their district title won last year. They started the year with a district win over Samuell by three matches to one. Then they continued for their second victory over Lincoln with the score 3-0.

The nine members of the team were selected as best among many other competitors. Their sponsor this year is Miss Trice who is an expert tennis player herself. Her vivacity and the great team effort have contributed to make this year's team one of the best at Bryan Adams.



Miss Trice lends a helping hand to Paula Orcutt.

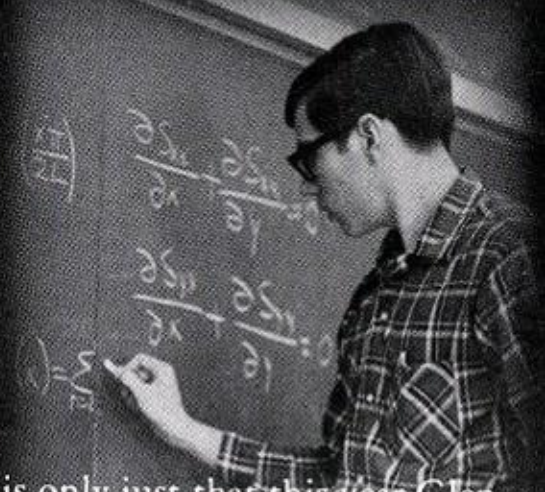
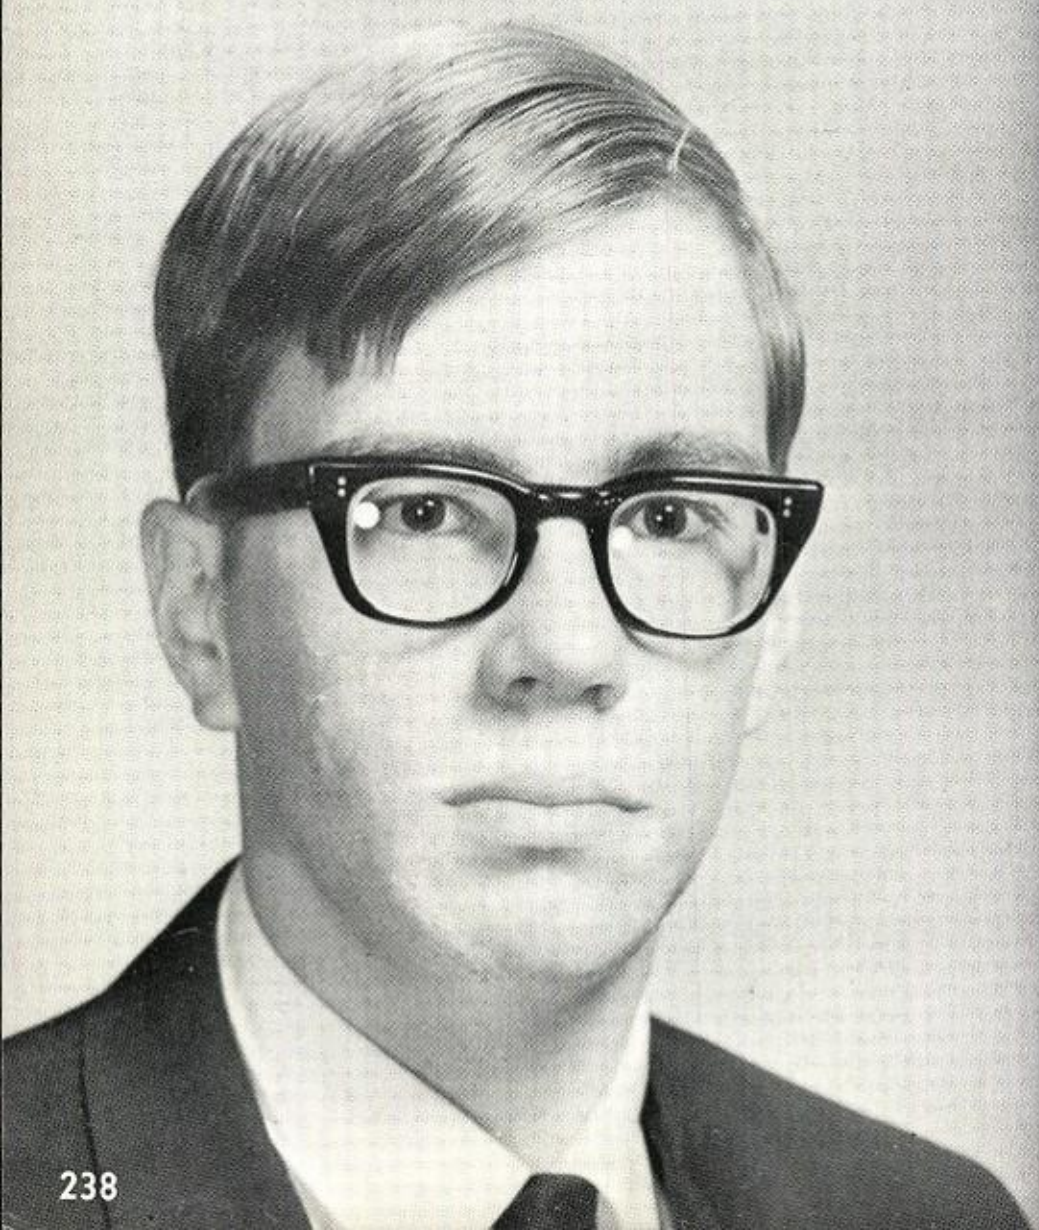
Giving unselfishly of their time and effort, many students at Bryan Adams are seldom recognized for their fine contributions to the school and community. El C Salutes has been an annual effort to recognize some of these students from the various departments.

The yearbook staff wishes to introduce a new tradition to Bryan Adams. The new Gold Cougar award has been designated to honor those students who have not only excelled in one department, but in all aspects of school life. Based on scholarship, citizenship, and contributions to the school, the Gold Cougar award will be presented annually to one to six people who have proved their deserving merit. The selection will be made from the Senior Class by a student-faculty committee.

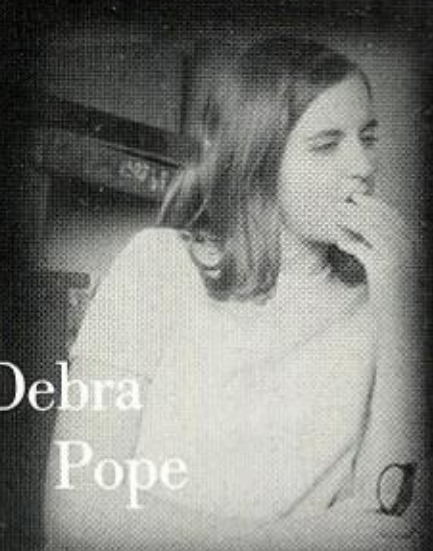
A gold cougar head on a gold disc will be presented to each winner at the yearly Scribble Day Assembly.



It is only just that this year Glen has served as president of the Math Club and vice-president of the Science Club, for in these fields his talents are extraordinary. Much of the success of the 1967 Regional Math Conference was due to his efforts. In the Hockaday Math Conference, Glen won second place for Bryan Adams. He has generously volunteered to the tutoring service. Mu Alpha Theta, an honorary math organization and the National Honor Society have chosen Glen as a member. Such gifted students are rare, and Bryan Adams is proud to have Glen Haschke as a Cougar.



Glen Haschke

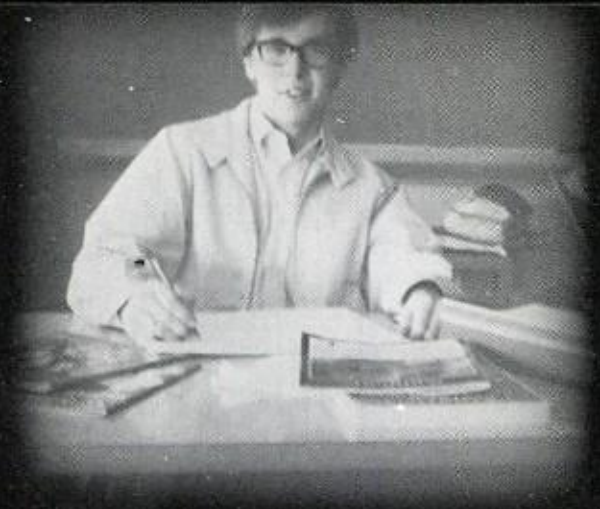


Debra Pope

Energy, originality, dependability, and humor are just a few of the elements in Debra's personality. She was 1967 treasurer and is 1968 president of the Cothurnus Club. Her dramatic talent has won her a place in Thespians, Variety Theater, Children's Theater, and the Senior Play. Quill and Scroll and Les Elites are clubs to which she belongs. Debra is in the National Honor Society and she maintains an A average. Her enthusiasm has helped her to be an efficient business manager and a clever, creative co-editor of the el Conquistador. Debra is, however, so considerate of others that she never shirks the small "behind the scene" jobs. Her many friends genuinely respect Debra Pope and her versatile contributions to Bryan Adams.

Janie Olson

Early in her sophomore year, Janie's talent for drama was recognized. She was accepted in the Cothurnus Club where she has served as 1967 Historian and 1968 Treasurer. For three years she has been in Variety Theater with an entertaining role as a senior. Each summer she has been to a Speech and Drama Workshop. Janie is also on the Senior Play Committee. She is president of the German Club and for her third year is participating in the American Field Service. She has been an office assistance for two years and worked in the IBM room for two years. With all of her extracurricular activities, Janie's name is listed on the Honor Roll for three years, and she is a member of the National Honor Society.



Phil has completely fulfilled his duties as President of the N.F.L. this year, a job which entailed many hours of work. Through his originality, he contributed many new ideas to the Student Council as chairman of the Program Committee. Phil was responsible for the tapes prepared for Brotherhood Week. The tapes were not only lively but generated serious thoughts about the more significant aspects of this annual event. In addition to this, Phil avidly participated in Les Elites and the World Affairs Club. He maintained an exceptional grade average. He also participates in the National Honor Society. His services have contributed much to Bryan Adams.

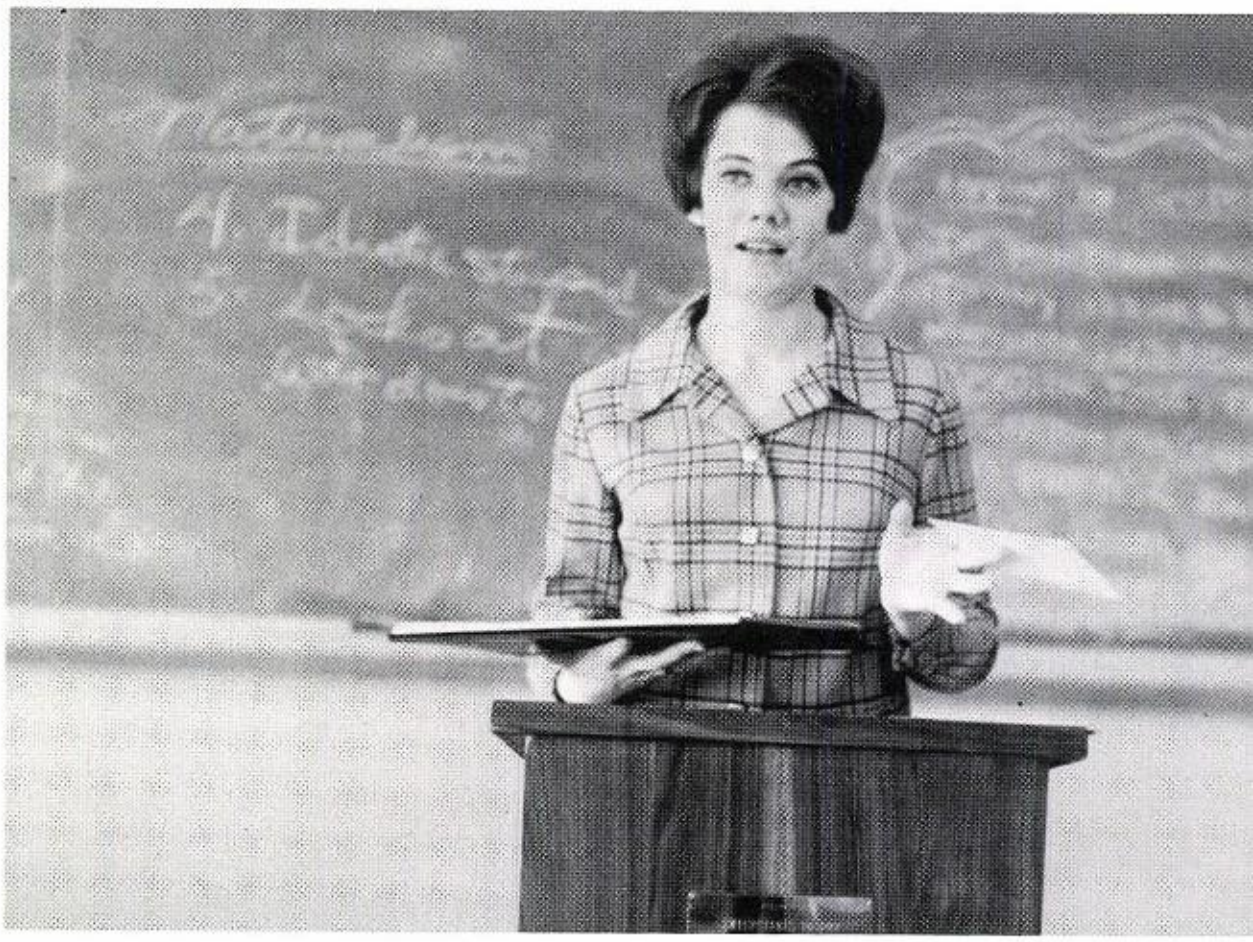
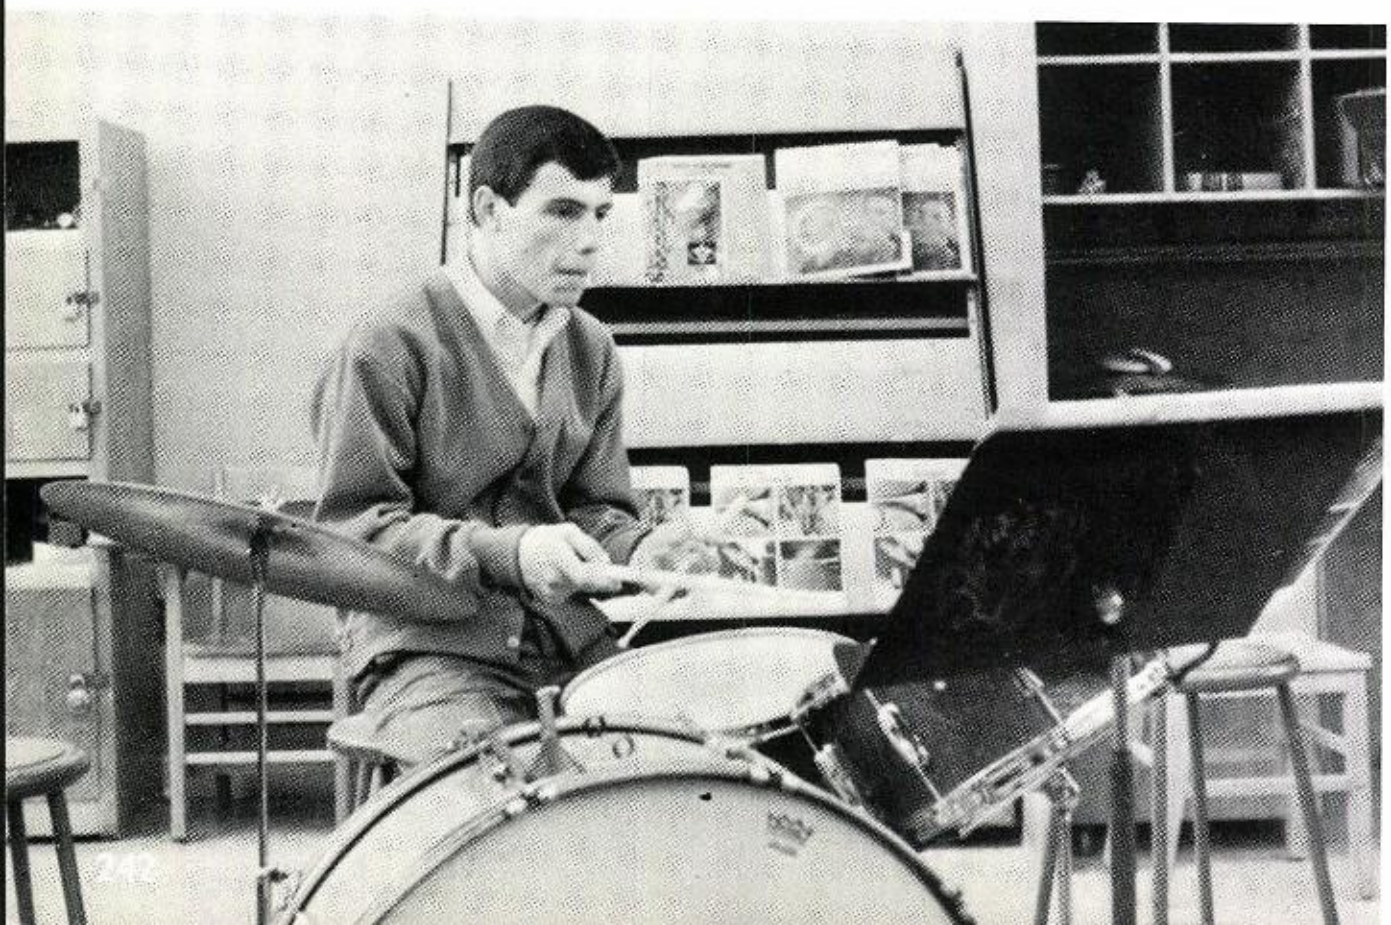
EL "C" SALUTES

Each year el Conquistador Salutes recognizes a few students who have made special contributions to Bryan Adams. Faculty members select nominees who excel in their areas of interest and who match ability with a willingness to serve. These students did not hesitate to accept responsibilities in our school nor did they hesitate from giving their best.

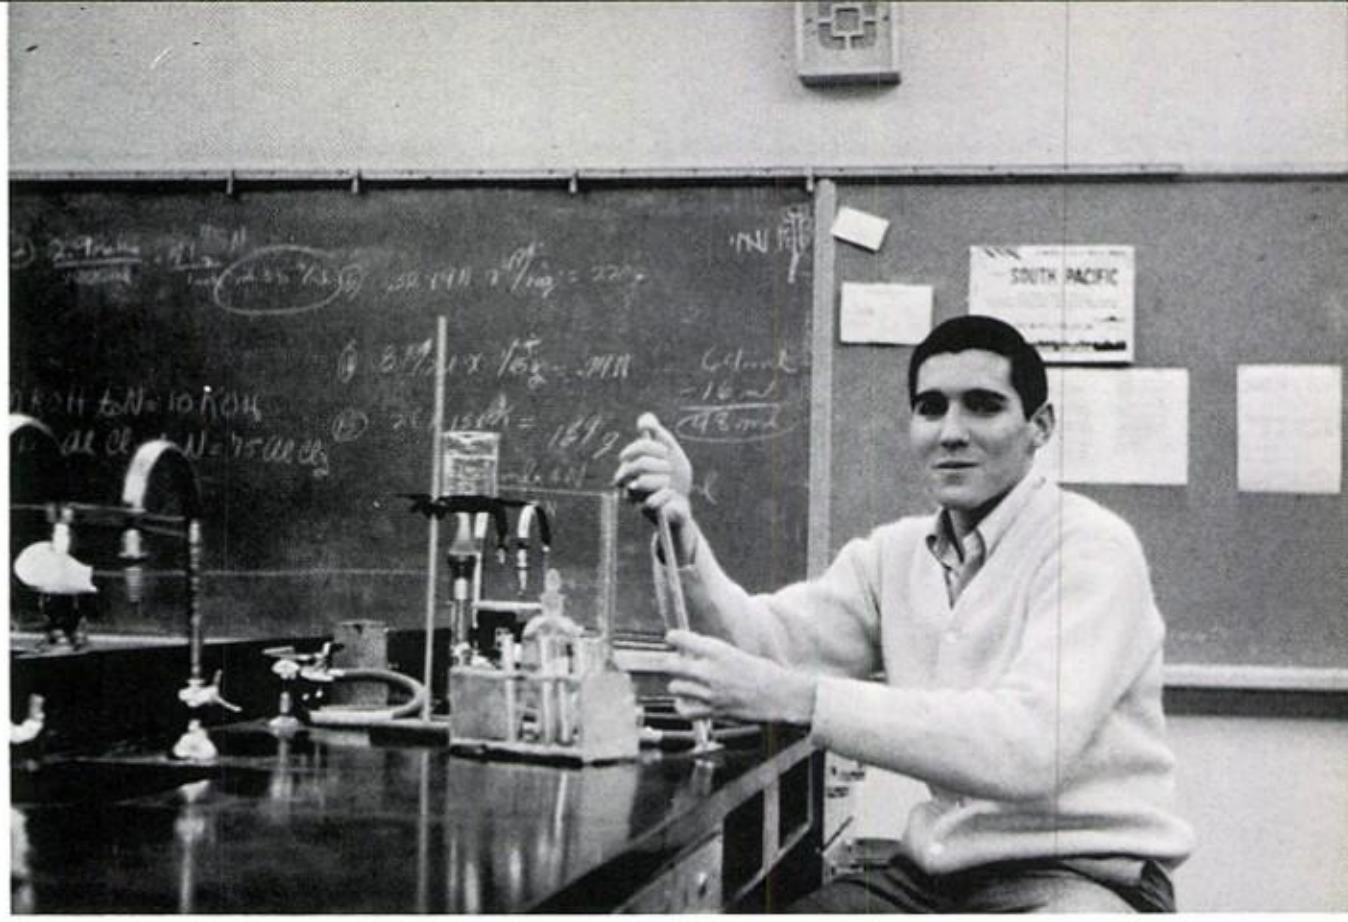


MYRA BENNER: Myra has distinguished herself as an accomplished speaker and debater for Bryan Adams. She is an efficient, conscientious corresponding secretary of the National Forensic League. Myra is active in Junior Achievement, President of Future Teachers, and a member of the National Speakers Corps. Her sincere manner and her poise have been evident in her appearance on Teen Panel on television.



DAVID HORNACK: The many talents of Davi enabled him to serve Bryan Adams in many capaci the area of drama David is in the Cothurnus Cl Senior Play and Children's Theater, and for two y has performed in Variety Theater. He has been in t cussion section of the orchestra for three years a member of Los Primos Ensemble. He is Vice-Presi the National Honor Society, a speaker in the Natio rensic League, and a member of the Cap and Gov Invitational Committees. This versatile student h run the mile for the Varsity Track Team.

TEVE BROOKS: Outstanding ability in both math and cience have teamed with hard work to win for Steve nany honors. This year the Science Club and the Nation-l Honor Society have chosen him as president. Serving lso as clarinetist in the marching band, treasurer of the nath club, Student Council representative, lab assistant, nd member of a National Math Honor Society, Mu Alpha Theta, Steve maintained an A average and won a National Merit Letter.



CINDY COOK: Cindy's creative interests flow into many areas of art-sculpture, jewelry, drawing, painting, printmaking, and botique. Cindy has shared this talent by serving in the Art-in-Action Club for three years at Bryan Adams. Her stage sets have added to the enjoyment for many play productions, and her senior exhibits were admired by many of her fellow students.

BILL MAY: As efficient and courteous commander of Company C and captain of the drill team, Bill has won the respect of his classmates. His ROTC honors include the PMS award, Commandant's award, Outstanding N.C.O., Academic wreath, and Athletics Award. Bill has been a member of the Creative Writing Club and the German Club and has maintained a B Honor Roll standing. Recently, he has received an appointment for the Air Force Academy.

ARLA CUMMINGS: Arla has been the backbone of t typing service in the Principal's office this year. Alwa cooporative and efficient, she often volunteered as mu as two hours a day. Arla enjoys her activities in A.F.S., F ture Homemakers, and Future Teachers. el Conquistad joins in expressing the gratitude of the school for su unselfish service and salutes Arla Cummings.

WAYNE CRAWLEY: Many students at Bryan Adams have enjoyed photographs from the camera of Wayne Crawley. In spite of part-time employment, this Chronicle photographer has planned ahead and met deadlines even when it meant working late at night. As assistant editor, Wayne is a strong contributor to the Sr. Pub. He is regularly on the "A" honor roll, and was chosen as a member of Quill and Scroll his junior year. For his dependablility, diligence and ability, the el Conquistador is happy to recognize Wayne Crawley.

CARISSE MICKEY: Completing five years of Latin wit an A average is quite an accomplishment. Carisse has don this and is Secretary of the Texas Junior Classical Leagu
She won a scholarship and attended the National Lati
Camp at the University of Kansas. Her many talents a made evident by her performances in the Concert Cho and Marching Band, and her membership in the Scienc Club. Carisse is a member of the National Honor Societ and is a National Merit Semi-Finalist. el Conquistado proudly salutes this superior student Carisse Mickey.

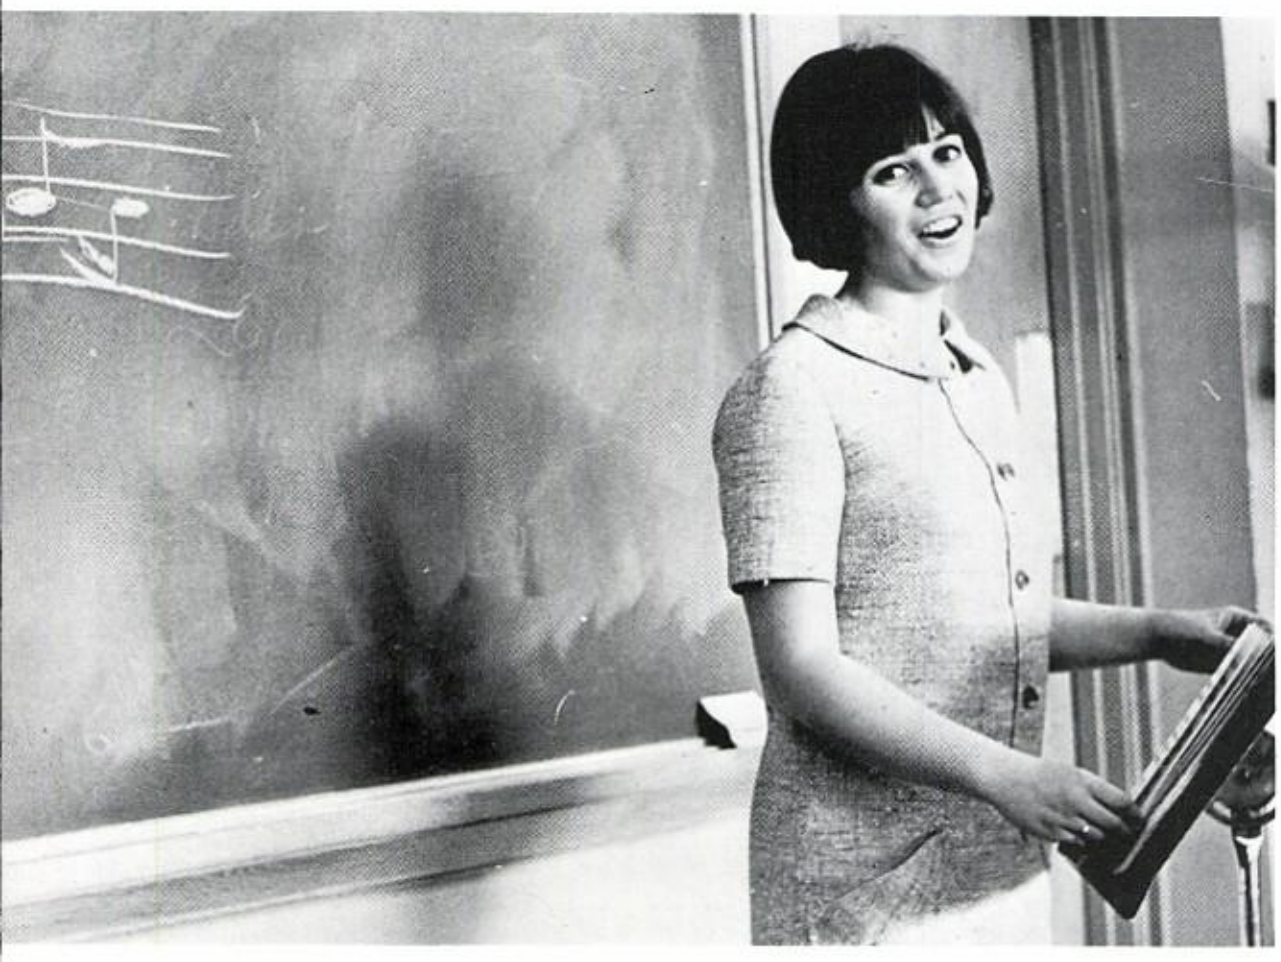
YNN GREEN: The very special sets for the 1968 Senior Play are examples of Lynn's tireless efforts. She applies herself with equal dedication in the Concert Choir, in her library work, and in the Art in Action Club. She is regularly on the Honor Roll and is a member of the National Honor Society. When a junior, Lynn was in the cast of Annie Get Your Gun. The el Conquistador is happy to recognize a student of Lynn Green's caliber.



CHERYL ROACH: Determination and a desire to learn helped to send Cheryl to Germany in 1967. This year she is president of the American Field Service. In addition, she has been an active member of the Youth for Christ, Future Homemaker, Les Elites, German Club, Red Cross, and the Folk Music Club. Cheryl has sung in the Concert Choir and she has performed in the Musicals "Brigadoon" and "Oklahoma".

PAM WALKER: The need for a literary society at Bryan Adams has been filled largely due to Pam's efforts. Many hours of investigation and deliberation were necessary in the development of this organization. Pam's extraordinary talent for composition has won for her the Daughter of American Revolution contest and scholarship to Austin College. Pam is a member of the National Honor Society. Her contribution to Bryan Adams will long be remembered, and the el Conquistador gladly salutes Pam Walker.

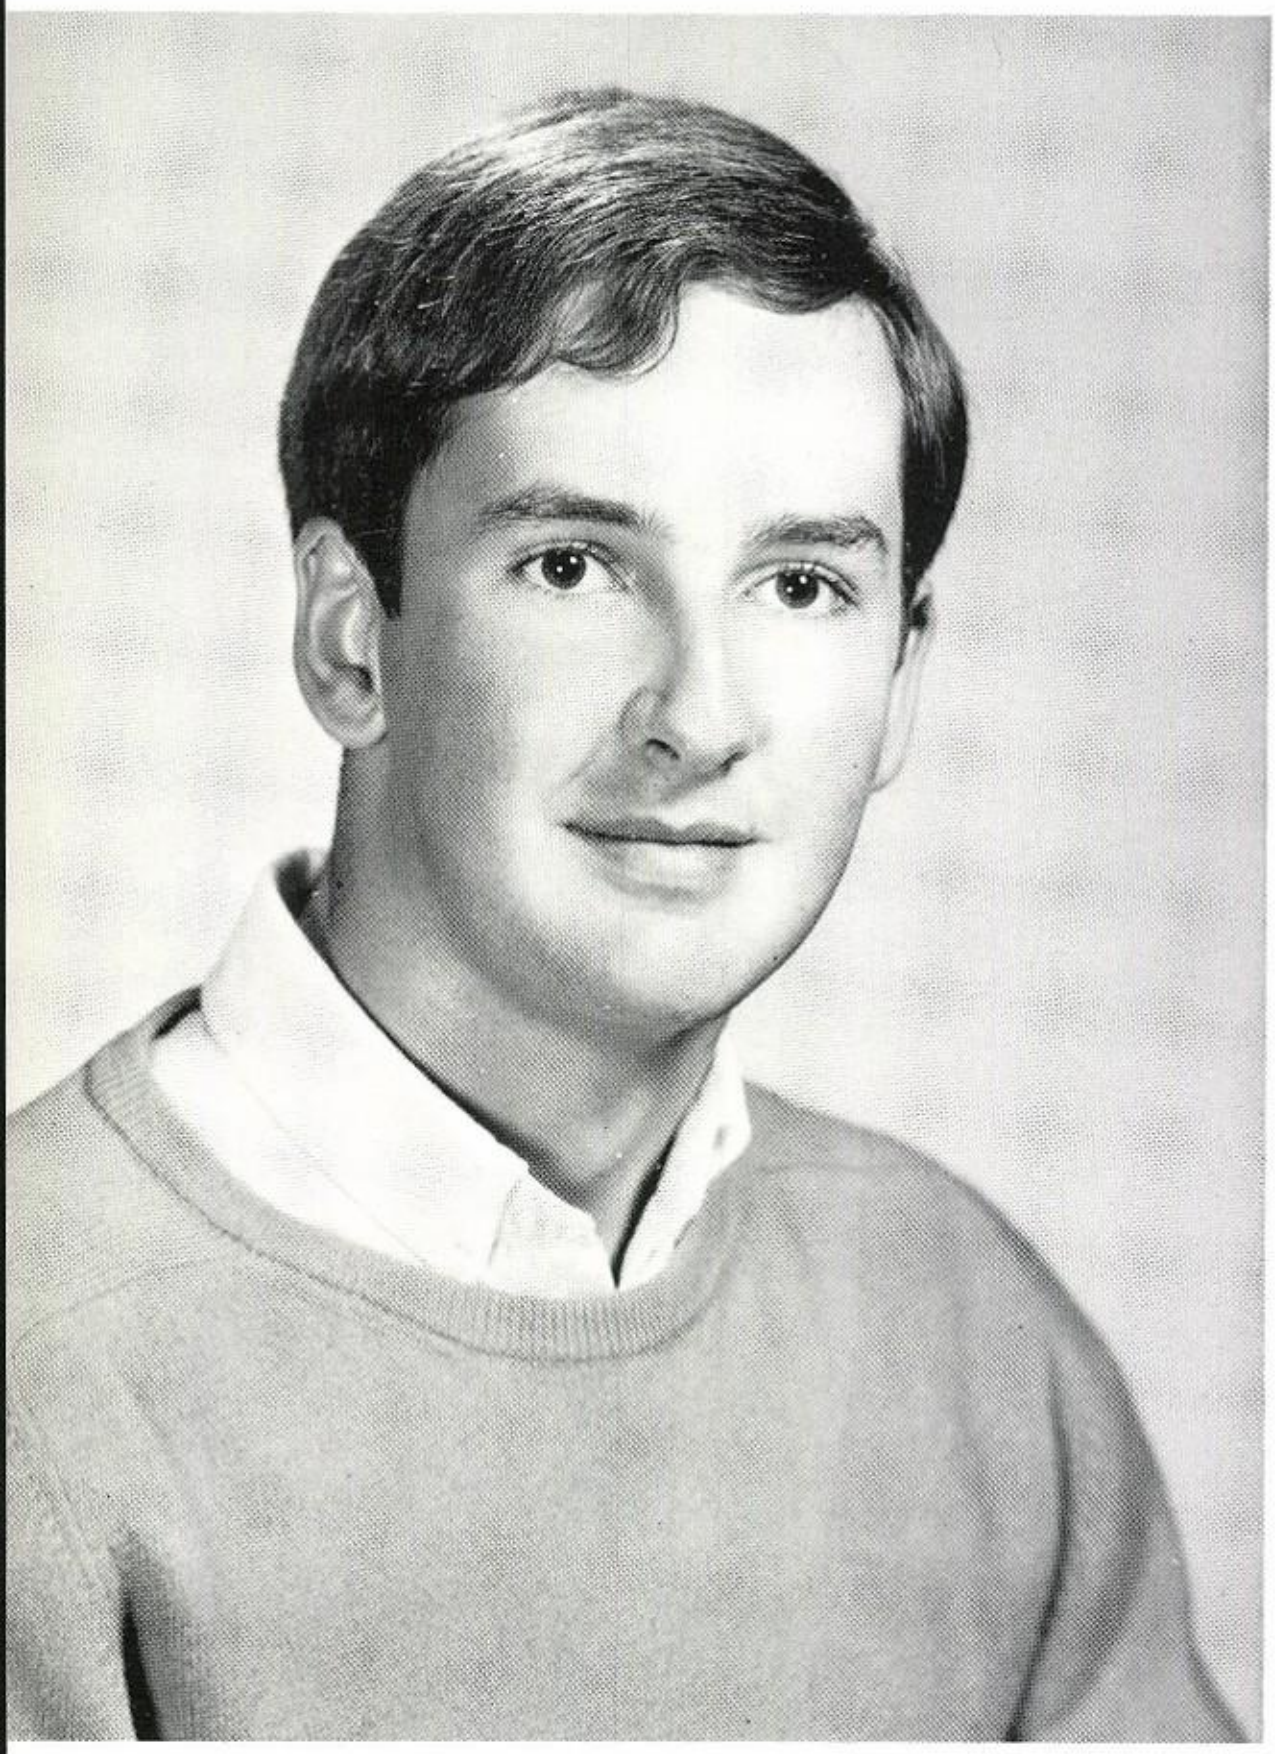
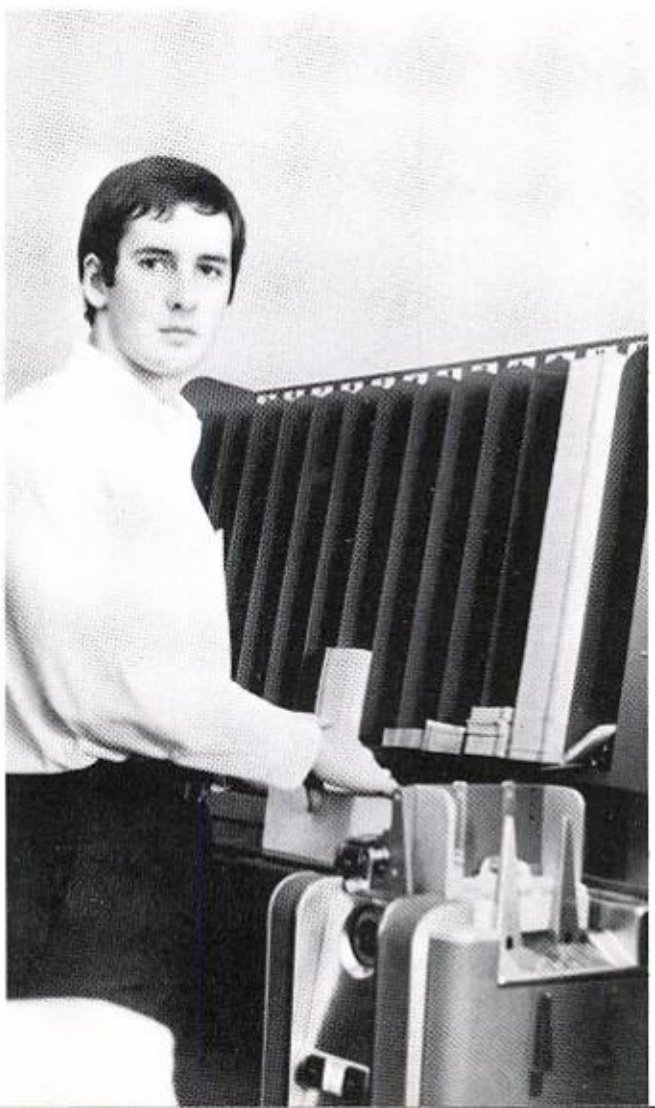
EXCHANGE STUDENT



Renzo
Arnold



Whether organizing the Yoga Club or working out on the swim team, Renzo Arnold, this year's exchange student from Switzerland soon became involved with life at Bryan Adams. Renzo loves to ice skate and became an active member of the Ice Skating Club. He also participated in the German Club, Les Elites, and Youth for Christ. He maintained good grades while at Bryan Adams and speaks five languages fluently. When asked what he thought about Bryan Adams, Renzo replied, "It's like one big family!"

PROMOTE GOODWILL

Petite Cris Burckhardt is our dark-eyed exchange student from Columbia. From the beginning, her attitude has been "Go Cougars, go, go, go!" Looking like a doll in her uniform, this honorary member of the Belles became an enthusiastic Bryan Adams fan. Cris also enjoys her duties in the I.B.M. room, Cothurnus Club, her Latin American History class, and playing basketball. Her many friends and she agree that the A.F.S. program is "wonderful!"

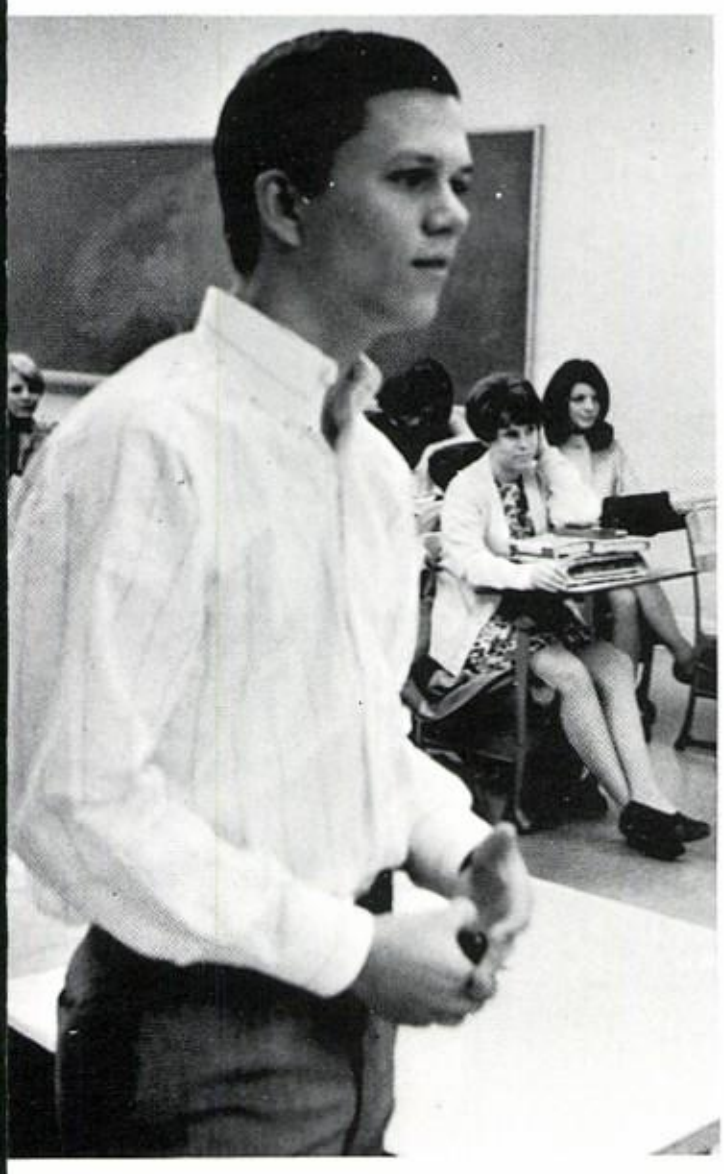
OFFICERS BRING CLASS OF '68' SUCCESS

Seniors of 1968 brought honor and praise to a memorable year. The thrill of the second football bi-district title, the increasing number of scholarships and awards, the exciting race in all sports for titles, and the growing recognition of BA organizations made an indelible impression on all concerned with the school. Leading the Seniors through a memorable year were President David Pratt, Vice-President Thurman Moss, Secretary Carla Burch, Treasurer Johnny Gardner, and Sponsor Mrs. Liz Cohen.



Student Council President, Kenny Plunk, talks to the council.

RECORD CROWD VIEWS SENIOR PERFORMANCE

To the call of a fife and drum, Rally Round the Flag, Boys! beckoned all to this year's Senior Play. Under the direction of Mrs. Francys Walls and her student assistants, Tom Ellis, Ken Thornberg, and Linda Ashmore, the Seniors of '68 gave a professional and a most enjoyable performance. Songs of the 1950's as performed by the Countdowns characterized the play. Singers, dancers, and a special guest appearance by Hal Martin, a local disc-jockey, also contributed to the spirit of the play. The highlight of the evening was an unusual dance by "Little Egypt," otherwise known as "little" Kenny Higginbotham.

COWBOYS, INDIANS GO TO TWIRP, TEXAS

Cowboys and Indians shot it out at this year's Twirp Dance held on March 22. Girls corralled their dates as was required by the initials The Woman Is Required To Pay. The dance, sponsored by the annual staff, was the most successful dance of the year. A contest was held to determine the most original girl's costume and boy's costume. Winner of the girls' division was Carla Burch; Robert Hamic and Johnny Shelton tied for the boys'. The prize for the winners were free 1968 annuals. A shoot-em-out was held to decide who would get to announce the new personalities for the year.

The National Honor Society Banquet was highlighted by an amusing skit presented by the Junior members on May 8 at Vick's Restaurant in Northlake. Buddy Jones and Joe Gibbons conducted an imitation induction for the members tapped from the audience. Humorous speeches about modesty, concern, ability, and desire were given by members representing the National Honkers Society. President, Steve Brooks announced officers for the 1968-69 Honor Society. They are: Kelly McCullar, President; Dana Martin, Vice-President; Janet Ranicky, Secretary; Kay Harris, Treasurer.

OLD STAFFS HONOR NEW

Bonanza Steak House was the scene of the Quill and Scroll Banquet honoring outstanding members of the annual, newspaper, and Senior publications staffs. Members must be at least of Junior classification and maintain a "C" average.

Katy Weilder, President, led old officers including Lauren Potts, Connie Tharp, Kenny Plunk, and Wayne Crowley in the candlelight initiation ceremony. Presented as new officers were Danny Dantzler, President, and Linda McDonald, Linda Reece, Kelly McCullar. Special awards were presented to six Seniors.

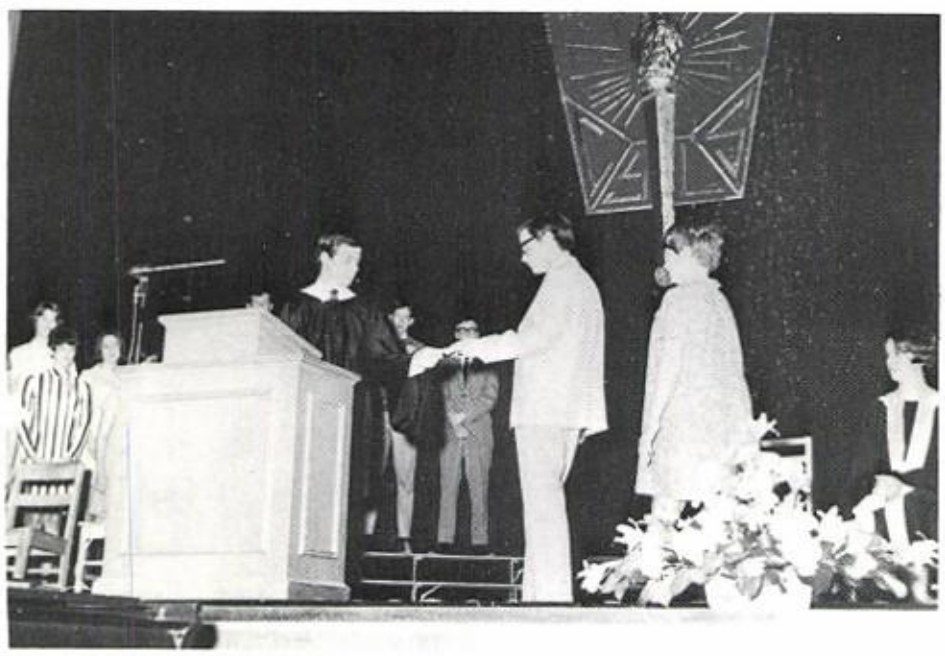
ASSEMBLIES GIVE FUTURE LEADERS

Spring at Bryan Adams was full of assemblies. Sixteen cheerleader finalists led cheers for the entire student body in competition for the eight treasured positions. The 1968 cheerleaders gave a "typical yell" which was enjoyed by all. Nominees for Student Council officers were also introduced in this assembly.

Four Senior members of the National Honor Society gave well-written speeches to begin their annual assembly. New members were tapped from the audience and came on the stage to be recognized and congratulated.

New members were congratulated by President Steve Brooks and Vice-President David Hornack.



1968 Honor Society members were tapped from the audience by former members.

HAPPY TOTS SEE DRAGON

Fairy tales fascinate all ages and everyone became a child again when the "Pale Pink Dragon" was presented by the Cothurnus Club for its 1968 Children's Theater production. On April 8, the tale of a princess, a dragon, and the complication of a wicked stepmother and her daughter was presented by Bryan Adams' thespians. Talou Lord, in the role of the princess, was hounded by Linda Ribble as the evil stepsister. Male leads were played by Doug Sharp and Greg Grove. Colorful costumes and fantasy-land scenery added to the delight of the audience. The play, directed by Mrs. Francys Walls, showcased the creativity and talent which accounts for the consistent popularity of Cothurnus Club productions.

ANNUAL GAME PREVIEWS 1968

Candidates for the Bryan Adams '68 varsity were divided into two teams to play the annual Green and White Game at Forester Field on May 10th. The Greenies were led to victory by outstanding plays by quarterback Randy Cavender. Dennis Gardner and Craig Johnson made key plays for the Whities. The new drill team and new cheerleaders supported the Whities. The Senior cheerleaders led the yells for the Greenies and the Senior Belles performed for the last time.

SENIORS SWING TO LOPEZ BAND

New formals, fancy hair-dos, and tuxedos set the scene for the 1968 Senior Prom at the Sheraton-Dallas, May 18th. Highlight of the evening was the presentation of the school leaders in the Grand March. Refreshments and music by Jesse Lopez and his band were enjoyed by the active crowd and chaperoning parents and teachers.

SENIOR LAUGH-IN SOCKS IT TO 'EM

For their last day at Bryan Adams High School, Seniors dressed up in their best to attend the traditional Senior Assembly. Soon-to-graduate Seniors were entertained by the talents and antics of their fellow classmates. Following the entertainment was the announcement of honor graduates by principal, Dr. R. B. Harris. Anita Boone was named valedictorian and Karen Erxleben was salutatorian. The Senior mother, Mrs. Donald G. Dossett was then introduced to the assembly and presented with a bouquet of roses. The 1968 Senior Assembly ended with the singing of the Bryan Adams Alma Mater for the last time by teary-eyed Seniors.

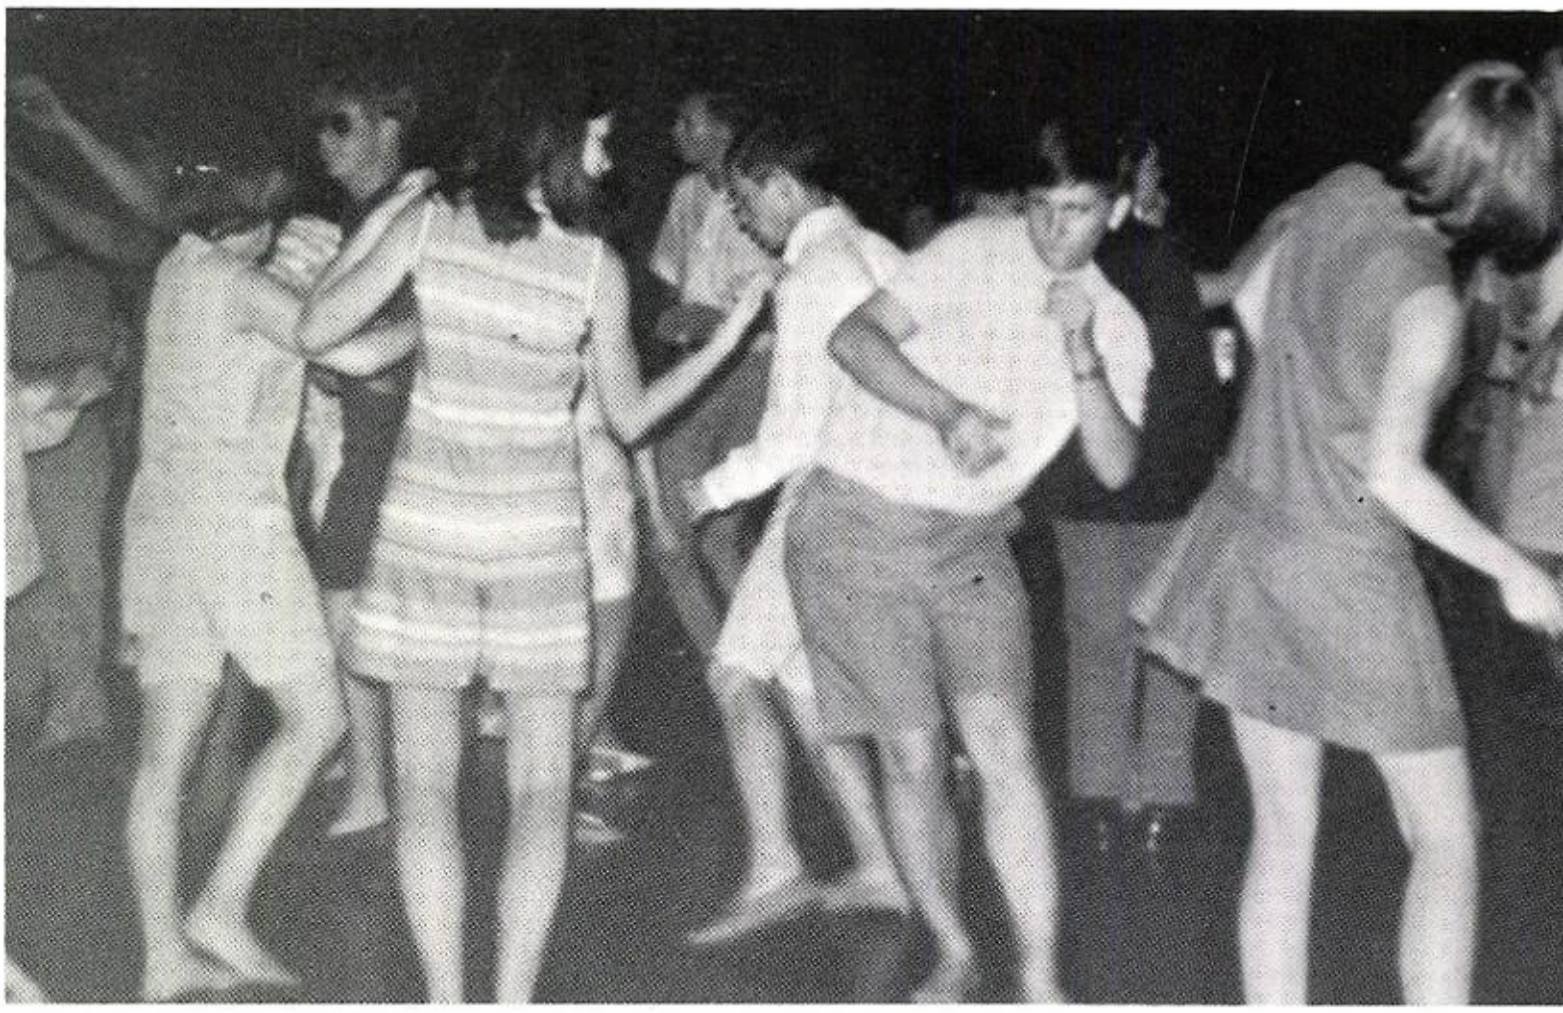
Mrs. Dossett, the 1968 Senior mother, is presented with flowers.



Whizzing arrows, rumbling bowling balls, and dancing feet produced the pulsating vibrations of the 1968 Senior All Night Party. The midnight-to-dawn party celebrated the Friday, May 31st graduation of the Senior Class. At the Bronco Bowl, archery, bowling, and dancing were the planned activities. Since the occasion was also the last official activity for the graduating class, most Seniors and their dates spent much of the evening reminiscing over past school fun and exchanging plans for the future. As the party ended with an early morning breakfast, Seniors went home to sleep and recuperate in dreams of the glories of "Seniors '68!"

SENIORS GATHER FINAL MEMORIES

A seventh banner, the green and white Cougar flag, joined the others at Six Flags Over Texas at 10:00 a.m. on May 30th. Graduating Cougars took Six Flags by storm for their 1968 Senior Picnic. Seniors sped down the Log Ride to a sudden fifty foot drop; roller-coasted down the Runaway Mine Train; ascended heavenward on the Sky Hook; and whirled around the curves of El Sombero amid terrified shrieks and laughter. The Senior Picnic produced suntans and burns in various degrees, and uninhibited Seniors enjoyed a chance to forget their dignity. At 6:00 p.m., a barbecue dinner was served in the park's picnic area and Seniors headed home with the realization that Graduation Day was only six hours away.

LONG RANGE GOAL FINALLY REACHED

Close to 1000 '68 Bryan Adams graduating seniors traded twelve long years of hard work for a diploma Friday, May 31 at seven o'clock. Beginning with Anita Boone (valedictorian) and Karen Erxleben (salutatorian), the graduates filed on and off stage for two hours until the last name, Karen Sue Ziegler, was called. Mrs. Henri Bromberg presented the diplomas. The school song was sung by the students in their last moments as seniors and Dr. R. B. Harris pronounced graduation.

A nervous hand of a senior grasps a goal which will long be remembered.

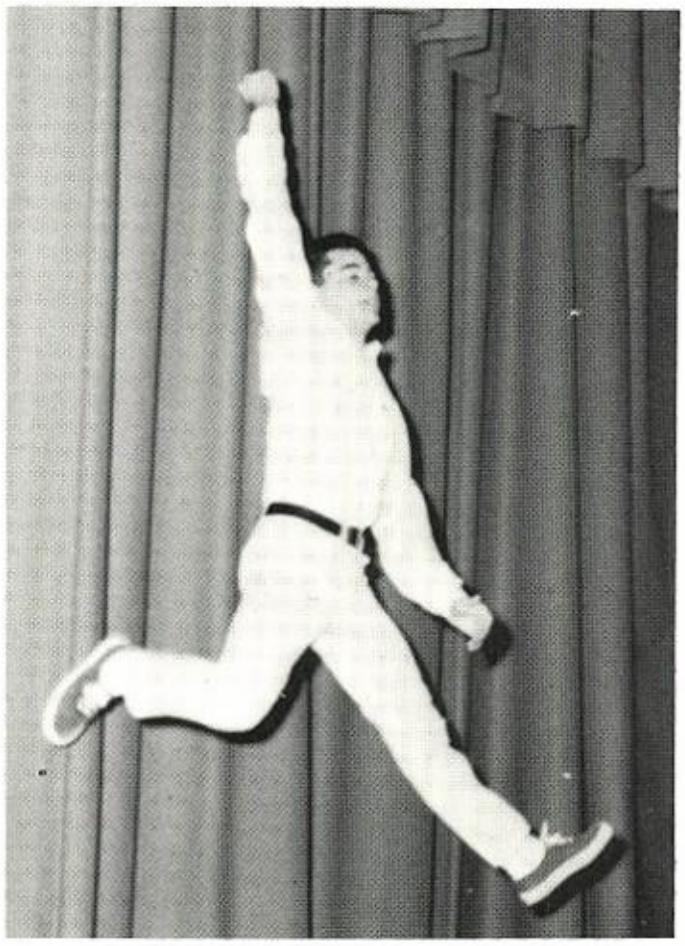
COUGARS KEEP BUSY

Students at Bryan Adams are kept busy throughout the spring season. Such activities as assemblies, football, banquets, and exams for the Sophomores and Juniors play a part in a Cougar's life.



ANNUAL APOLOGIZES

The annual wishes to apologize for the following omissions and mistakes in the class section. Seniors omitted were Carol Abston, Charles Conner, Debbie Spray, and Kay Tolbert. Junior Robert Wittkower was not presented, also.

The 1968 annual also contained a mistake in the Personality section. Bennett Wade was elected a Personality by the sophomore class, and Ben Dooley was selected as a Personality Nominee.
